In February of this year it was announced that after 66 years of ownership by the Mara family, a 50% interest in the club had been sold to Preston Robert Tisch by Tim Mara, acting for himself, his mother, Helen, and sister Moira.

A native of New York City and a lifelong Giants' fan, Preston Robert "Bob" Tisch is President, Co-Chief Executive Officer and a Director of the Loews Corporation, one of the country's largest and most successful financial companies. He also served as Postmaster General of the United States from 1986-1988.

While retaining his part of the family's 50% ownership, Giants' President Wellington T. Mara continues in his role as team President, while also assuming the additional title of Co-Chief Executive Officer. Bob Tisch will be Chairman and Co-Chief Executive Officer of the Giants, and John K. Mara, the eldest son of Wellington, joins the organization as Executive Vice President and General Counsel.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES

1927 GIANTS 13, Chicago Bears 7

Led by Steve Owen, the Giants finished with an 11-1-1 record, then stunned Red Grange, John Driscoll and the Bears 13-7 at the Polo Grounds. "It was the toughest, roughest football game I ever played in" Owen was later to say. With the score tied 7-7, the Bears drove to the Giants' one-yard line, but Owen and Cal Hubbard spearheaded a goal line defense which held the Windy City crew. Hinkey Haines then faked a punt from his own end zone and completed a pass to Charlie Corgan for a 58-yard gain which set up the winning score and elation for Tim Mara.

1933 Chicago Bears 23, GIANTS 21

Jack Manders opened the scoring for the Bears at Wrigley Field, Chicago before 26,000 with a 16-yard field goal in the first period to touch off 60 minutes of fireworks which kept fans standing on their chairs through most of the game. Manders kicked a 28-yard FG for a 6-0 lead in the second period before Harry Newman hit Red Badgro for a touchdown pass and a 7-6 Giant lead at the half. Manders' third FG regained the lead for the Bears, but Max Krause's TD and the conversion by Ken Strong put NY back in front 14-9. A pass from Bronko Nagurski to Bill Karr made it 16-14, Chicago, before Strong lateraled to Newman who then threw a TD pass back to Strong for a 21-16 Giant lead late in the game. The Bears bounced back to win, however, when Nagurski's jump pass to Bill Hewitt was lateraled to Karr for the game-winning touchdown.

1934 GIANTS 30, Chicago Bears 13

With the temperature at nine degrees and the Polo Grounds covered with a sheet of ice, this one became famous as the "sneakers" game when Steve Owen provided his squad with basketball shoes to open the second half with his club trailing 10-3. The Giants responded with four touchdowns which had a crowd of 35,059 roaring approval. The Bears had a string of 33 games without defeat going into this one, but fell behind 3-0 on a 38-yard FG by Ken Strong. A TD by Nagurski and a field goal by Manders got the Bears in front 10-3 at the half, when Owen sent for the sneakers to take advantage of the slippery footing. Ahead 13-2 on another Manders' FG, the Bears were swamped in a fourth-period Giant uprising which saw Ed Danowski throw a 28-yard TD pass to Ike Frankian and Ken Strong race 42 yards for another TD just moments later for a 17-13 lead. Danowski and Strong raced for subsequent touchdowns against the stunned Bears to turn the game into a rout.

1935 Detroit Lions 26, GIANTS 7

With a crowd of about 15,000 looking on, the Lions took a 13-0 lead in the first period when Leroy "Ace" Gutowsky plunged over from the 2-yard line and Earl "Dutch" Clark shook loose on a 40-yard touchdown romp. The Giants closed the gap at 13-7 in the third period when Danowski connected with Strong for a 42-yard touchdown pass, but the Lions' defense accounted for two more scores in the final period on a blocked punt and intercepted pass. Ernie Caddel scored the first on a 4-yard slant and Buddy Parker the second on a 9-yard run.

1938 GIANTS 23, Green Bay Packers 17

A slam-bang, bruising thriller was staged for the largest crowd (48,120 at the Polo Grounds) to see a championship game up to that time. With the victory, the Giants became the first team to win the championship twice since the divisional splitup. The Giants blocked two punts early in the game, and capitalized on both with Ward Cuff kicking a 13-yard FG and Tuffy Leemans blasting over on a 6-yard plunge. Arnie Herber's 50-yard TD pass to Carl Mulleneaux got the Packers on the scoreboard, but Danowski hit Hap Barnard for a 20-yard TD pass and a 16-7 lead. The Packers closed to 16-14 at halftime on Clark Hinkle's 6-yard TD, then took the lead 17-16 on Engebretsen's third-period FG. New York then stormed back to the Packer 23 from where Danowski passed to Hank Soar for the game-winning TD.

1939 Green Bay Packers 27, GIANTS 0

The Packers came up with sweet revenge in a grudge match played before 32,279 at Milwaukee's State Fair Grounds. Cold weather and a 35-MPH wind made aerial sorties a bit dubious, but Green Bay scored quickly on a 7-yard pitch from Herber to Milt Gantenbein. Engebretsen kicked a 29-yard FG in the third period for a 10-0 lead, and the Packers wrapped it up with touchdowns by Joe Laws on a 20-yard pass from Cecil Isbell, a one-yard plunge by Jankowski and Ernie Smith's 42-yard field goal.

1941 Chicago Bears 37, GIANTS 9

Attendance was only 13,341 at Wrigley Field, just two weeks after Pearl Harbor Day. The Giants led 6-3 in the first period on a Tuffy Leemans to George Franck touchdown pass of 31 yards, but the Bears went on a pair of field goals, then broke the game wide open in the second half on touchdowns by Norm Standlee (2), George McAfee and Ken Kavanaugh.

1944 Green Bay 14, GIANTS 7

The Packers took a 14-0 lead at halftime before 46,016 at the Polo Grounds on touchdowns by Ted Fritsch—the first on a 2-yard plunge and the second on a 26-yard pass from Irv Comp with Don Hutson adding the conversions. Ward Cuff scored on a 1-yard plunge on the first play of the final period for the Giants, but the Packers hung on for the triumph.

1946 Chicago Bears 24, GIANTS 14

Sid Luckman was the big man for the Bears in this win before 58,346 at the Polo Grounds. He passed for a 21-yard TD to Ken Kavanaugh to open the scoring, then ran 19 yards for a score later in the game. Dante Magnani's 19-yard pass interception accounted for the third Bear score, while the Giants hit the scoring column on touchdown passes from Frank Filchock to Frank Liebel and Steve Filipowicz.

1956 GIANTS 47, Chicago Bears 7

Fullback Mel Triplett smashed 17 yards for a TD early in the game on an icy field before a big crowd, then Ben Agajanian added a brace of field goals for a 13-0 lead. It was 34-7 at halftime as Alex Webster crashed over for a pair of touchdowns from inside the 5-yard line. Charlie Conerly's aerials brought nothing but more woe to the Bears in the second half, with Kyle Rote snaring a 9-yard TD throw and Frank Gifford a 14-yarder to close out the scoring.

1958 Baltimore Colts 23, GIANTS 17

Some people call this the greatest game ever played, and perhaps it was for drama and its sudden-death ending. With a crowd of 64,185 on hand at Yankee Stadium, the Giants led 3-0 on a 36-yard Pat Summerall FG in the first period, with the Colts taking over 14-3 at halftime on scores by Alan Ameche from the 2-yard line and Ray Berry on a 15-yard pitch from Johnny Unitas. The Giants scored in the third period on a 1-yard plunge by Mel Triplett after an 86-yard gainer from Conerly to Rote with Webster picking up Rote's fumble. The Giants went in front 17-14 on Conerly's 15-yard TD throw to Gifford, but the Colts tied it with seven seconds to play on Steve Myrah's 13-yard FG and won in the overtime on Ameche's 1-yard plunge, the 13th play of a Colt drive.

1959 Baltimore Colts 31, GIANTS 10

A sellout crowd of 57,577 was on hand at Baltimore's Municipal Stadium for the big rematch of the divisional champions. The home crowd had plenty to cheer about in the early going as Unitas hit Lenny Moore for a 60-yard TD bomb, but the Giants surged back to stop the Colt offense. With Summerall kicking three field goals (23, 26 and 23 yards), the Giants led 9-7 going into the final period. But the Colts stormed back with a furious final period onslaught as Unitas scored on a 4-yard run, threw a 12-yard TD pass to Richardson and Johnny Sample returned an interception for another score.

1961 Green Bay Packers 37, GIANTS 0

With a crowd of 39,029 looking on in Green Bay, Paul Hornung paced the Packers to a stunning 37-0 triumph by scoring 19 points on a touchdown, three field goals and four conversions. On leave from his Army duties in Fort Riley, Kan., Hornung scored on a 6-yard slant in the second period to break a scoreless deadlock and set off a Packer splurge which accounted for 24 points in that quarter. The Giants were unable to recover from this onslaught and suffered their first shutout in nine seasons. Bart Starr's touchdown pass to Ron Kramer and a pair of Hornung field goals closed out the scoring in the second half.

1962 Green Bay Packers 16, GIANTS 7

Bitter cold weather at Yankee Stadium was no deterrent to 64,892 fans who turned out for the year's big one. As things turned out, a trio of field goals by Packer guard Jerry Kramer made the difference in a game where both defensive units turned in superlative jobs. The only Giant score was a result of defensive work when Erich Barnes blocked a Max McGee punt and reserve end Jim Collier fell on the ball in the end zone.

1963 Chicago Bears 14, GIANTS 10

The Bear defense turned the tide in this championship game, played in 10 degree weather in Wrigley Field. Taking the early lead on a 14-yard Y.A. Tittle TD pass to Frank Gifford and Don Chandler's FG, the Giants were the victims of five pass interceptions thereafter, two of which set up the Bear scores. Larry Morris swiped the first one for a return of 61 yards, while Ed O'Bradovich's steal of a screen pass set up what turned out to be the winning score. Tittle suffered a knee injury in the first half, but gallantly returned to action in the second half, though he was hampered and hobbled by his injury.

1986 GIANTS 39, Denver Broncos 20

Led by the brilliant record-setting passing of Phil Simms, the Giants won their first Super Bowl with a 30-point second-half onslaught before 101,063 spectators at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena. Simms pitched 22-for-25 for 268 yards and three TDs, setting an alltime NFL playoff mark of 88.0% completion and winning the MVP honors in the game. Down 10-9 at halftime, the Giants rang up 24 unanswered points to take a commanding 33-10 lead in the fourth period with Simms' TD passes going to TEs Zeke Mowatt and Mark Bavaro and to WR Phil McConkey. Linebacker Carl Banks was a star on defense with 10 solo tackles as the Giants concluded their greatest season ever with a 17-2 record.

1990 GIANTS 20, Buffalo Bills 19

The Giants won their second Super Bowl championship before 73,813 at Tampa Stadium by battling back from a 12-3 deficit in what many considered to be the best of all Super Bowls. Ahead 20-19 in the final moments of play, the Giants prevailed when Buffalo kicker Scott Norwood missed a 47-yard FG attempt on the final play of the game. QB Jeff Hostetler, replacing the injured Phil Simms during the playoffs, hit 20-for-32 for 222 yards and one TD, while the veteran RB Ottis Anderson had 102 yards rushing and one TD and won the MVP honors. The Giants set an all time Super Bowl record for time of possession with 40:33 in their ball-control offensive game plan.

HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS

1925-29—Tim Mara purchased a National Football League franchise for New York for $500. Bob Folwell was named head coach and all-time great Jim Thorpe was signed. More than 70,000 jammed the Polo Grounds to see the Giants play Red Grange and the Chicago Bears. The Giants went 8-4 in their first season. Folwell left, and was replaced by Dr. Joe Alexander as head coach. Despite an 8-4-1 record in 1926, Mara lost $40,000. Earl Potteiger replaced Alexander in 1927, and the Giants won their first title with an 11-1-1 record. In 1929 the 13-1-1 Giants averaged 25,000 fans and turned a small profit.

1930—Ownership of the club was turned over to Jack and Wellington Mara, the two sons of the founder.

1931—Center Mel Hein was signed. Steve Owen was named head coach.

1932—Ray Flaherty became the NFL's first official pass reception champion with 21 catches.

1933—The Giants easily won the Eastern Division of the newly-divided NFL. In the league's first championship game, the Giants lost to the Bears 23-21.

1934—In what has come to be known as the "Sneakers Game," the Giants defeated the Bears 30-13 for the NFL title. Some of the New York players wore basketball shoes to increase traction on the icy Polo Grounds turf.

1935—The Giants advanced to their third straight NFL championship game, but lost to Detroit 26-7.

1938—A 23-17 victory over Green Bay produced the Giants' third NFL title.

1939—Green Bay avenged the 1938 loss with a 27-0 drubbing of the Giants in the NFL title game.

1941—In the wake of Peal Harbor, only 13,341 spectators turned out to see Chicago top the Giants in the NFL title game.

1944—Luring Arnie Herber and Ken Strong out of retirement, the Giants scored five shutouts en route to the Eastern title, but lost the NFL championship game to Green Bay 14-7.

1946—Frankie Filchock, an understudy to Sammy Baugh at Washington, signed with the Giants for a reported $35,000, but was suspended indefinitely along with teammate Merle Hapes for alleged gambling involvement.

1951—Kyle Rote of Southern Methodist was the Giants' bonus pick in the draft, but was injured in the preseason and saw little action. Eddie Price led the NFL in rushing with 971 yards.

1952—Tailback Frank Gifford of USC was drafted number one. Playing in his fifth year, Emlen Tunnell gained more yardage on kick returns and interceptions (924) than the league's leading rusher, Dan Towler (894) of Los Angeles.

1953—Owens retired at the end of the season after 23 years as the Giants' head coach.

1954—Former Giants end Jim Lee Howell was promoted from end coach to head coach.

1956—Defensive end Andy Robustelli was obtained from the Rams. The Giants switched their home games from the Polo Grounds to Yankee Stadium. A 47-7 rout of the Chicago Bears produced New York's first NFL championship since 1938. Linebacker Sam Huff was rookie of the year.

1958—Advancing to the NFL championship game with a playoff win over Cleveland, the Giants lost to Baltimore 23-17 in sudden death overtime.

1959—Baltimore exploded for 24 points in the fourth quarter to defeat New York in the NFL title game for the second straight year.

1961—Allie Sherman replaced the retired Howell as head coach. The Giants obtained Y.A. Tittle and Del Shofner in trades. Alex Webster gained 928 yards to help New York to the NFL title game. With the league championship on the line, the Giants were no match for Green Bay, losing 37-0.

1962—Tittle, Shofner, Webster and Gifford led the Giants into the NFL title game against the Packers. Green Bay prevailed to 16-7.

1963—Tittle threw 36 touchdown passes and kicker Don Chandler led the league in scoring as the Giants romped to their third straight conference title. With Tittle injured in the second quarter, New York lost yet another bid for the league championship, 14-10 to Chicago's Bears.

1967—Quarterback Fran Tarkenton was obtained from Minnesota.

1969—The Giants lost 37-14 to the New York Jets in a preseason contest. Webster replaced Sherman as head coach.

1970—Ron Johnson became the Giants' first 1,000-yard rusher, totaling 1,027 yards.

1972—Tarkenton was traded back to Minnesota. Norm Snead, obtained in the Tarkenton trade, led the league in passing and the Giants finished above .500 for only the second time in nine years.

1973—Prior to the final game of the season, Webster announced his retirement. New York lost the game 31-7 to Minnesota to close out the year at 2-11-1. They played their late-season home games at Yale Bowl.

1974—Bill Arnsparger was named the Giants' ninth head coach. Snead was traded to San Francisco. Craig Morton was obtained from Dallas.

1976—Larry Csonka, the former Miami running back who had played in the World Football League, signed as a free agent. Snead was reacquired from San Francisco. The Giants moved to Giants Stadium in East Rutherford, New Jersey. Arnsparger was fired in midseason and replaced by assistant coach John McVay, who signed a long-term contract following the 3-11 season.

1977—Morton was traded to Denver. The Giants improved to a 5-9 record. McVay went with Joe Pisarcik and Jerry Golsteyn at quarterback. Csonka rushed for 100 yards on the last day of the season and finished the year with 464 yards.

1978—The Giants had a 5-3 record at the halfway point of the season but lost seven of their final eight games and finished 6-10. Punter Dave Jennings and linebackers

Harry Carson and Brad Van Pelt was named to the NFC Pro Bowl team. McVay was fired in late December. Robustelli, who had been the Giants' director of operations since 1974, resigned. George Young was named general manager in January, 1979. He announced the appointment of San Diego Chargers assistant Ray Perkins as head coach.

1979—Before the season began, tragedy struck as defensive tackle Troy Archer was killed in a traffic accident on June 22. Rookie Phil Simms, a first round choice, took over at quarterback. But the Giants had another 6-10 record. Dave Jennings led the NFC with a 42.7-yard punting average.

1980—A porous defense allowed opponents to score 425 points, second worst in the NFL. The Giants fell to 4-12. They did upset Dallas 38-35 after eight straight defeats. Jennings led NFL punters with a 44.8-yard average.

1981—With the second selection in the draft, New York chose Lawrence Taylor, a linebacker from North Carolina. The Giants started slowly, going 2-3, but then obtained running back Rob Carpenter from Houston. Carpenter sparked a three-game winning streak. A three-game losing streak dropped the club to 5-6, and then Simms was injured. Second-year quarterback Scott Brunner replaced Simms and the team responded with four victories in the final five weeks, including a 13-10 victory over Dallas in the season finale that sent them into the playoffs. On December 27, the Giants defeated the Eagles 27-21 in the NFC wild card game. The season ended for New York on January 3 when it was defeated by the 49ers 38-24 in a divisional playoff game.

1982—A wild, wooly and turbulent year which saw the NFL players' strike shorten the season to just nine games. The final game played before the strike pitted the Giants and Packers on a Monday night game from Giants Stadium in which a power failure caused a blackout during the game. Rob Carpenter was a holdout for most of the season, returning to play in just the final five games, and then on December 15, head coach Ray Perkins resigned to accept the head coaching job at Alabama, with defensive coordinator Bill Parcells being named to replace him in 1983. The Giants then lost two straight after the Perkins' announcement, and missed the playoffs on the final day of the season with a 4-5 record. Despite the adversity, four Giants—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and Dave Jennings—were named to the Pro Bowl.

1983—After breaking even in their first four games for a 2-2 record, the Giants were decimated by injuries during the rest of the year, with a total of 25 players appearing on the injured reserve list at one time or another. With players such as Harry Carson, Phil Simms and Rob Carpenter missing most of the season, and with the club leading the entire NFL in turnovers with 58 on 31 interceptions and 27 lost fumbles, the record tumbled to 3-12-1. The year was also marred by the tragic deaths of assistant coach Bob Ledbetter and former star running back Doug Kotar. Four players were nonetheless named to the Pro Bowl again—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and rookie place-kicker Ali Haji-Sheikh who set an alltime NFL record with 35 field goals during the year.

1984—With Phil Simms enjoying his first full season at quarterback, the Giants won the NFC wild card playoff spot again, finishing with a 9-7 mark and second-place in the NFC East as Simms set three alltime single season club records with 286 completions in 533 attempts for 4,044 yards. The Giants knocked off the Los Angeles Rams 16-13 in that wild card game, then bowed to the eventual Super Bowl champion San

San Francisco 49ers 21-10 in the divisional playoff. Taylor, Carson and Haynes were again named to the Pro Bowl, while head coach Bill Parcells was named NFC East Coach of the Year and five rookies—Karl Nelson, Gary Reasons, Carl Banks, Perry Williams and Bobby Johnson—were named to the All-NFL Rookie team.

1985—With a final 10-6 mark, the Giants put back-to-back winning seasons on the board for the first time in 22 years, won another trip to the playoffs and had their first home playoff game since 1962, winning 17-3 over the defending Super Bowl champion 49ers. Again, the club lost in the Divisional playoffs to the eventual Super Bowl champion team, the Chicago Bears, by a 21-0 score, the toughest outing the Bears encountered in the entire playoffs. Five players—Taylor, Carson, Phil Simms, Joe Morris and Leonard Marshall—were named to the Pro Bowl. All told, there were 12 team records set by this club, and 16 individual club records. Morris set an alltime one season rushing mark with 1,336 yards plus an alltime mark for TDs in a season with 21 while Simms broke alltime club records with 40 completions in a game for 513 yards passing. Marshall added another club mark with 15½ QB sacks in a season, while rookie TE Mark Bavaro, an All-NFL Rookie team choice set a club mark with 12 receptions in one game.

1986—The club's first Super Bowl championship, an alltime final record of 17-2, as well as a club record 12 straight victories, made this year the greatest in team history. The Giants also set an alltime composite margin of victory in the playoffs, outscoring three opponents 105-23, for an 82-point domination, the most ever in NFL playoff history. Phil Simms was the MVP of the Super Bowl victory with an NFL alltime playoff mark of 88% passing accuracy with his 22-for-25 passing in the 39-20 title conquest of the Denver Broncos. Lawrence Taylor was named the league's MVP, Joe Morris broke his own club rushing record with 1,516 yards, and eight players—Taylor, Morris, Harry Carson, Leonard Marshall, Jim Burt, Brad Benson, Mark Bavaro and Sean Landeta—were named to the Pro Bowl. Coach Bill Parcells was a unanimous NFL Coach of the Year in all the national polls, the Giants were 10-0 at home, including regular season and the two playoff games, and alltime attendance records were set for both home and away, as well as single game home attendance.

1987—Not exactly a year to remember. After winning the Super Bowl, the Giants dropped to a final 6-9 record, thanks to an 0-5 start in this players' strike season and the replacement games which followed. Add to that a rash of injuries which sidelined no less than 11 starters at one time or another, and the fifth-place finish was the result. While the Giants had a 6-4 record after the players' strike had been settled, it was a case of too little, too late. Despite the final record, four players—Lawrence Taylor, Carl Banks, Harry Carson and Mark Bavaro—were selected to the Pro Bowl and all four also were named to various All-NFL teams.

1988—The Giants bounced back from the debacle of '87 and after splitting their first six games, engineered a 7-2 run which had them all alone in first-place in the NFC East with a 10-5 mark into the final weekend of the season. Alas, an upset setback at the hands of the Jets not only knocked the Giants out of first-place, but also cost them a playoff berth as well. With that final 10-6 record, the Giants' overall mark over the five past seasons reached 54-32 for a winning percentage of .628, and those 54 victories were the most in club history for any five-year consecutive span. RB Joe Morris set an alltime club record with his third 1,000-plus rushing season and WR Lionel Manuel had his first 1,000-yard receiving year. Morris also surpassed Alex Webster as the Giants' alltime rushing leader, moving past the 5,000-yard plateau. Lawrence Taylor was named to his eighth straight Pro Bowl and All-NFL designation and safety Terry Kinard was selected for his first Pro Bowl appearance.

1989—Despite the loss of several starters due to injuries, the Giants startled the experts by winning their second NFC East championship in four years with a final 12-4 record, after most of those experts had predicted no better than a .500 season for the club. Veteran RB Ottis Anderson rushed for 1,023 yards at the age of 32 as the replacement for the injured Joe Morris and rookie Dave Meggett set alltime club marks in punt returns with 582 yards and a 12.7 average, while also accounting for 1,807 all-purpose yards during the year. Linebacker Lawrence Taylor equalled an NFL record by being named to his ninth consecutive Pro Bowl, and also ran his league record sack total to 104. Meggett also went to the Pro Bowl and scored a TD. The Giants also set an alltime season attendance mark with 596,319.

1990—The Giants began the year on a hot streak, winning their first 10 games for a solid NFC East lead, then held on to win the title with a final 13-3 record, despite losing QB Phil Simms late in the year. With Jeff Hostetler at the helm, the club surged through the playoffs to win their second Super Bowl title with a stirring 20-19 win over the Buffalo Bills. Seven Giant players were named to the Pro Bowl, including LB Lawrence Taylor for a record-setting 10th straight year. The Giants also set all-time attendance records, both for season home and one-game home marks. Veteran RB Ottis Anderson won Super Bowl MVP honors after rushing for 102 yards. At season's end, the longtime Mara family ownership ended when Tim Mara sold his 50% share of the club to Preston Robert Tisch who became Chairman and Co-Chief Executive Officer, and in May, head coach Bill Parcells resigned after a career mark of 85-52-1 and was succeeded by offensive coordinator Ray Handley.

STAFF BIOGRAPHIES

GEORGE YOUNG

Vice President, General Manager

For the third time in the past seven years, the National Football League Executive of the Year Award has been won by Giants' General Manager George Young. Presented annually by the Sporting News after a poll of NFL executives, Young was also the recipient of this prestigious award in both 1984 and 1986, and this third such award amply reflects the impact he has had on the

Giants in the past decade. Named General Manager on Valentine's Day, 1979, Young now heads into his 13th season at the helm of the football operation. Prior to his assuming the stewardship, the Giants had not been in NFL post-season play since the 1963 season, a 15-year famine at the time. Since he instituted his reconstruction policies, the Giants have now won two Super Bowl championships and have been to the NFL playoffs six times, while missing out on a seventh playoff season in the final game of the strike-shortened 1982 campaign. The Giants' back-to-back winning playoff seasons in '84 and '85 also marked the first time that the club had achieved consecutive such years in 22 seasons. In building the team, Young has placed special emphasis on the NFL Draft. From his inaugural draft in 1979 through the 1991 selection process, Young had succeeded in signing every player drafted over that span, and from those drafts, a total of 76 of those players made the club at one time or another. From that total, 30 of those drafted players remain with the team on the current roster, and 25 of those have been starters at one time or another. The list also includes Pro Bowlers Lawrence Taylor, Phil Simms, Leonard Marshall, and Mark Bavaro. Over that same span, 20 of those drafted players were named to the All-NFL Rookie team. Prior to being named by the Giants, George had spent 11 years in the NFL with the Baltimore Colts and Miami Dolphins. During this tenure with those two clubs, Young had been closely associated with Don Shula at both franchises and had served in a variety of capacities. He was initially brought into the Colts' organization in 1968 by Shula as an assistant in the Personnel Department, then two years later was named offensive line coach, with that Colts' team going all the way to the Super Bowl and scoring a 16-13 win over the Dallas Cowboys. In 1971, George was named Director of Player personnel and then in 1973 was named Offensive Coordinator of the Colts by Howard Schnellenberger. A year later, Young rejoined Shula with the Miami Dolphins and was Director of Personnel and Pro Scouting with the Dolphins when the Giants named him in 1979. George Bernard Young was born on September 22, 1930 in Baltimore, Md., and was an outstanding football player at Calvert Hall High School in Baltimore. He went on to Bucknell University where he was a starting defensive tackle for three seasons, team captain in 1951 and was named to the Little All-American first team and All-East first team in his senior year. Selected to play in the Blue-Gray game, he was then drafted by the Dallas Texans and played in professional football for one year. George then began a coaching career in the Baltimore school system at Calvert Hall and City College High School and over a 15-year span, won six Maryland state championships and had a 60-12 record during one span. Additionally, Young was an educator while coaching in Baltimore, teaching History and Political Science. During that teaching career, George also earned two Masters degrees from Johns Hopkins University and Loyola College. He was further honored in May, 1987, when he was awarded an honorary Doctorate in Humane Letters from Western Maryland College. George and his wife, Mary Love, reside in Upper Saddle River, N.J.

JOHN K. MARA

Executive Vice President, General Counsel

After more than a decade as a distinguished attorney with two prominent New York City law firms, yet counterbalanced with a lifetime devotion and active association with the family-owned Giants, John K. Mara, the eldest son of team President Wellington Mara, joined the club on a full time basis this past off-season as Executive Vice President and General Counsel. As such, he will head all administrative and financial aspects of the organization and will report directly to the Co-Chief Executive Officers, Wellington Mara and Preston Robert Tisch. To say that John is no stranger to the operation of the Giants would be an understatement. A native of New York City where he was born on December 1, 1954, he grew up in Westchester County in White Plains and then Harrison and graduated with honors from Iona Prep in New Rochelle, N.Y. Throughout his early and formative years, he was a familiar fixture at Giants' training camps, initially as a ballboy, then as an on-the-field assistant to the coaching staff as well as an assistant in the public relations and media services offices. He was also in attendance at every home and away game, and during that span also worked as a production assistant for the major television networks, CBS, NBC and ABC during telecasts of Giant games in various capacities. He continued these affiliations while attending Boston College, where he received a B.S. degree in Marketing, graduating with Cum Laude honors in 1976. John then entered the Fordham University Law School in that same year, and earned his Law Degree in 1979. That same year, he began his career as an attorney with the law firm of Vedder, Price, Kaufman, Kammholz and Day, specializing in labor and employment law and litigation, then two years later moved to the prestigious firm of Shea & Gould in Manhattan, while continuing in his chosen specialization. He continued with Shea & Gould until April of this year when he joined the Giants. Married to the former Denise Walter on July 12, 1980 in Rye, N.Y., John is the father of five children, Lauren, 10; Courtney, 8; John Jr., 7; Christine, 5; and Erin, 1. The Mara family resides in Harrison, N.Y. His favorite recreational hobbies include golf and coaching Little League baseball.

RAY HANDLEY

Head Coach

When Bill Parcells resigned as head coach of the Giants on May 15th of this year, Vice President-General Manager George Young moved quickly and within the organization to name a successor to the two-time Super Bowl champion coach. That choice was Ray Handley, a seven-year offensive assistant with the Giants who had only recently been named Offensive Coordinator. During his seven years with the club, Ray had served as running backs coach since joining the organization from Stanford University, and over that span of time was responsible for a much more productive rushing attack than had been in evidence in the preceding campaigns. The emergence of Joe Morris as a potent rusher came under Handley's stewardship, with Morris rushing for back-to-back 1,000-yard plus seasons in 1985-86 after having totaled considerably less than 1,000 yards in his previous three seasons cumulatively. Morris added a third 1,000-yard plus season in 1988, and then Handley had another 1,000-yard man when Ottis Anderson hit for 1,023 in the 1989 campaign. Much of the Giants' success in 1990 en route to the Super Bowl XXV championship was the remarkable ball-control offense and rushing attack which produced 2,049 yards rushing with 17 rushing touchdowns. And with the stress on that control offense and a paucity of turnovers, Giant running backs had only three lost fumbles for the entire season on 541 rushing attempts. That formula also worked to perfection in the playoffs as the Giants rushed 123 times against the Bears, 49ers and Bills as opposed to just 78 passing attempts, while amassing 518 rushing yards and three touchdowns, without a single turnover. Prior to joining the Giants, Handley had been the Associate Head Coach at Stanford University in 1983 at the end of his third different coaching term at his alma mater. He had initially began his coaching career there in 1967 as an assistant, and then moved on to West Point where he was director of junior varsity football in 1968-69, and for the first time worked with a young defensive assistant named Bill Parcells. Ray returned to Stanford for a second time, under John Ralston, and served as linebackers coach for the next four years, including the 1972 squad which defeated Michigan for the Rose Bowl title. He subsequently moved on to the Air Force Academy as offensive coordinator from 1975-78 and while in Colorado Springs had a reunion with Parcells who was the head coach at Air Force in 1978, and also with Al Groh, currently the Giants' defensive coordinator, who had coached at Army with both Ray and Parcells in 1968. Handley then returned to Stanford for a third time in 1979 where he served in that multitude of positions, eventually being named Associate Head Coach. Along the way at Stanford, Ray not only worked with John Ralston, eventually an NFL head coach, but with both Bill Walsh and George Siefert who were to go on and win Super Bowls with the San Francisco 49ers. Ray Handley was born on October 8, 1944 in Artesia, New Mexico, then later lived in Nevada where he was an All-State running back at Reno High School in Reno, Nev. Heavily recruited out of high school, he chose Stanford, and eventually became a top notch running back, winning All-American honors in his senior season. At the time, Handley set all time Stanford rushing marks with 1,768 yards rushing on 405 attempts for a 4.4 average and 11 touchdowns until they were surpassed by Darrin Nelson, later with the Vikings. In his senior season, Ray won both All-PAC 8 and All-American honors when he rushed for 936 yards and a 4.8 average.

He graduated from Stanford with a B.A. in History, subsequently earned a master's degree, and as late as last season, still entertained thoughts of changing careers and entering Law School. Obviously, subsequent events with the Giants changed his mind on that career move. Ray and his wife, JoAnne, have a daughter, Cami, 22, and a son, Donnie, 25, and reside in West Orange, N.J.

HARRY HULMES

Assistant General Manager

Veteran NFL executive joined the Giants in 1984 replacing Terry Bledsoe. Prior to being named by the Giants, Harry had served as Chief Operating Officer for the Arizona Wranglers of the USFL, but virtually all of his previous experience was within the NFL where he served for 12 years with the Baltimore Colts and 13 years with the New Orleans Saints in a variety of positions. Born on July 20, 1927 in Philadelphia, Harry earned a B.A. degree in journalism and psychology at the University of Pennsylvania, after spending three years in the Navy as a radarman in the South Pacific and Persian Gulf theaters. He began his career in sports with the Baltimore Orioles as assistant business manager, then was the sports information director at Bucknell University before entering the NFL as public relations director of the Colts in 1958. He subsequently served as business manager and general manager of the Colts before moving to the Saints in 1970 as assistant general manager. Until he departed for the Wranglers in 1982, Hulmes also served the Saints as Director of Player Personnel and Vice President of Administration. Also a graduate of Northeast High School in Philadelphia, Harry is married to the former Barbara Lockhart of Mount Holly, N.J. and is the father of two daughters, Linda Ann and Terry Ellen, both graduates of LSU, and a son, Richard Wayne, also a graduate of LSU.

TOM BOISTURE

Director of Player Personnel

Joined the Giants in the Spring of 1980 from the New England Patriots where he had served for 10 years as a scout, chief scout and in the personnel department. Born on March 23, 1931 in Detroit, Tom played his high school sports at Holy Redeemer H.S. in Detroit, then won three varsity letters as both an offensive and defensive lineman at Mississippi State where he earned a BS degree in Education and History. He began his teaching and coaching career at Austin Catholic H.S. in Detroit where he was head football coach, then continued as a head coach at St. Ambrose H.S. in Detroit. He moved into the collegiate ranks at the University of Houston as an assistant coach for offensive backs, then moved on to Holy Cross College in 1966 as Defensive Coordinator. He was named Head Coach at Holy Cross in 1967 and upset Yale in his first game as a head coach—the only defeat Yale was to suffer in three years. In 1969, Tom moved on to Tulsa University as Defensive Coordinator, and in 1970 moved into the NFL with New England as a scout. Married to the former Dolores Ann Kenney of Detroit. Tom now resides in Little Ferry, N.J. and has five children — daughters Susan Ann, Deborah Lynn and Nancy Ann, and sons David and Michael.

JERRY SHAY

Director of College Scouting

Former Giants' tackle Shay was named Chief Scout in 1977 and as such had much to do with the past drafts. Jerry joined the Giants' scouting department in 1972 and served as the club's scout in the Western States area, including all of the West Coast as well as in the areas of Wyoming, Montana and the Dakotas. Born in Gary, Ind., the 45-year-old Shay, was an All-American star at Purdue University and was the No. 1 draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings in 1966. He was a starting DT for the Vikes for two years, then was traded to the Atlanta Falcons in 1968 where he again starred for two seasons before coming to the Giants in a trade in 1970. Jerry was a key performer that season as the Giants finished 9-5 and missed the playoffs by one game. A year later, he suffered a broken leg and retired after the 1971 season after appearing in only six games, and became a scout the following season. Born on July 10, 1944 (family name Dzedzeji), Jerry is married to the former Cynthia Zajkowski, has three daughters, Tiffany Lee; Shannon Marie; and Jeri Lynn, and resides in San Diego, Calif.

TIM ROONEY

Director of Pro Personnel

Rooney, a member of the highly respected Rooney family from Pittsburgh, joined the Giants in February of 1985 after spending the prior six seasons as the Player Personnel Director for the Detroit Lions. Prior to his tenure with Detroit, the 47-year-old Rooney held the same position with the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1972-1979 during the Steelers' ascendancy to Super Bowl champion status. Born in Pittsburgh, Tim earned a degree from Duquesne University, then began a coaching career at Canevin H.S. in Pittsburgh. Four years later, he became an assistant coach at Villanova, moved on to Rhode Island University, and then back to Villanova as an assistant coach and recruiting director before joining the Steelers. A nephew of Art Rooney, the founder of the Steelers, Tim and his wife, Mary Ann, are the parents of a son, Michael 16, and daughter, Sarah 14.

RAYMOND WALSH, JR.

Research and Development

Ray has been with the Giants since 1973, initially as an Administrative Assistant, and more recently in scouting and player and personnel evaluation. Born in New York City on February 11, 1942, Ray, who is also known by his nickname "Whitey," is a 1959 graduate of Archbishop Stepinac H.S. in White Plains, where he grew up, and later earned a degree in Inter-

American Relations at Fordham University in 1963. After a tour of duty in the U.S. Army, he joined United Airlines in 1965 in the Passenger Service department, and remained with United until April of 1973 when he joined the Giants. In his earlier days as a youngster, Ray worked at Giants' pre-season training camps in the 1956-63 era. Married to the former Judith Carey, Ray is the father of a son, David 17, a daughter, Susan 15, and young Timothy, 3, and resides in Ramsey, N.J. Aside from football, Ray is an avid British History buff, particularly the medieval period, as well as a devotee of Hollywood movies from the 1930s and 1940s.

ASSISTANT COACHES

FRED BRUNEY

Defensive Backfield, 1st Year

Fred brings a wealth of NFL experience to the Giants. Named to the staff earlier this year, Bruney came from the Tampa Bay Buccaneers where he was assistant head coach and defensive coordinator, and is now in his 28th year as an NFL coach. Born on December 30, 1931 in Martins Ferry, Ohio, he was an outstanding scholastic star at Martins Ferry High School, then went on to Ohio State where he was both a running back and defensive back. He won three varsity letters with the Buckeyes, was named to the All-Big 10 team and was OSU's MVP in 1952, and was also selected to play in the Senior Bowl, East-West Game and Chicago All-Star game. He was a third round draft choice of the Cleveland Browns, but was subsequently traded to the San Francisco 49ers where he spent his rookie season. Following two years of military service in the Army, he then played for the 49ers, Pittsburgh Steelers, Los Angeles Rams and Boston Patriots, winning All-AFL honors in 1961 as a defensive back, and also being named to the Pro Bowl in both 1961 and 1962. After one season as freshman coach at Ohio State, he began his NFL coaching career with the Patriots in 1963, then went to the Philadelphia Eagles from 1964-68 as secondary coach, and then joined the Atlanta Falcons in a similar capacity for eight years. He rejoined the Eagles for another stint from 1977-1985 as both secondary coach and assistant head coach, and was the Eagles' interim head coach for one game in 1985 and beat the Vikings 37-35 in that final game of the '85 season to give him a 1-0 record as a head coach! He was back with the Falcons as assistant head coach from 1986-89 and then moved over to the Bucs. An avid golfer, Fred is married to the former Louise Freeman and has five children, Chuck, 35; Susan, 27; Lori, 24 and a member of the U.S. National Field Hockey team; Rebecca, 21, and Richard, 19.

ROMEO CRENNEL

Defensive Line, 11th Year

Crennel joined the Giants from Georgia Tech, where he was the defensive line coach during the 1980 season. The 43-year-old Crennel was a high school standout at Fort Knox, Ky., then played his college football at Western Kentucky University, where he lettered for four seasons as a defensive lineman. He was team captain, All-Conference and Western Kentucky MVP in the 1969 season, earning a BS in Physical Education. He remained at Western Kentucky as a graduate assistant, earning a Master's Degree in 1970, then became a full-time coach at Western Kentucky from 1971-74. He then moved to Texas Tech University as a defensive assistant from 1975-77, then was named defensive end coach at the University of Mississippi in 1978. He remained with Ole Miss for two seasons before being named defensive line coach at Georgia Tech in 1980. Crennel and his wife, Rosemary, have three children — Lisa, Tiffany and Kristin.

RON ERHARDT

Assistant Head Coach, 10th Year

After nine seasons with the Giants, Erhardt was rewarded for his outstanding work over that span by being named Assistant Head Coach during this past off-season, the first time that a coach has held that title with the Giants in modern times. Ron joined the Giants in 1982 as Offensive Coordinator after serving as Head Coach of the New England Patriots from 1979 through the 1981 season. Born on February 27, 1932, in Mandan, N.D., Erhardt was a football and basketball star in Mandan H.S., then became an All-Conference quarterback at Jamestown College in North Dakota, where he also lettered in basketball and baseball. After graduating in 1953, he served for three years in the Armed Forces, then began his coaching career at Williston H.S., N.D., in 1956, then made stops as a high school head coach at St. Mary's H.S. in New England, N.D., and at Bishop Ryan H.S. in Minot, N.D., with a final six-year coaching record of 45-9-2. Moving on to college ranks, Erhardt joined the staff at North Dakota State in 1963 as defensive coordinator and three years later was named Head Coach. As the head man at NDSU, Ron had a seven-year record of 58-6-1 and at one time led his club to a streak of 36 games without a loss and back-to-back National College Division championships. His winning percentage of .884 ranks him as one of the winningest coaches ever in College Division football. Erhardt entered the NFL in 1973 as offensive backfield coach with the Patriots, and in 1977, he was named Offensive Coordinator, replacing Red Miller. He was named Head Coach of New England in 1979 and led the Patriots to records of 9-7 and 10-6 in his first two seasons, with team averaging 26.6 points per game over that span, including a club record 441 points in 1980. Ron and his wife, Anita, live in Wykoff and have four children, Jan, Rob, Jim and Jill.

JIM FASSEL

Quarterbacks, 1st Year

Jim joined the Giants in February of this year after serving as head coach at the University of Utah for five seasons. A former collegiate and NFL quarterback, Fassel began his coaching career in 1973 as an assistant at Fullerton Junior College, then became a player-coach in the World Football League with Hawaii. He then moved on to Utah as quarterbacks-receivers coach, then spent two seasons as offensive coordinator at Weber State. His next stop was at Stanford for five seasons as an assistant on the same staff as the Giants' head coach Ray Handley, then was named offensive coordinator for Portland in the USFL in 1984 before being named head coach at Utah in 1985. Born on August 31, 1949, Jim was a standout QB at Anaheim High School in his hometown of Anaheim, Calif., then moved on to Fullerton Junior College where he quarterbacked that club to a 25-1 record over two seasons, winning the national junior college championship in 1967. Fassel then went on to USC where he played on the Trojans' 1969 PAC-8 championship team in their 1970 Rose Bowl victory over Michigan. He concluded his collegiate career in 1971 at Long Beach State where he led that club to the PCAA championship, and was then drafted by the Chicago Bears in 1972. He also was with both the Houston Oilers and San Diego Chargers before ending his playing career. Along the way in his coaching career, Jim coached a number of quarterbacks who made it to the NFL, including John Elway, Steve DeBerg, Turk Schonert and Scott Mitchell. An avid golfer and tennis player, Jim is married to the former Kathryn James, and is the father of four children— John, 17; Brian, 15; Jana, 12; and Mike, 10.

AL GROH

Defensive Coordinator, 3rd Year

With the departure of Bill Belichick to Cleveland as their new head coach, former linebackers' coach Groh was promoted to the position of Defensive Coordinator during this past off-season. Al has had a diversified background in coaching, starting on the high school level, then to collegiate coaching, including the head job at Wake Forest, and also in the NFL. A native of New York City where he was born on July 13, 1944, Groh starred as a scholastic player at Chaminade H.S. in Mineola, N.Y., then won four letters as a defensive end at the University of Virginia. He began his coaching career at Albemarle H.S. in Charlottesville, Va. in 1966, then moved into the collegiate ranks as an assistant at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point in 1968. From there he moved on to defensive assistant jobs and defensive coordinator at Virginia (1970-72), North Carolina (1973-77) where he helped recruit and coach Lawrence Taylor, Air Force (1978-79) and Texas Tech (1980). He was then named head coach at Wake Forest in 1981 and in six seasons there became the second winningest coach in Deacon history. Groh then joined the NFL with the Atlanta Falcons in 1987 as special teams and tight end coach, and in 1988 was named offensive coordinator at South Carolina University under the late ex-Giant great Joe Morrison. Al and his wife, Anne, have three children, Michael, 19; Ashley Anne, 16; and Matthew, 10.

FRED HOAGLIN

Offensive Line, 7th Year

After six seasons as offensive line coach for the Detroit Lions, former Pro Bowl center Hoaglin joined the Giants prior to the 1985 season. A native of Alliance, Ohio the 44-year-old Hoaglin was a three-year starter as both a center and linebacker at the University of Pittsburgh, winning a spot in the North-South game in his senior year, and was then a 6th round draft choice of the Cleveland Browns. Hoaglin then began a string of 69 consecutive starts at center with the Browns and was named to the 1969 Pro Bowl. During an 11-year playing career, Fred also played with the Houston Oilers, Baltimore Colts and Seattle Seahawks. After his playing days had ended, Fred, who earned a degree in industrial engineering at Pitt, worked as an industrial engineer and stockbroker for several years before entering the coaching ranks with the Lions, where he joined a former Brown teammate, Monte Clark. During his six-year tenure with the Lions, Fred built an impressive offensive line, which helped Detroit lead the entire NFL in rushing in 1981. Married to the former Janet Wolbert, Fred has a daughter, Patricia, 22, and a son, George, 20. A varsity letter winner in golf for two seasons at Pitt, Hoaglin still lists golf as his favorite hobby and is an outstanding player.

JOHNNY PARKER

Strength and Conditioning, 8th Year

Parker joined the staff in March 1984 after spending the previous four years in a similar capacity at the University of Mississippi. A native of Shaw, Miss., Parker graduated from Shaw High School in Mississippi, then matriculated to Ole Miss., where he earned a degree in 1968. He began his coaching career a year later as linebackers' coach for Indianola Academy, and along the way earned a master's degree from Delta State University. In 1974, he was named strength and conditioning coach at South Carolina University under Paul Dietzel, and held similar positions later with LSU and Indiana University after being named to the position at Mississippi. Parker's weight and conditioning theories, some of which he incorporated into his system after a visit to Russia to study the methods of the Russian Olympic trainers, had an immense impact on the Giants in 1984. From a staggering total of 25 players on Injured Reserve at one time or another in 1983, that figure was reduced to half-dozen in 1984. Parker has since supervised the construction of an all-new and modern weight room at Giants Stadium and had some 35 veteran players participating in a weight and conditioning program during the past off-season. Parker is married to the former Jane Cline of Covington, Ind.

MIKE POPE

Tight Ends, 9th Year

Mike joined the Giants in February of 1983 after spending five seasons as receivers' coach at Mississippi, while also doubling as an assistant working with punters and place kickers at Ole Miss. A native of Monroe, N.C., Pope was a standout athlete at Monroe H.S. there, winning All-Conference honors in three sports—football, basketball and baseball. He then matriculated to Lenoir Rhyne College, where he played quarterback and won All-Conference honors there as well for three seasons as Lenoir Rhyne played in their divisional national championship game thrice, winning the title once. After graduation in 1964, he went into coaching with his first stop at Lenoir H.S. He later coached at high schools in Charlotte, N.C., Jacksonville, Fla., and Lake Wales, Fla., and twice guided teams to the Florida state championship finals. Mike moved into the collegiate ranks in 1970 as a graduate assistant at Florida State, and in 1975 became assistant coach and recruiter at Texas Tech. He moved on to Mississippi with Steve Sloan in 1978. An avid golfer, Pope and his wife, Lee, have two sons—Travus and Daron.

GEORGE SEFCIK

Receivers First Year

Veteran assistant coach joined the Giants in May of this year after coaching in the NFL for the past 18 seasons with the Colts, Bengals, Packers, Chiefs and Browns. A native of Cleveland, OH, where he was born on December 27, 1939, Sefcik was a standout halfback at Benedictine H.S. in Cleveland, leading that school to a state championship in 1958. He then moved on to Notre Dame where he won three varsity letters as a two-way halfback from 1959-61, and after graduation began his coaching career at Niles, (IL), High School. Two years later, he returned to Notre Dame as a freshman coach under Hugh Devore, and then was receivers coach from 1964-68 under Ara Parseghian as the Irish won National Championships in both 1964 and 1966. He was then named offensive coordinator at the University of Kentucky in 1969 and remained there through 1972 until his first NFL job as offensive backfield coach with the Baltimore Colts in 1973. George then moved on to the Cleveland Browns as running backs coach in 1975 under Forrest Gregg, and then to the Cincinnati Bengals in a similar capacity, coaching there for six years, including their first Super Bowl appearance after the 1981 season. He subsequently coached the backs and quarterbacks for the Green Bay Packers from 1984-87 and was then named offensive coordinator for the Kansas City Chiefs in 1988. He returned to his hometown and the Browns in 1989 and was their running backs and coordinator for the past two seasons prior to joining the Giants this year. An avid golfer and all around sportsman, George and his wife, Lorie, have three children.

MIKE SWEATMAN

Special Teams, 7th Year

Sweatman joined the Giants prior to the 1985 season from the Minnesota Vikings, where he had been special teams and linebackers' coach under Les Steckel. Born in Kansas City, Mo. on October 23, 1946, Mike starred at North Kansas City High School and then was a two-time All-Big Eight linebacker at the University of Kansas, team captain in his senior season and an honorable mention All-American that year. Selected for both the East-West and Hula Bowl games, Mike was also voted the Kansas MVP in 1965. He also earned a varsity letter in wrestling and was a co-captain of that team in 1966. He earned a BS degree in physical education, and subsequently also earned a masters degree from Kansas. After graduation, he was a graduate assistant coach at Kansas, then served four years with the Marine Corps as an infantry officer, including service in Vietnam. He eventually returned to the Quantico Marine Base in Virginia where he coached the Quantico Marines team. He resumed his coaching career at Kansas in 1973, then had subsequent coaching assignments with Coffeyville Junior College, Tulsa University and the University of Tennessee before joining the Vikings. Mike and his wife, Teri, have three sons, Tom, 16; Chris, 13; and Dan, 10 and reside in Wayne, N.J. Mike is still a member of the Marine Corps Reserve and presently holds the rank of Lieut. Colonel.

BOB TROTT

Defensive Assistant, 1st Year

Trott joined the Giants in May of this year, and this assignment marks his first NFL experience after 15 years of coaching on the collegiate level. His most recent achievement took place at Clemson where he was the defensive coordinator in 1990, and Clemson for the first time in school history, led the nation in total defense by allowing just 217 yards-per-game. Additionally, the Tigers led the Atlantic Coast Conference in nine defensive categories, and finished second in the NCAA national rankings for rushing and scoring defense. Born on March 19, 1954, in Concord, N.C., Trott grew up in Kannapolis, N.C., and was an All-Conference wide receiver and defensive back at A.L. Brown High School in his hometown, while also winning letters in wrestling and track. He then moved on to the University of North Carolina where he earned three varsity letters as a DB, and graduated in 1976 with a business degree. He subsequently earned a master's degree in education in 1982 from North Carolina. He began his coaching career as an assistant with the Tarheels in 1976-77, then moved on to Air Force where he was linebackers coach from 1978-80 and then defensive back coach from 1981-83. Trott next went to Arkansas as defensive back coach for five seasons and was named defensive coordinator there in 1989. A year later, he joined Clemson as defensive coordinator. Along the way, Trott appeared in 12 major bowl games, either as player or coach, and earned National Honor Society honors in high school and All-Academic mention at North Carolina. He and his wife, Barbara, have three children, Amanda, 9; Nathan, 5; and Brittany, 3.

CHARLIE WEIS

Running Backs, 2nd Year

Charlie is a New Jersey native with an extensive scholastic background in the Garden State. Born in Trenton on March 30, 1956, Weis was an athletic and scholastic standout at Middlesex High School in Middlesex, N.J. He then matriculated to the University of Notre Dame where he earned a B.A. degree in communications and education and graduated with a Cum Laude degree. He began a coaching and teaching career at Boonton High School in New Jersey in 1979, coaching football, basketball and baseball while also teaching English, then in 1980 moved to Morristown High School for five years in virtually the same capacities, while adding lacrosse to his coaching endeavors. Weis moved into the collegiate ranks in 1985, joining the late Joe Morrison's staff at the University of South Carolina where he served as a linebackers' coach for two seasons, then became assistant director of recruiting and administrative assistant to Morrison for the following two seasons. When a new coaching regime took over after Morrison's death, Charlie returned to New Jersey and was the head coach at Franklin Township High School in 1989, winning a state championship in the process. Prior to that assignment, he had worked as an assistant to Tim Rooney in the Giants' Pro Personnel Department. While at South Carolina, Weis also earned a Master's Degree in Education and was a Cum Laude in that master's program. A bachelor, Charlie has three brothers, Mike, Peter and Patrick and a sister, Karen, and he still resides in Middlesex.

ROSEY BROWN Scout

Hall of Famer Roosevelt Brown's appointment to the Giant's scouting staff in 1971 signaled the beginning of yet another era in his outstanding career with the ball club. From 1953 through 1965, Rosey ranked as one of the all-time great offensive linemen in the National Football League, a big, fast, wide-ranging tackle, who earned All-Pro honors eight times, was selected to play in the Pro Bowl on ten occasions and, in 1956, was voted Lineman of the Year in the NFL. When a phlebitis condition forced him to retire in 1966, Brown was immediately named assistant line coach by the Giants, a post he held until 1969 when he became head line coach, replacing Jim Trimble. In 1971, Brown, along with another coaching aide, Ken Kavanaugh, left Alex Webster's staff to assume new responsibilities under Jim Lee Howell, his onetime coach, in the scouting department. Rosey, now 59 is a resident of Teaneck, N.J., but spends a good deal of his time on the road in search of fresh talent for the Giants.

KEN KAVANAUGH Scout

Ken Kavanaugh, one of the most famous names in National Football League history, joined the Giants' scouting staff in 1971 and brought with him a wealth of experience as both a professional player and coach. Actually, Kavanaugh moved into the Giants' scouting department from the coaching staff, where he had been offensive end coach from 1955-68 and offensive coach from 1969-70, a total of 16 years under three head coaches, Jim Lee Howell, Allie Sherman and Alex Webster. Prior to becoming a Giant aide, the College Hall of Fame end had spent one season (1951) as end coach for his old club, the Chicago Bears, and one season (1954) at Villanova College in his hometown of Philadelphia. As a player, Ken was one of the Bear greats. He starred at end in 1940-41, left for an Air Force tour of duty and returned to make All Pro again in 1946-47. At LSU, Kavanaugh was a four-year regular (1936-40), twice earning All-American honors.

CHRIS MARA

Scout

Chris joined the staff prior to the 1979 season and was active in collegiate scouting throughout all of last season and was also part of the Giants' drafting group this past April. Born on March 11, 1957 in New York City, Chris graduated from Iona Prep in New Rochelle, N.Y. where he was a standout defensive back for three seasons, winning All-Catholic High School Athletic Association recognition after his senior year. He began his collegiate career at Springfield University, where he was a defensive back on the freshman team, then transferred to Boston College, where he earned a B.A. degree in Arts and Sciences with a major in Sociology. During his scholastic and collegiate days, Chris spent many seasons working at various Giants' pre-season training camps, and during the regular season worked with broadcast teams from both CBS-TV and NBC-TV, as well as with visiting and home radio broadcast groups. Married to the former Kathleen Rooney, Chris has four children — Daniel, 10; Katie, 8; Patricia, 6; and Conor, 4; all of whom are the great grandchildren of NFL Hall of Famers, Giants' Founder Tim Mara and Steelers' Founder and Owner Art Rooney.

RICK DONOHUE

Scout

Rick joined the Giants in August of 1983 after serving in coaching capacities on both the collegiate and high school level in the past. A native of the Bronx, Rick was born on April 29, 1943 and played his scholastic sports at DeWitt Clinton High School in the Bronx. He earned a B.S. degree in education and philosophy from Dayton University, then continued at Michigan State University in educational administration. He began his athletic career as a head football coach at Buckeye H.S. in Rushsylvania, Ohio, then was a coach and science teacher at Bellefontaine H.S. in Bellefontaine, Ohio before entering the collegiate ranks as freshman football coach at Michigan State. Subsequently, he was a defensive coach at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy, defensive secondary coach at C.W. Post College, and freshman coach, assistant varsity coach and recruiting coordinator at Columbia University before joining the Giants as a scout. Rick and his wife Elaine, reside in Washington Township, N.J.

Gabriel joined the Giants during the 1985 off-season after serving as an area scout for an NFL scouting combine in the Great Lakes area. Prior to that experience and before he entered the profession, Greg was an account executive with Prudential-Bache and later with Dean Witter Reynolds while working part time in the scouting department of the Buffalo Bills, both in film grading and in player evaluation. A native of Buffalo where he was born on May 4, 1951, Gabriel played his scholastic sports at Bishop Neumann High School in Williamsville, N.Y., then earned a B.S. degree from Canisius College where he won three varsity letters as a running back. Subsequently, he played for eight seasons as a running back with the Buffalo Geminis, a semi-pro outfit, and was additionally the offensive backfield coach for one season there. Greg is married to the former Suzanne Kallay, is the father of three daughters, Liza, Ryan, and Kelsey, and resides in Grand Island, N.Y.

TERRY BRADWAY

Scout

Bradway joined the Giants as a fulltime scout in June of 1987 and has a diversified football background as player, coach and scout. Born Robert Terrence Bradway on May 19, 1955 in Atlantic City, N.J., he played his high school sports at Holy Spirit H.S. in Absecon, N.J., and then was a three-letter winner in football as a defensive back at Trenton State College. He subsequently earned a masters degree from the University of Cincinnati where he was also a graduate assistant coach. Terry then served as an assistant coach at the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, and subsequently joined the now-defunct USFL with the Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars for a three-year stint as the assistant director of player personnel, with college and pro scouting high on his list of duties. Since the USFL ceased operations, Bradway had served as a part time scout for the Giants, until being named to the fulltime position. Terry is married to the former Kathleen Knupp of Atlantic City, is the father of Michael Terrence and Jennifer Lee, and now resides in Marmora, N.J.

RICHARD SOLOMON

Scout

Solomon was added to the scouting department in June of 1987 after spending 14 years as a collegiate assistant coach and recruiter. Born on December 8, 1949 in New Orleans, La., Solomon was an all-around scholastic star at St. Augustine H.S. in New Orleans, then matriculated to the University of Iowa where he won three varsity letters in football as a running back and defensive back, and two varsity letters in track as a sprinter. After earning a degree in physical education, Richard moved immediately into coaching at Dubuque University where he was defensive backfield coach and later defensive coordinator during a three-year stint. He then moved on to Southern Illinois University as a defensive backfield coach, and then to his alma mater for two years as wide receivers' coach. He was at Syracuse University for one season as wide receivers' coach before moving on to the University of Illinois where he served for seven years as both an assistant coach and defensive coordinator. Married to the former Clara Edwards of New Orleans, Solomon has three children, Alesia, Brandon and Ryann.

JEREMIAH DAVIS

Scout

After spending three years as a part-time scout with the Giants, former collegiate coach and recruiting specialist Jeremiah Davis was named to the Giants' scouting department in a full time capacity in March of this season. Born on November 18, 1953, Davis graduated from Montclair High School in Montclair, N.J., then began his collegiate career at Yakima Junior College in Yakima, Wash., and received a B.A. degree in Criminal Law from the University of Wyoming in 1977. He subsequently earned a masters degree in sports administration from Grambling University in 1981. Along the way, Jerry began his coaching career at Wyoming as a secondary assistant and strength coach, and subsequently did the same jobs at the University of Washington and at Grambling where he also worked with the linebackers. Davis then moved on to Northern Iowa and to the University of Central Florida as an assistant coach, then got into the recruiting end with Purdue University in 1985. He was also at Tennessee-Martin for two years as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator before beginning his affiliation with the Giants in 1988.

STEVE VERDEROSA

Scout

Steve has been associated with the Giants in their scouting department since 1988, initially on a part time basis, but now in a full time capacity. A native of Roslyn, Long Island where he was born on June 9, 1954, Verderosa played his scholastic sports at Ward Melville High School in Setauket, N.Y., then began his collegiate career at Central Iowa as a wide receiver and punter. He then moved on to New York Institute of Technology where he continued his dual roles, and was an ECAC Player of the Week for an eight-catch, 100-yard day vs. Western Connecticut in the 1975 season at Tech. After receiving a degree in general architecture and a design award in his senior year, Steve had a tryout with the Washington Redskins as a WR-punter in 1977, and also had a two-week stint with the Cleveland Browns as a punter in the 1978 pre-season. After a year as an architectural draftsman, Steve got the football urge once again and began a coaching career at his alma mater, New York Tech, as an offensive assistant, then spent two seasons as a coach and teacher at St. Anthony's High School before landing a spot as defensive backfield coach at Columbia. From there, he moved on to C.W. Post for four years as secondary coach, and then joined the scouting department of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers before coming to the Giants. Married to the former Lori Ann Felicetti, Steve resides in Stony Brook, N.Y.

JULIUS HORAI

Administrative Assistant

A key man in the Giants' operation is Julius "Whitey" Horai who has been associated with the club since 1954. Whitey handles a myriad of details as well as serving as the coordinator of transportation and film exchanges. A native of Richmond, Staten Island, Whitey graduated from Curtis High School there, then went on to Wagner College where he worked for the athletic department as equipment and field maintenance man under Jim Lee Howell. When Jim Lee came to the Giants as head coach in 1954, Horai came too in a part-time capacity, then joined the club fulltime in 1970. A bachelor, Whitey still resides in Staten Island.

JIM PHELAN

Administrative Assistant

After serving as an assistant equipment manager, Jim began new responsibilities in 1988 as an administrative assistant, taking over some of the duties of the late Vinnie Swerc. Born on January 29, 1964 in Providence, R.I., Phelan graduated from King Philip Regional H.S. in Wrentham, Mass. where he won varsity letters in football, basketball, hockey and track and was an All-League wide receiver, setting a school record for most receptions (43) in an eight-game season. He subsequently matriculated to the University of Massachusetts where he earned a degree in general business. He worked all of his collegiate summers at the Giants' training camps, and lists golf and skiing as his favorite hobbies.

RONNIE BARNES

Head Trainer

While he's still one of the youngest head trainers in the NFL, 39-year-old Ronnie Barnes has compiled a dossier of accomplishments and honors worthy of anyone in his field, no matter what the length of service to the profession. A graduate of East Carolina University where he won distinguished student honors, he was that school's first graduate of the sports medicine program, and subsequently has since been elected to the East Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame and been named a winner of the Outstanding Alumni Award as well. He received a master's degree from Michigan State University in administrative services and also served as trainer and assistant professor of health at MSU where he was the trainer for both Magic Johnson and Kirk Gibson during his tenure. A native of Rocky Mount, N.C., where he was born on February 15, 1952, he graduated from Fike Senior H.S. in Wilson, N.C. and initially joined the Giants as a student intern in 1976. Since assuming his full time capacity with the club in 1980, Ronnie has twice been voted National Professional Trainer of the Year by the National Athletic Trainers Association, a 6,000-member organization, and he has served on the NATA board of certification for 10 years. He has published several scientific research articles on sports medicine, and as recently as this past off-season published chapters in three sports medicine books. Barnes has made State Department tours to Brazil and other countries, and he has lectured nationally and internationally on sports medicine, including a German tour this past off-season. He's also actively involved in substance abuse programs in both the New York and New Jersey school systems, and is also the Executive Director of Meadowlands Professional Sports Care, a private physical therapy and physician clinic in East Rutherford, N.J. He resides in West Orange, N.J.

JOHN JOHNSON

Trainer

John Johnson, a graduate of the Swedish Institute of Physical Therapy, has been a trainer for the Giants for more than 40 years and, during this period, also has served as head trainer and physical instructor at Manhattan College. After serving an internship period at Brooklyn Jewish and Long Island College Hospitals (1937-38), Johnson worked as a physical trainer for the Bedford YMCA and then, from 1942-46, was in charge of physical therapy and rehabilitation at a U.S. Air Force base hospital. His service hitch included duty as a physical therapy instructor, athletic trainer for post teams and as an air-sea rescue medic. From 1946-47, John was a civilian athletic trainer at the U.S. Naval Preflight School at Ottumwa, Ia. A member of the Eastern and National Athletic Trainers' Associations as well as the National Physical Therapy Association, Johnson also has served as a trainer for visiting teams at Madison Square Garden (1954-63). He lives in Cresskill, N.J.

MICHAEL RYAN

ATHLETIC TRAINER

Ryan joined the Giants' trainers' staff in May of 1988 and has been an integral part of that operation ever since. A native of Framingham, Mass. where he was born on February 5, 1963, Ryan earned varsity letters in track and cross-country at both Mohawk Trail H.S. in Shelburne Falls, Mass., and at Southington H.S. in Southington, Conn., while also earning honor roll status throughout his high school career. He subsequently won six varsity letters in cross-country, indoor and outdoor track at Central Connecticut State University in New Britain, Conn., earning a degree in Athletic Training, while also achieving scholar-athlete and dean's list honors and was an All-East miler there. He subsequently also earned a B.S. degree in Physical Therapy from the University of Connecticut. An All-State miler while at Southington H.S., Ryan served as a training intern with the Giants during pre-season training camps, and has also had experience with Columbia University, Wesleyan University and as head trainer at Bloomfield College, while also working as a physical therapist at several sports medicine clinics. Also a recipient of the Eastern Athletic Trainers Association scholarship in 1984 and the National Athletic Trainers Association post-graduate scholarship in 1985, Ryan resides in Leonia, N.J. While now single, he is the proud father of a daughter, Erin Teresa, and lists hobbies that include reading, sky diving and triathloning. Mike was also named to the Outstanding Young Men of America in 1990.

DR. RUSSELL F. WARREN

Team Physician

Dr. Warren is the newest member of the Giants' medical staff, joining the club in 1984. Born in Burlington, Vt., on June 18, 1939, Dr. Warren is a graduate of Columbia College in New York and the Upstate Medical School in Syracuse, N.Y. He did his internship and residency in surgery at St. Luke's Hospital in New York City, and his residency in orthopedic surgery at the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City after a two-year tour of duty as a medical officer in the U.S. Navy. He subsequently served as a member of the surgical staff at Lynchburg General Hospital in Lynchburg, Va., and as a Fellow in Orthopedics at Columbia Presbyterian Hospital in New York City. He is currently an Associate Attending Orthopedic Surgeon for The New York Hospital and The Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City, and an Associate Professor of Orthopedic Surgery for the Cornell University Medical Center in New York. He is also Director of Sports Medicine at The Hospital for Special Surgery and a consulting orthopedic surgeon for the Public School Athletic League, United States Tennis Association and Columbia College, all in New York. The author of numerous publications on his specialties, Dr. Warren is a resident of Greenwich, Conn. An outstanding halfback at Columbia, Warren had a tryout with the Giants in 1962.

DR. ALLAN LEVY

Associate Team Physician

Dr. Levy joined the Giants prior to the 1976 season and brings impressive credentials with him to the job. In private practice for over 30 years in Westwood, N.J., Al has been involved in sports medicine for 29 of those years, initially as the team physician for Westwood High School. He moved into professional baseball as team physician for the Newark Bears, and then into football with the Brooklyn Dodgers of the old Continental Football League. He continued in football as team physician for the Westchester Bulls, a Giant affiliate in the late 1960s, and was the first team doctor for the New Jersey Nets when they began play originally as the New Jersey Americans. He has also worked as the team doctor for the New York Islanders hockey team of the NHL. Born on Sept. 28, 1927 in Saranac Lake, N.Y., Dr. Levy received his B.A. from Columbia University in 1947 and his M.D. from Cornell University in 1951. He and his wife Gail have three children.

DR. JOEL GOLDBERG

Director of Career Counseling

As one of the clubs in the forefront of encouraging the development of career counseling for players, the Giants have added Joel Goldberg to the staff to oversee this function. Through this counseling, the object is to help players through the transformation from playing days to non-playing days and life adjustment and to stimulate interaction between the metropolitan community and the players. The program is designed to measure players' aptitudes, interests, abilities and career goals and to put those qualities into practical application. A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., Goldberg earned a B.S. in Education from the University of Rhode Island, a Master's degree from New York University and a Doctorate degree in Counseling Psychology from Rutgers. During his career he has been a counselor with the New York City Department of Labor; a professor at Kean College in New Jersey; a psychological consultant to boards of education, and President of Career Consultants, his own counseling business in Union, N.J. for the past 15 years. Born on July 5, 1943, Dr. Goldberg and his wife, a high school history teacher, have a son and daughter and reside in New Jersey.

ED WAGNER

Locker Room Manager

The overseer of locker room operations and a much-decorated Army veteran "Whitey" Wagner assumed his duties in 1976. Since that time, Whitey's domain has included all aspects of running not only the locker room, but the care and feeding of the players during the week, as well as supervising the maintenance of the pressroom at Giants Stadium which houses all of the metropolitan area media. A native of Staten Island, N.Y., Wagner is a graduate of New Dorp High School. He is also in charge of the Giants' annual large-scale moving operation from Giants Stadium to the pre-season training camp, and also for the return move, as well as handling the supervision of maintenance at the camp. He and his wife, Gertrude, have a daughter, Patricia, and a son, Edward Jr., and now live in Lakewood, N.J.

ED WAGNER, JR.

Equipment Manager

Ed was named to the position of Equipment Manager in June of 1979 and since that time has handled a myriad of details, including the purchase, upkeep and repair of all equipment and uniforms, the transportation of equipment and uniforms to and from all road trips and to and from training camp, the handling of all training camp duties and arrangements, as well as field maintenance. A native of Staten Island, Ed had served as assistant manager for two seasons with the Giants prior to being named manager. Edward Kenneth Wagner was born on November 29, 1956 in Staten Island and graduated from Curtis High School there in 1974. He and his wife, the former Andrea De Nonno, were married in June of 1979, and have a daughter, Donna, 6, and a son, Christopher, 3. The Wagners reside in River Edge, N.J.

TONY CEGLIO

Video Director

Tony joined the Giants in 1975 as director of the club's film and video operations which includes filming all pre-season and regular season games and practices for study by the coaching staff, as well as the distribution and exchange of films and video with other NFL clubs. When the NFL officially switched from 16mm film to video in 1986, Ceglio designed the premier video tape editing system in the NFL, the Lake Sports Compiler. The Giants were the first team in the NFL to put this system on line, and since then several other teams have employed this system. Ceglio also co-authored the official NFL rules for the video taping of games and league exchange, and he has been elected for two years running by the NFL Video Directors as chairman of the NFL Video Directors group. Born on September 23, 1954 in Mount Vernon, N.Y., Tony is a graduate of Stepinac High School in White Plains, N.Y. and the New York School of Visual Arts where he earned a BA in Film and an outstanding student award. He currently is teaching an undergraduate course in sports film and video at his alma mater. His previous experience includes freelance camera work on television films and as a cinematographer and director in the areas of commercials and industrial films. He had also previously done film work for major league baseball in Florida training camps and worked with the New Jersey Nets of the NBA as a cameraman and video tape producer. Married to the former Carolyn Trainor, the Ceglios reside in Washington Township, N.J. and Tony is an avid skier who enjoys Colorado in the off-season. The Ceglios have twin daughters, Dawn and Danielle.

JOHN MANCUSO

Assistant Video Director

Mancuso joined the Giants in a fulltime capacity in 1978 as an assistant to Tony Ceglio as the video department increased in scope and details. John works in the filming of all practices and games, both home and away, with the new Sony Betacam video systems, as well as in the processing and printing of all video in the Giants' ultra-modern video offices. Born on June 9, 1953 in Queens, Mancuso attended Stepinac High School in White Plains, N.Y. and then graduated from nearly Scarsdale High School. He subsequently served as a Recreation Director for the Tibbits Nursing Home in Westchester for several years, then began working part time for the Giants in the film department in 1977. As a cameraman, still photographer and videoman, John also worked for the New Jersey Nets of the NBA as a free lancer for two years before assuming his present fulltime position with the Giants. John is married to the former Reena Slatky, has two sons, John and Julian, and resides in Tuxedo, N.Y. An accomplished musician, he has played guitar, bass and piano for various musical groups for the last 20 years as well.

JOE MANSFIELD

Field Security Manager

A retired White Plains Police Department detective, Mansfield joined the Giants in 1976, and in addition to his field security duties, also assists the club in locker room operations during the regular season and at the Pace University training camp site. A native of New York City, Joe graduated from Mount St. Michael's H.S. in New York, then joined the United States

Marine Corps in 1943 during World War II and was recalled during the Korean conflict in 1950. He spent nine years with the Fifth Avenue Coach Co. of New York and a short period of time with the Corrections Department at Sing Sing Prison, then joined the White Plains Police Department in 1956, rising through the ranks to Detective and collecting numerous citations and commendations along the way until retiring in 1976. Several years ago, Joe was re-introduced to a childhood sweetheart after a forty-year separation after each of them had been widowed. Shortly thereafter Joe and Maggie were married and they now live in White Plains and together are enjoying their combined family of 10 children and 22 grandchildren.

MERLE BEST

Nutrition Consultant

Merle is a registered Dietician, specializing in sports medicine, and has been the Nutrition Consultant for the Giants for the past seven seasons. A graduate of Hood College where she earned a degree in biology and nutrition, Ms. Best also earned a master of science degree in nutrition from Penn State, and is a member of the American College of Sports Medicine. Merle is currently the Clinical Dietician in the Sports Medicine department of Pascack Valley Hospital in Westwood, N.J., has been a member of the New Jersey Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and is a co-founder of SCAN, a national organization comprised of sports and cardiovascular nutritionists. With the Giants, Merle works with players throughout the year on nutritional aspects of training and competition, as well as providing dietary counseling for preventive health and rehabilitation. A New Jersey native, Merle resides with her husband and two daughters in Westfield, N.J.

BOBBY ABRAMS

Michigan

FA-'90

4/12/67

2nd Year

PRO: Signed as a free agent, Bobby enjoyed a highly productive preseason training camp, so much so that he became one of the very few free agents to make the final 47-man roster. During that pre-season, he had nine total tackles, playing strongly on special teams and at outside linebacker. He then appeared in all 16 regular season outings and in all of the playoffs, again seeing action on special teams and at OLB in situational defenses, finishing with 13 total tackles in the regular season, and adding three more in the playoffs.

COLLEGE: Abrams began his collegiate career at Michigan as a strong safety, then moved to outside LB after building up to his current 230 pounds in the Wolverine weight room. As a three-year starter at OLB, he finished with a career total of 150 tackles and played in three Rose Bowls. Blessed with 4.6 speed, he was a second-team All-Big 10 choice in 1989 and was an MVP winner in a victory over Maryland when he recorded 12 total tackles and three QB sacks.

PERSONAL: Robert Abrams Jr. was born in Detroit, Mich., on April 12, 1967, and was a scholastic athletic and academic standout at Henry Ford High School in his hometown. He was All-State in football as a defensive back-linebacker, and also starred in track as a long jumper and sprinter, while making the school honor roll eight straight semesters and finishing with a 3.8 GPA. His father, Bobby Sr., is a former three-time Golden Gloves boxing champion in Detroit.

OTTIS ANDERSON

Miami (FL)

PRO: Just like fine wine, Ottis Anderson continues to improve with age. Not only was he the club's leading rusher again in 1990 with 784 yards, he also surpassed the career 10,000-yard rushing mark and moved into 8th place on the NFL's Alltime Rushing list. Then, if all that wasn't enough, the 34-year-old marvel powered the Giants' running attack through the playoffs with 249 more yards, including 102 in the Super Bowl championship game which earned him MVP honors in Super Bowl XXV, a fitting climax to another vintage season by the vintage RB. In addition to his Super Bowl MVP award, Ottis was also named to the All-Madden team. All of this followed on the heels of a truly productive season in 1989. Pressed into fulltime duty after Joe Morris suffered a broken foot in the final pre-season game, the venerable running back came through with a 1,023-yard season, his sixth career 1,000-yard season, but his first as a Giant. Along the way, he scored 14 rushing touchdowns, added 28 pass receptions and was named NFL Comeback Player of the Year by both Pro Football Weekly and Football Digest. He was also a one-man attack in the divisional championship playoff loss to the Rams, rushing for 120 yards and scoring the Giants' only TD. In 1988, Anderson also had a productive season, though generally as a role player in short-yardage and goal-line situations. He finished with just 208 yards rushing as the backup for Joe Morris, but nonetheless scored eight rushing TDs, including three in one game, to tie a club record, vs. his old team, the Cardinals. Veteran RB saw only limited action in 1987, appearing in just four games with but two rushing attempts and a pair of pass receptions. Former Pro Bowl and All-NFL running back was obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals in a trade for draft choices on October 7, 1986, and appeared in eight games for the Giants during the regular season, as well as in the playoffs and Super Bowl. In his first game with the Giants, on October 12 vs. the Eagles, Anderson rushed for 32 yards on seven carries, but pulled a hamstring on a 16-yard sweep and was hobbled somewhat thereafter. He finished the season with 81 yards rushing on 24 carries for the Giants, including the go-ahead one-yard TD dive in the 21-17 win over the San Francisco 49ers, then put the cap on the Giants' 39-20 Super Bowl triumph over Denver with a 2-yard blast for the last Giant touchdown. The Cardinals No. 1 draft choice in 1979, O.J. had one of the most dynamic pro debuts in NFL history when he rushed for 193 yards on 21 carries in his first NFL game vs. Dallas. He went on to win Rookie of the Year honors that season, as well as being named to the Pro Bowl and All-NFL with a 1,605-yards rushing rookie season. He added four more 1,000-yard rushing seasons in 1980-81-83-84 before missing seven games in 1985 with assorted injuries. He owns all of the Cardinals' rushing records, both for season and career.

COLLEGE: Anderson broke Chuck Foreman's career rushing records at the University of Miami, setting a Miami season record — with 1,266 yards rushing in his senior year — the first Hurricane ever to surpass the 1,000-yard rushing mark in one season. He was a first-team All-American selection by both the Sporting News and Football Coaches Association.

PERSONAL: Ottis Jerome Anderson was born in West Palm Beach, Fla., and was a scholastic standout at Forest Hill High School in his hometown. With a degree in physical education from Miami, Ottis and his wife, Wanda, reside in Creve Coeur, Mo. during the off-seasons.

88*RICHARD ASHE*Tight End Humboldt State 3/14/67*6-4 260 FA-'91 2nd Year

PRO: Signed by the Giants during this past off-season after he was released by the Los Angeles Rams, Ashe was initially signed as a free agent by the Rams. He had a solid pre-season training camp and made the final roster and played in the season opener vs. the Green Bay Packers where he was used as a blocker on short yardage situations. He suffered a foot injury the following week and was placed on the injured reserve list, and was eventually waived and then re-signed to the practice squad where he spent the remainder of the 1990 season.

COLLEGE: Richard was a two-way player at Humboldt State, earning four varsity letters and making the All-NCAC team in his senior season as a linebacker. While he was used on offense chiefly as a blocker, he did catch five passes for 90 yards in his senior year, while also registering 49 tackles and three QB sacks as a linebacker. He also won two varsity letters in track.

PERSONAL: Richard Anthony Ashe was born in Chicago, IL, on March 14, 1967, then starred in scholastic sports at Birmingham H.S. in Moreno Valley, Calif. in football, basketball and track. He enjoys live comedy shows as a favorite hobby.

9*MATT BAHR*Place Kicker*Penn State 7/6/56*5-10 175*FA-'90 13th Year

PRO: When Giants' PK Raul Allegre went down with a groin injury three games into the season last year, the club quickly signed the veteran Bahr who had earlier been released by the Cleveland Browns. That acquisition turned out to be a gem of an addition. Not only were Bahr FGs the winning points in three regular season games, but his dramatic 42-yarder at the gun clinched the NFC title for the Giants in the stirring 15-13 win over the 49ers, and his pair of FGs were the difference in the 20-19 Super Bowl championship win over Buffalo. Along the way, Matt booted in 13 regular season games and the three-game playoffs, finishing with 29-30 in PATs, and 17-23 in FGs during the regular season, then adding 6-6 PATs and 8-9 FGs in the playoffs. That added up to 35-36 and 25-32, which are solid figures, to be sure. He also showed his toughness with six solo tackles on returns during the year, even had a face-mask penalty called on him, and that was sufficient for John Madden to name Matt to his All-Madden team as the PK for 1990. Also, with his 80 total points in 1990, Matt has now moved to 19th on the NFL's Alltime Leading Scorers list with 975 career points. Originally a No. 6 draft choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1979, Matt spent two years with the Steelers, scoring 104 points in his rookie year and winning a Super Bowl ring as the Steelers beat the Rams 31-19 that year with Matt booting a 41-yard FG in that win. He was with the 49ers briefly in 1981, then traded to Cleveland where he kicked until he was released last year. Had his best year with Browns in 1988 when he won team offensive MVP honors with 104 points and 24-of-29 FGs.

COLLEGE: Matt was a three-year kicker for Penn State, setting an NCAA record in his senior year with 22 FGs and 74 PATs, and was also a four-year starter and captain of the Penn State soccer team. Also was named the PK on the Penn State alltime team, beating out his brother, Chris, a former NFL kicker. Matt also played professional soccer in 1978 for the Colorado Caribous and Tulsa Roughnecks of the NASL.

PERSONAL: Matthew David Bahr was born in Philadelphia, PA, on July 6, 1956 and starred in football and soccer at Neshaminy Langhorne H.S. in Langhorne, PA. His father was the soccer coach at Penn State for 14 years and was a former member of U.S. World Cup team. Another brother, Casey, was a U.S. Olympic soccer player. Matt has a B.S. degree in electrical engineering and an M.B.A. degree. He and his wife, Maresa, have two daughters, Lindsey Davies, 8, and Caitlin Dorothy, 4. Matt has also done color commentary on cable TV for soccer this past off-season.

STEPHEN BAKER

Wide Receiver Fresno State 8/30/64

5-8 160 D-3 '87 5th Year

PRO: Stephen had a solid season in 1990, and while his 26 catches were not up with the league leaders, his 20.8 average-per-catch was second in the NFC to Flipper Anderson of the Rams. He had a big day in the first win over the Redskins with three grabs for 109 yards, including an 80-yard TD jaunt, his second 80-plus TD careerwise. All told, he had four TD catches during the season, then added seven receptions in the playoffs, including TD catches in the win over the Bears and the Super Bowl nod over the Bills. He's still the deep threat on the club, with his career average-per-catch mark of 18.4 on 94 receptions. Baker appeared in 15 games during the 1989 season, four of those as a starter, but had his lowest production as the Giants utilized more of a ball-control, rushing offense. The slim swift had but 13 receptions, but his 19.6 average-per-catch mark led the club for a third straight season. Two of his catches went for touchdowns, a 39-yarder vs. Phoenix in the first outing against the Cardinals, and then a 35-yarder in the second game with Phoenix. His best outing was a three-catch day in the win over Seattle, and he also had a pair of receptions for 46 yards in the divisional playoff loss to the Rams. With injuries to starters in 1988, Baker stepped into the starting job and turned in a quality season. Despite the fact that he didn't have a catch in the first four games, he finished with a total of 40 for 656 yards and a club-leading seven TD grabs. Along the way he had a pair of 100-yard receiving games vs. Atlanta (6-104) and New Orleans (3-134) and in the Saints game had an 85-yard TD reception, the longest in 16 years by a Giants' receiver. Also filled in as a punt returner when Phil McConkey was injured. Swift small-package department made a 1987 impact during the pre-season, then won himself a spot during the regular season, and was a starter at WR for five games when Stacy Robinson was injured. Along the way, the diminutive speedster had 15 receptions for an 18.5 average-per-catch, and scored on TD receptions of 46 yards vs. the Saints and 12 vs. the Eagles. He also had a big 50-yard reception in an earlier win over Philadelphia. He had his best outing in that New Orleans game, grabbing four passes for 100 yards and the TD. Also had four catches for 69 yards in victory over New England. Also filled in briefly as punt returner with three for 16 yards. Minor injuries slowed him down late in the season. Fastest of all the receivers on the club.

COLLEGE: Stephen began his collegiate career at West Los Angeles J.C. where he had 105 receptions for 2,145 yards and 31 touchdowns, then continued his production for two more years at Fresno State where he set alltime school marks en route to two straight All-Pacific Coast Athletic Association first-team designations. In those two years, he had 62 catches for 1,629 yards and a dazzling 26.3 average-per-catch mark while scoring 16 touchdowns—10 on receptions, three on end-arounds and three more on punt returns. Also starred in Japan Bowl and Blue-Gray games, winning MVP honors in the first-mentioned game when he caught a 36-yard TD pass in the final two minutes to win the game for the West.

PERSONAL: Stephen Edward Baker was born on August 30, 1964 in San Antonio, Tex., then played his scholastic sports at Hamilton High School in Los Angeles where he starred in football, track and gymnastics. Lists video games and remote control toys as two of his favorite hobbies.

58CARL BANKS*Linebacker Michigan State 8/29/62*6-4 235 D-1 '84 8th Year

PRO: Veteran strongside backer suffered a fractured metacarpal bone in his left hand early in the season last year, had to sit out seven outings, but bounced back in the stretch run and playoffs for his usual key contributions as the defense was top-rated in the NFC. Along the way, Banks had 51 total tackles in the nine regular season games he played in, adding a QB sack, a fumble recovery and a pair of pass breakups, then added seven stops and a breakup in the playoffs. After a so-so season in 1988 in which he finished seventh on the club in tackles on the heels of a contract dispute, Banks returned to prominence in 1989, playing in all 16 games and finishing with 97 total tackles. That was good for the runnerup spot in total stops, and he also added a club-leading and career-high seven forced fumbles along with four QB sacks, a fumble recovery, one interception, and his first NFL reception, which went for 22 yards and a touchdown off a fake field goal. He was also named NFC Defensive Player of the Year by the Washington Post, with all of those accomplishments reflecting his total bounce back from the previous season. Carl was further honored when he was selected to the All-NFL 1980s second-team, as voted by the 27 Pro Football Writers who comprise the Hall of Fame voting each year. Banks finally won much-overdue recognition in 1987, winning unanimous All-NFL honors by the wire services and major publications, and was also voted as a starter to his first Pro Bowl. Along the way, Carl led the club in tackles for the second consecutive year with 113, added a career-high nine quarterback sacks, his first interception and a pair of forced fumbles, while also winning NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors with 12 solo tackles and 2½ sacks in a win over the Eagles. Banks was a powerhouse performer all season long in 1986, and was ranked among the top three linebackers in the NFL by Dallas coach Tom Landry. Yet despite the fact that he might have well been the club's best defensive player during the second half of the season, Banks won little post-season acclaim, getting an honorable mention All-NFL from the AP and a Pro Bowl alternate spot. In his first full season as a 16-game starter, Carl led the team in total tackles with 120; had 6½ quarterback sacks, two forced fumbles, and two fumble returns for five yards, then led the club in the playoffs as well with 26 total tackles and a fumble recovery while recording 10 solo stops in the Super Bowl triumph. The Giants' No. 1 draft choice in 1984, Banks made considerable contributions to the defense in his rookie season, appearing in all 16 regular season games and as a starter at LOLB four games, as well as in both of the playoff games. In 1985, Banks won the starting job at OLB, then suffered a sprained knee and was out of action for a month. Prior to that injury, he had recorded three QB sacks and recovered a fumble and performed with gusto. After his return, he saw action in all of the remaining games, concluding the season with a total of 31 tackles, then adding nine more tackles in the playoff games. Carl had an auspicious debut as a rookie starter, winning Sports Illustrated's Defensive Player of the Week honors after registering 10 solo tackles, two QB sacks and a fumble recovery in a 19-7 victory over Atlanta. All told, Banks finished that season with 39 total tackles, added three QB sacks, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble, and also played well on special teams. As a starter in the two playoff games, he added seven tackles, and set the tone on defense in the playoff win over the Los Angeles Rams by throwing Eric Dickerson for a four-yard loss on the Rams' first rushing attempt of the day. Banks was named to the All-NFL Rookie team at season's end by UPI, Pro Football Weekly, the Pro Football Writers Association and Football Digest.

COLLEGE: Banks was a consensus All-American in his senior year at Michigan State and was only the ninth player in the 87-year history of the Big 10 to earn All-Conference first-team honors for three straight seasons. Carl won a starting job late in his freshman season, then played in 43 of 44 games thereafter, finishing his career with 279 tackles—the third highest total in Spartan history. He added two interceptions, four fumble recoveries, and eight pass deflections and was named to play in the Senior Bowl, Blue-Gray Game and Hula Bowl. Banks was co-captain in both his junior and senior years and was named Michigan State's MVP and Governor's Award winner in his senior season.

PERSONAL: Carl Banks was born on August 29, 1962 in Flint, Mich., and was a fine student-athlete at Beecher High School in his hometown, winning All-State honors in football as well as All-State Honorable mention in basketball. He was also a shot-putter on the track team which finished third in the state championships. He was also elected vice-president of the student government in high school, and was a Communications major at Michigan State.

MARK BAVARO

Notre Dame

D-4 '85

4/28/63

7th Year

PRO: Despite major knee surgery in January of 1990, and a subsequent surgical process during training camp, Bavaro produced a courageous performance throughout all of last season. Relegated to light practice workouts during the week, Mark nonetheless came up big every Sunday, and missed only one game throughout the year. He finished with 33 catches for 393 yards and five touchdowns in the regular season, including a career-high 61-yard gain vs. the Redskins, and moved into 5th place on the club's alltime receiving list with 266 career catches. He was even better in the playoffs, finishing as the club's leading receiver with 13 catches, and had the big receptions in both of the final scoring drives vs. the 49ers in the NFC title game, and vs. the Bills in Super Bowl XXV. He's since had additional major knee surgery in this past off-season, and his future at this point is in doubt. One of the biggest losses in 1989 was when this All-NFL and Pro Bowler went down with a knee injury in the seventh week of the season and was ultimately lost for the remainder of the campaign. When injured, he already had recorded 22 catches for three touchdowns in those first few games. In 1988, Mark was also saddled with nagging injuries and also missed time in training camp because of a contract holdout and subsequently failed to win Pro Bowl and All-NFL honors for the first time in three seasons, yet he still managed to catch 53 passes for 672 yards and four TDs. Premier tight end had yet another powerful season in 1987, leading the club in receiving for the second straight year while being named All-NFL unanimously by the wire services and major news outlets. He was also selected as a starter in the Pro Bowl for the second straight year and was named as the NFL Tight End of the Year by the NFL Alumni Association. In 12 games, Mark had 55 catches for 867 yards and a career-high eight TD receptions ... had four 100-plus receiving games ... and caught 11 passes vs. St. Louis, the second-highest one-game total in club history to the 12 catches he had against the Bengals in 1985. Bavaro had a vintage year in 1986, setting alltime club records in receiving for tight ends, while winning unanimous All-NFL honors and a Pro Bowl starting job as well. In ascending to a position as perhaps the best tight end in pro football, the second-year marvel caught 66 passes for 1,001 yards — both club marks for a TE — and continued to block like a 275-pound tackle. He was also the club's leading receiver in the playoffs with eight catches, and had TD grabs vs. the 49ers and vs. the Broncos in the Super Bowl. The powerful one had any number of big games, including six catches for 106 yards vs. the Raiders; seven for 110 vs. the Saints, and five for 111 in the big Dec. 7 win over Washington, but perhaps his most notable grab was a 10-yarder in the Monday Night win over the 49ers where he carried four 49er tacklers another 20 yards on his back for an eventual 31-yard gain. Mark enjoyed a powerful first season with the Giants after being faced with the challenge of moving up to the starting TE position when incumbent starter Zeke Mowatt went down with a major knee injury during the pre-season and was out for the year. After a strong pre-season performance in which he finished second to Mowatt in receiving, Bavaro was a powerhouse blocker and receiver all season long and through the playoffs and was a unanimous All-NFL Rookie selection at season's end. Along the way, Bavaro finished as the second leading receiver on the club with 37 receptions for 511 yards and four TDs and set an alltime club record by catching 12 passes for 176 yards against the Cincinnati Bengals. In two particular victories — against the Eagles and Redskins — he had the key touchdown grabs. Bavaro was also the club's leading receiver in the playoffs with nine receptions for 103 yards and it was his spectacular one-handed grab of an 18-yard TD pass that set the pace in the Giants' 17-3 wild card victory over the defending champion 49ers. In addition to his pass receiving, Bavaro was a ferocious blocker who had much to do with the Giants setting an alltime club record for rushing yards in a season.

COLLEGE: Mark was an All-American selection in his senior season at Notre Dame and was also voted the Offensive MVP by Notre Dame players after a year in which he had 32 receptions for 395 yards. Bavaro was the starting TE for two seasons at ND after sitting out the entire '82 season with a broken hand. He appeared in the Liberty Bowl and Aloha Bowl games with the Irish and was also chosen to play in the Hula Bowl after his senior season.

PERSONAL: Mark Anthony Bavaro was born in East Boston, Mass. on April 28, 1963, and was an all-around scholastic star at Danvers High School in Danvers, Mass. He was an All-American selection in football, won four letters in track as a high jumper, hurdler and triple jumper and won a bronze medal at 15 in a national scholastic track event in Los Angeles. Mark is married to the former Susan Downes and has a daughter, Grace, and a son, Dominick John. He has also visited many parts of the country as National Chairman of a March of Dimes fund-raising program.

ROGER BROWN

Cornerback Virginia Tech 12/26/66

6-0 196 FA-'90 2nd Year

PRO: Brown was an 8th round draft choice by the Green Bay Packers in 1990, but after enjoying a respectable pre-season, he was caught up in an overabundance of CBs with the Pack and was among their last cuts. The Giants then signed him to their practice squad, and he was subsequently activated and played in five regular season games and in all of the playoffs. He showed steady improvement along the way, and contributed on special teams as well. He finished with eight total tackles during the regular campaign, and added two more in the playoffs, while also showing that he had the ability to be a good cover man on the right corner. Has fine blend of speed and strength with 4.5 clockings and a 325-pound bench press.

COLLEGE: Roger won four varsity letters at Virginia Tech and was a starting CB for three seasons, finishing with career totals of 134 tackles, six interceptions for 102 yards returned, 12 pass breakups, and three blocked kicks. He also doubled as a punt returner with an 8.0 average, and closed his collegiate career with a bang in his last game when he had five tackles and two interceptions, one of which he returned 55 yards for a TD in a 25-23 win over North Carolina State.

PERSONAL: Roger Brown was born in Baltimore, MD on December 16, 1966, and played his scholastic sports at Cardinal Gibbons H.S. in Baltimore. He was a team MVP and All-Metro choice as a wide receiver-defensive back and also lettered four times in baseball as a centerfielder, leading that team to a pair of conference titles.

44 MAURICE CARTHON

Running Back Arkansas State 4/24/61

6-1 225 FA- '85 7th Year

PRO: Veteran workhorse fullback continued his iron-man streak in 1990, playing in all 16 games as well as the playoffs. In his six seasons with the Giants, Mo has never missed a game, except for one absence when there was a death in his family. This past year, he continued in his role as a team leader and as the premier blocking fullback in the NFL, and added 143 yards rushing and 151 on pass receiving, including a career-high 63-yarder vs. the Redskins. He was also a key man in the road to the Super Bowl XXV win as the Giants rushed for 518 yards in the three games, and added 39 more yards rushing including a one-yard TD in the playoff win over the Bears. He also had his best career rushing game in 1990, getting 67 yards on 12 carries in a win over Phoenix. In 1989, he had another vintage campaign, leading the way for Ottis Anderson as O.J. had himself a 1,000-yard rushing season. For Carthon, this made it three different halfbacks he had blocked for who came up with 1,000-yard seasons, the aforementioned Anderson, Joe Morris and Herschel Walker. And while Maurice had just 153 yards rushing of his own during the season, he had his biggest day in perhaps the Giants' biggest win of the season, the 14-7 victory over Denver in a December snowstorm in Denver. In that one, Carthon was the Giants' leading rusher and receiver with 43 yards on 11 carries and five catches for another 34 yards. Came up with his first NFL touchdowns in '88, two rushing and one receiving and continued to be a power blocker. Had 146 yards rushing for a 3.2 average and added 19 receptions for another 194 yards. After two seasons as the starting fullback, Carthon's production fell off somewhat in '87 as he started in just five games, rushing only 26 times for 60 yards and a 2.3 average and catching just eight passes for 71 yards. When he was in action, however, Carthon's powerful blocking was as solid as ever. He finished as the Giant's No. 2 rusher in 1986 with 260 yards and a 3.6 average, while adding 16 pass receptions, then added 49 yards rushing and eight more catches in the playoffs. Maurice had a busy year in 1985, first playing an entire season in the USFL, then coming to the Giants where he played in all 16 regular season games, half of those as the starting fullback. He had just 27 rushing attempts for 70 yards and added eight pass receptions for 81 yards, but that powerhouse blocking on sweeps had considerable impact on the Giants setting a one-season alltime club record for rushing yardage. Carthon was signed as a free agent just prior to training camp after spending three seasons as the starting fullback for the New Jersey Generals of the USFL. A superb blocker for those three years, Maurice also proved that he was equally as talented as a running back when given the opportunity, rushing for 1,042 yards on 238 trips for a 4.4 average and 11 rushing touchdowns in the 1983 season. That followed his rookie season harvest of 334 yards and a 3.7 average when he had but 90 carries. All told, he had more than 2,000 yards rushing in his three campaigns, a 4.2 rushing average and 20 rushing TDs, while adding more than 60 pass receptions in addition to that solid blocking prowess. He was an 8th round draft choice by the Generals in the '83 USFL draft.

COLLEGE: Maurice was a four-year letter winner at Arkansas State, and was twice named to the All-Southland Conference team, leading his club in rushing in his senior year with 682 yards. He began his collegiate career as a tight end as a freshman, then was switched to fullback in his sophomore year.

PERSONAL: Maurice Carthon was born in Chicago, Ill., on April 24, 1961, then played his scholastic sports at Osceola High School in Osceola, Ark., where he starred in football and basketball, winning state MVP honors in basketball and All-Conference honors in football. Carthon was honored this past-off-season as Man of The Year by his hometown of Osceola.

6 MATT CAVANAUGH Quarterback Pittsburgh 10/27/56 6-2 210 FA-'90 14th Year

PRO: Signed as a FA just prior to the opening of the regular season in 1990, Cavanaugh brought a wealth of NFL experience to the club as the veteran backup for Phil Simms and Jeff Hostetler. While he didn't see any action during the regular campaign, his work was invaluable during practice in not only running opposition plays, but in his knowledge of the other clubs. When Simms went down with a foot injury late in the season, Matt's role grew even more important, although he was used only once, for a series vs. the 49ers in the NFC championship game, when Hostetler was briefly knocked out of the game. A No. 2 draft choice of the New England Patriots in 1978, Matt spent five years with the Pats until he was traded to the San Francisco 49ers in 1983 for three draft choices, and after three seasons with the Niners, including their Super Bowl title in 1984, was traded to the Philadelphia Eagles for two draft choices in 1986. He spent four years with the Eagles before joining the Giants. His career totals in the NFL show 109 games played with 19 starts, and stats of 305 completions in 579 attempts for a 52.6% mark, 4,332 yards, and 28 TD passes, as well as 213 yards rushing for a 3.6 average and three TDs rushing.

COLLEGE: Matt won four varsity letters at Pitt and was a three-year starter at QB, holding several Pitt passing records, including career TD passes (31), and season TD passes (15) before they were eclipsed by Dan Marino. He was also the MVP in Pitt's Sugar Bowl win over Georgia that clinched the national title for Pitt in Matt's junior season, and in his senior year he hit 23-of-36 for 378 yards and four TDs in Pitt's Gator Bowl win over Clemson.

PERSONAL: Matthew Andrew Cavanaugh was born in Youngstown, Ohio on October 27, 1956, and was a three-sport star at Chaney H.S. in his hometown. He and his wife, Nancy, have three children, Amy, 8; Andrew, 6; and Millie, 4; and reside in Warwick, RI during the off-seasons. Matt has a degree in administration of justice, has helped coach the QBs at Pitt during spring practice, and was named National Athlete of the Year in 1986 by Special Olympics for his longtime dedication to that organization, and was saluted at a special ceremony at the United Nations in New York City.

MARK COLLINS

Cornerback Cal State-Fullerton 1/16/64
5-10 190 D-2 '86 6th Year

PRO: Mark had a banner year in 1990, despite missing three early season games with a sprained right ankle, winning All-NFC honors again as he continued his ascension as one of the top cornerbacks in the NFL. While he wasn't named to the Pro Bowl, that oversight should soon be rectified. Overall, he finished with 52 total tackles, added a pair of interceptions, a forced fumble and 11 pass breakups as opposing offenses usually steered clear of throwing into his coverage area. In the playoffs, Collins was superb. He shut down Jerry Rice of the 49ers in the NFC championship game, then was a terror against the Buffalo receivers in the Super Bowl victory, and was named Super Bowl Defensive MVP by the Sporting News. Smooth and versatile cornerback had his most productive season in 1989, starting in all 16 regular season games and in the playoffs as well. He finished the regular season with 84 total tackles, two interceptions, two fumble recoveries, one QB sack and 12 pass breakups, then added eight solo stops, an interception and four pass breakups in the playoff loss to the Rams. All of this added up to post-season honors as he was named All-NFL by both NEA and College & Pro Football Newsweekly. Mark had another solid season in '88 despite missing the last five games due to an abdominal hernia. He finished with a total of 58 tackles in his 11 appearances, while adding an interception vs. Washington, and had 13 passes defended, the second leading total on the club. Also had four kickoff returns for 67 yards. Collins enjoyed a stellar campaign in 1987, winning a starting job at the outset and playing strongly throughout the season until an injury knocked him out of the season finale vs. the Jets. Along the way, Mark led the secondary in total tackles with 60, had two pass interceptions, was in on a pair of QB sacks and showed excellent coverage and run support capabilities. Had one of his best games in victory over Cardinals when he had 10 tackles, a QB sack and an interception. A solid contributor from the start of training camp in his rookie season, Mark proved to be a valuable addition to the club. He first attracted attention when he returned a kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown in a pre-season victory over the New York Jets, then became the starting left cornerback when Elvis Patterson went down with a groin injury. Collins performed extremely well as the starter for nine games and by season's end was named to the All-NFL Rookie team by Pro Football Weekly. He finished as the second leading tackler in the secondary with a total of 60 tackles, added one interception, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery, and also did some double duty as a return man, with 11 kickoff returns for 204 yards and an 18.5 average, and three punt returns for 11 yards. He also displayed one of the season's great hustle plays when he raced 80 yards upfield on George Martin's 78-yard interception return vs. Denver to make the final block to spring Martin into the end zone. He added eight tackles in the playoffs.

COLLEGE: Collins won four varsity letters at Cal State-Fullerton, and along the way set an alltime school record with 20 career interceptions. He also set a school and Pacific Coast Athletic Association record with four interceptions in one game. He was a first-team All-American by the Sporting News in his senior year, third-team All-American by the Associated Press and a three-time All-PCAA selection as well as the PCAA Defensive Player of the Year in 1985. He was selected to play in three post-season games in that senior year, East-West Shrine, Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl and played well in all three outings. He was also elected team captain in his senior year.

PERSONAL: Mark Anthony Collins was born in St. Louis, Mo., on January 16, 1964, then starred scholastically at Pacific High School in San Bernardino, Calif., where he won 10 varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball and was team captain in all three sports. He also won the Ken Hubbs Memorial Award as the outstanding senior athlete in the San Bernardino-Colton area. Aspires for a career in acting or broadcasting when his playing days are over. This past off-season, Mark was further honored when Cal State retired his uniform number (5). He became only the second player ever to win this honor from his alma mater.

HOWARD CROSS

Alabama

8/8/67

3rd Year

PRO: Cross played in every game in 1990, including eight as the starter, and proved to be a powerful blocker, while also improving on his receiving skills. While he was primarily utilized for that ability to block, he did catch eight passes for 106 yards, and then added a TD reception in the playoff win over the Bears. He also had a big day in the Super Bowl win over Buffalo, coming up with a career-high four catches for 39 yards, with three of those grabs producing key first downs. Howard proved to be a valuable addition to the club after making the squad as a 6th round draft selection. Following up on an impressive training camp, Cross played in all 16 games during the regular season, and was the starting tight end in four games after Mark Bavaro was lost with a knee injury. Primarily a blocking tight end, Howard nonetheless came up with six receptions for 107 yards and one TD during the year, with three of those, including his 27-yard TD catch coming in a win over Seattle. He also had a pair of key receptions in the NFC East title-clinching victory over the Raiders. At season's end, Cross was rewarded for his efforts by being named to the All-NFL Rookie team by United Press International.

COLLEGE: Cross was a three-year starter at TE for Alabama, winning All-Southeastern Conference honors as a junior and then being named the winner of the Jacobs Trophy as the outstanding blocker in the SEC in his senior campaign. While primarily a blocker, Cross had 36 receptions for 384 yards and six TDs in his last two seasons, including six grabs for 81 yards and a TD in the Hall of Fame Bowl game vs. Michigan. He was also selected to play in the Senior Bowl in his final season.

PERSONAL: Howard E. Cross was born in Huntsville, Ala., on August 8, 1967 and was then a standout scholastic athlete at New Hope High School in New Hope, Ala., where he excelled in football and basketball while also earning straight A's academically. Also a leader in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

98*JOHNIE COOKS*Linebacker Mississippi St. 11/23/58*6-4 252 FA- '88 10th Year

PRO: Johnnie continued to be a valuable reserve in 1990, and in fact, had six starts at OLB when Carl Banks was down with an injury. He finished the year with a total of 35 tackles, adding a QB sack and a pass breakup as well. Had his best game in the second win over the Redskins when he led the defense with 10 total tackles. And he continued to be a solid leader as well. Veteran backer appeared in all 16 games in '89, 13 of them as a starter on the inside. He finished the campaign with 40 total tackles while adding one QB sack, one forced fumble and a pair of pass breakups, and did a solid job of playing the run. Cooks joined Giants as a free agent early in 1988 after being released by Indianapolis and appeared in 13 games, four of those as a starter in place of Lawrence Taylor and Carl Banks. In that role, he finished the year with 14 tackles, one QB sack, one forced fumble and one recovered fumble. Originally a No. 1 draft choice of the Colts, Cooks spent six seasons there as a starting OLB and over that span registered 28½ QB sacks, four fumble recoveries, one of which he returned 52 yards for a touchdown to beat the Patriots, and four pass interceptions. He missed only seven games during his seasons with the Colts and at one time had a consecutive games played streak of 58. Made the All-NFL Rookie team in 1982.

COLLEGE: Cooks won four letters at Mississippi State where he earned a degree in physical education. Recorded 373 tackles, 241 unassisted, during his career and had a career-high 24 tackles vs. Auburn in his junior season. Named to the first-team All-America by AP, NEA and Sporting News in his senior year, and was also selected to play in the Hula Bowl and Gold Bowl after senior year, as well as being named defensive MVP in 1981 Hall of Fame Bowl.

PERSONAL: Johnnie Earl Cooks was born in Leland, Miss. on November 23, 1958 and was a football and basketball star at Leland High School there. Cooks and his wife, Maggie Jo, are the parents of three children, Makesha, Joni and Johnnie Jr.

99STEVE DeOSSIE*Linebacker Boston College 11/22/62
6-2 250 T-'89 (Dallas) 8th Year

PRO: Steve had his most productive season in 1990, getting 13 starts at an inside backer slot, while appearing in every game through the regular season and the playoffs. He finished with a career-high 62 tackles to finish third among the LBs behind Pepper Johnson and Lawrence Taylor, and also added a key fumble recovery. He also continued his duties as the long snapper on special teams and was a powerhouse defender on the short-yardage defenses. The veteran linebacker was obtained in June of 1989 in a trade with the Dallas Cowboys for a 1990 draft choice and proved to be a valuable addition to the club. Despite missing seven games because of a stress fracture in his foot, Steve came up with 24 total tackles in nine games, added a key pass interception, was the long snapper on the kicking teams, and was a big play man on the short yardage and goal line defense, particularly in the stunning victory over Denver. Originally a 4th round draft choice by the Cowboys, Steve missed only one game in five years with Dallas as a key defensive reserve and special teamer. He was a starter at outside LB in 1987, and in 1988 had 43 total tackles for the Pokes. All told, during his stay with the Cowboys, DeOssie had 90 total tackles on 49 solos and 41 assists.

COLLEGE: Steve was a four-year starter at middle linebacker for Boston College, earning All-East honors twice and being named second-team AP All-American in 1983. A Co-captain in his senior year, he was the Eagles' leading tackler for three consecutive seasons and in addition to being the 4th round pick of the Cowboys, was a No. 1 selection by the New Jersey Generals of the defunct USFL in 1984.

PERSONAL: Steven Leonard DeOssie was born in Tacoma, Wash., on November 22, 1962 and was then an All-State football, basketball and baseball standout at Don Bosco High School in Roslindale, Mass. Steve is the father of three youngsters, twins Zak and Christina, and Nichole, and contrary to previously published information elsewhere, he does not indulge in the fictionalized sport of motorized hang gliding.

77*ERIC DORSEY*Defensive End Notre Dame 8/5/64
6-5 280 D-1-'86 6th Year

PRO: Eric appeared in every game in 1990, starting 11 at the defensive left end position. He finished the regular season with 34 total tackles, and also added a pass breakup. Remained one of the strongest DEs against the run in the entire league. One of the biggest losses for the Giants in 1989 was the absence of Dorsey for most of the season. The powerful starting defensive end suffered a stress fracture of the foot in the second game of the season, and was out for the remainder of the regular campaign. In those two games he did play, Dorsey had five total tackles, added a forced fumble, a fumble recovery and a blocked pass and was off to a solid start. He did return for the playoff game vs the Rams and had three tackles. Dorsey had his best year in 1988 as the starter at LDE, finishing with 69 total tackles to lead all defensive linemen. He added 3½ QB sacks, two forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries and was equally strong vs. the run. He's improved steadily and has blossomed into a really fine defensive end. Eric had a productive second season with the Giants in '87, appearing in all 12 games and sharing the starting role with the veteran George Martin at LDE. All told, he had 25 total tackles, one QB sack for 17 yards and a trio of blocked passes, and was particularly strong in short-yardage play. Dorsey spent the entire 1986 season as a reserve, appearing in every game, and saw extensive duty in short-yardage situations where he made good use of his outstanding strength and agility. He saw more and more action as the season progressed, and was outstanding in the playoffs and Super Bowl. He had seven total tackles in the playoffs in that reserve role and also registered three quarterback sacks for 32 yards in the three playoff games, getting one each in the wins over the 49ers, Redskins and Broncos. During the regular season, he registered five total tackles, but nonetheless did a solid job in those short-yardage performances. Eric also represented the club in the United Way public service commercial in 1989 and 1990.

COLLEGE: Eric won four varsity letters at Notre Dame as a nose tackle and defensive end and capped his career with the Irish by being named Defensive MVP as well as winning the Herring Trophy as the most improved player on the squad. He also won honorable mention All-American by the AP and Football News and was selected to play in the Blue-Gray game. He led his club with the most tackles by a defensive lineman in that year with 87, 15 for losses. He also had three forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries and three QB sacks in that senior campaign.

PERSONAL: Eric Hall Dorsey was born in Washington, D.C. on August 5, 1964 and starred at McLean High School in McLean, Va., where he was an All-American selection in football. All-State in wrestling with a 30-3 record in his senior year, and a record-setting performer in track where he tossed the discus 176'6½" and shot-put 57'5". The team captain in all three of those sports, Eric hails from an athletic family. His late father, Lawrence Dorsey, was a karate expert and a pitcher in the Chicago Cubs' organization, while three cousins have been collegiate stars — Robbie Hall, a fullback at Army; Rodney Williams, a sprinter at Navy; and Allen Pinkett, a halfback at Notre Dame.

92 TIM DOWNING Defensive End Washington St. 4/9/67 6-5 260 D-11 '90 1st Year

PRO: An 11th round draft choice in 1990, Tim exhibited some quality traits during the pre-season training camp and during the pre-season schedule, but nonetheless was released on the final cutdown date. He was subsequently signed to a practice squad contract, and continued to improve during the developmental stage. During that pre-season, Downing showed some pass rushing abilities when he was given the opportunity to play, and he finished the pre-season with four solo tackles as well as QB sacks vs. Houston and Cleveland. Big, agile and free-spirited, he has the potential to be an NFL player.

COLLEGE: Downing won three varsity letters at Washington State as a DE, with his career totals showing 149 total tackles, with 22 of those for losses, 11 1/2 QB sacks, and a trio each of forced fumbles and fumbles recovered. He had a fine senior year with a career high 59 tackles, including 12 for losses, and led the team with 7 1/2 QB traps, and had seven or more stops in four games vs. Oregon State, Stanford, Wyoming and Arizona.

PERSONAL: Timothy Downing is a native of Chico, CA, where he was born on April 9, 1967. He was captain, team MVP and All-Conference for two successive years at Durham High School in Durham, CA as a two-way lineman, while also winning All-League honors in basketball twice. He majored in economics at Washington State, was also captain of a swim club and had a 3.2 GPA in college. Has one brother, Troy, and two sisters, Tina and Tiffany.

26	DAVE DUERSON
Safety	Notre Dame
6-1	11/28/60
208	9th Year
FA-90

PRO: Veteran safety was a solid acquisition during the 1990 pre-season after Adrian White suffered a knee injury and was lost for the year. A four-time Pro Bowler with the Chicago Bears, Dave was a No. 3 draft choice of the Bears in 1983, and in addition to his Pro Bowl appearances, was a unanimous All-NFL choice as a free safety in 1986. With the Giants, Dave appeared in all 16 regular season games as well as the playoffs, including two starts, and also contributed on special teams. He finished the year with 44 total tackles, added a key pass interception in the end zone in a victory over Phoenix which was his 19th career swipe, and also scored his first NFL career touchdown when he scooped up a Jeff George fumble in the Monday Night win over Indianapolis and returned it 31 yards for a score. He also added three pass breakups and was a fine leader at all times, particularly with the younger defensive backs.

COLLEGE: Dave was a four-year starter and two-time All-American at Notre Dame, and set an alltime school record with 256 yards in interception returns on 12 interceptions, as well as a school mark for punt returns with 103 returns for 869 yards. He was team captain and MVP in 1982, and earned a degree in economics and communications.

PERSONAL: David Russell Duerson was born on November 28, 1960 in Muncie, Ind., and was a scholastic All-American selection at Northside High School in Muncie. Extremely diversified, Dave plays all of the brass instruments, enjoys water skiing and golf and has also shown an interest in politics, having worked in Indiana Senator Richard Lugar's Washington D.C. office in the early 1980s. He has also been active in a drug and alcohol awareness camp for youngsters, has been a sportscaster for WGN-Radio and WMAQ-TV in Chicago, and was the Traveler's NFL Man of the Year in 1987 for his numerous off-the-field contributions. Married, he and his wife, Alicia, have three sons, Chase, Tregg and Brock.

76 Tackle 6-7 305

JOHN ELLIOTT

Michigan 4/1/65 D-2 '88 4th Year

PRO: While he only appeared in eight regular season games, missing as many because of a serious leg injury, Jumbo had a dynamic, impact campaign in 1990. He started the first four games of the year, missed the next eight, then started the final four and all of the playoff games, and when he was in there, the club's mark was 10-1. He was never better than in the playoffs when in successive weeks he overpowered the Bears' Richard Dent, the 49ers Kevin Fagan and Charles Haley and then the Bills' defensive MVP Bruce Smith, coming up with pancake jobs on all of the aforementioned. While he didn't get a Pro Bowl mention or make any of the All-NFL teams, he did make the All-Madden team, and seems ready now to become one of the top offensive tackles in the league, and certainly a potential Pro Bowler. After winning the starting left tackle job in training camp, Elliott suffered back spasms sporadically through the 1989 season and thus missed three full games and parts of two others. When he was healthy, however, he played extremely well as the starter and had any number of solid performances. Big, strong and aggressive offense lineman had a productive rookie season in 1988, appearing in all 16 games and seeing action at both guard and left tackle. He had five starts at the LT position, and showed constant improvement throughout the campaign, winning All-NFL Rookie honors from Pro Football Weekly. Also saw some action at RT early in season when Karl Nelson went down with an ankle injury, and while he had some early struggles at the position, more than made up for it with his constant tenacity.

COLLEGE: Elliott reaped a myriad of honors during his career at Michigan, winning first-team All-American status in his senior year from UPI, Kodak and Walter Camp, as well as being a finalist for both the Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award. He was also a first-team All-Big 10 selection that year and was selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl at the end of the season. Also named to All Big-10 first team in his junior year, as well as to the Kodak All-American squad, and showed durability by starting 39 of his last 40 games with the Wolverines. Nicknamed "Jumbo" by coach Bo Schembechler, he once had a total of 16 knockdown "pancake" blocks in a game vs. Hawaii.

PERSONAL: John Elliott was born on April 1, 1965 in Lake Ronkonkoma, L.I., and was an All-State defensive tackle at Sachem High School on the island. In the State playoffs in his senior year, he had 19 total tackles and four QB sacks in victory over West Islip.

Defensive Tackle West Virginia 8/5/67
6-6 275 D-2 '90 2nd Year

PRO: Big Mike had a solid rookie season in 1990, appearing in all 16 regular season games and in all of the playoff action, putting in service at both DE and at nose tackle in various alignments. While he showed promise during the pre-season, registering five solo stops and a QB sack vs. Buffalo, he saw limited action during the early portion of the season, but with constant improvement was used more and more as the regular season went into the homestretch. While he had only eight solo tackles and one-and-a-half QB sacks, he nonetheless was extremely tough against the run, and put solid pressure on the QB on his pass rush. He also had a forced fumble along the way, and then played strongly in the playoffs with a pair of tackles and good QB pressures throughout. With his continuing improvement, Fox is expected to see more and more action in the future.

COLLEGE: Fox had a sparkling career at West Virginia, particularly in his senior year when he won All-American and All-ECAC honors, while also being named the MVP in the Gator Bowl and playing in the East-West Shrine game as well. He had 71 solo tackles that year, including 22 for losses, added 10 QB sacks and a pair of forced fumbles. His three-year totals showed 139 tackles, 32 for losses, 13 QB sacks, four pass breakups and a blocked punt. Mountaineer head coach Don Nehlen called Mike "the best defensive lineman I've ever had at West Virginia."

PERSONAL: Michael Fox was born on August 5, 1967 in Akron, OH and played football and basketball at Akron North High School, winning All-City and All-County honors in football as a two-way lineman, and All-City honors in basketball as a powerhouse rebounder and pivotman.

Safety Eastern Kentucky 8/26/67
6-1 205 D-8 '89 3rd Year

PRO: Guyton has enjoyed a pair of banner seasons back-to-back, initially as a strong safety, and then last season as the free safety. He has quickly gained the reputation of one of the fiercest secondary hitters in the NFL, and his jarring tackles were never more evident than in the playoffs when Myron's ferocity helped take the steam out of Buffalo receivers during the second half of the Super Bowl victory. He started every game in '90, finished with 76 tackles, two fumble recoveries, one forced fumble and 10 pass breakups in the regular season, then added 10 solo stops in the playoffs. He also had an interception vs. Dan Marino in the regular season win over Miami. Another Division 1-AA product, this 8th round draft choice also made a major impact in his rookie season, first enjoying a solid training camp to make the team, and then winning the starting job at strong safety. By season's end, Guyton had achieved any number of goals. He finished as the club's leading tackler with 99 total stops (76 solo, 23 assists), added two interceptions (vs. Detroit and the Rams) for 27 yards returned, and also led the team in fumble recoveries with three. He also finished fourth in passes defended with a total of 10 and just did a solid job all season long after beating out veteran Kenny Hill for his spot with the club.

COLLEGE: Guyton won four letters at Eastern Kentucky and was a starter all four years, the last three as a strong safety after his initial year at cornerback. In 1988, he had 81 tackles, six pass interceptions and a 12.5 punt return average as Eastern Kentucky won the Ohio Valley Conference championship, with Myron winning all-OVC mention and also getting a conference Defensive Player of the Week nod when he had eight tackles and blocked two punts in a win over Western Kentucky. Academically, he was a top student, was president of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity and vice-president of the college hall council.

PERSONAL: Myron Maynard Guyton was born on August 26, 1967 in Metcalf, Ga., then starred in football, basketball and track at Central High School in Thomasville, Ga. where he also won academic honors. Myron comes from a large family, having five brothers and two sisters.

27 RODNEY HAMPTON
Running Back Georgia 4/3/69
5-11 215 D-1 '90 2nd Year

PRO: Rodney had an extremely productive rookie season in 1990, despite the fact that he saw only limited playing time midway through the season because of a sore ankle. Completely recovered from that nagging injury, he had some big games in the stretch run, including game-high rushing totals of 78 yards in the win over the Vikings and his first 100-yard rushing game, a 105-yarder vs. Buffalo. He also had strong performances in the final two wins of the season vs. Phoenix and New England, then suffered a fractured fibula in the playoff victory against the Bears and missed the remainder of the playoffs. For the season, despite missing one game and parts of others with that sore ankle, Rodney amassed 1,069 all-purpose yards. He was the second-leading rusher with 455 yards and a 4.2 average, the third-leading receiver with 32 catches for 274 yards, and the second-leading kickoff returner with 340 yards on 20 returns. He also had a pair of rushing touchdowns vs. the Rams and Cardinals, and a pair of receiving TDs vs. the Cowboys and Eagles. The No. 1 draft choice in 1990 after he elected to enter the NFL draft after his junior season, Rodney had a spectacular Giants' debut when he raced 89 yards for a TD the first time he carried the ball in a pre-season win over the Buffalo Bills, then finished the pre-season with 170 yards rushing on just 17 attempts for a 10.0 average, while scoring four TDs during that pre-season period. Completely recovered from that fibula fracture, he has all the tools to become a premier RB in the NFL.

COLLEGE: Hampton had a powerhouse three years at Georgia, winning All-American and All-SEC honors in his junior year when he rushed for 1,059 yards and 12 TDs. His career totals also included 46 receptions and 476 yards on kickoff returns, while scoring 25 touchdowns overall. He was a National Player of the Week in 1988 when he rushed for 196 yards and two TDs in a win over Tennessee, and he also set an alltime Georgia mark for one-game all-purpose yards when he totaled 290 yards on 227 rushing, 28 receiving and 35 on returns to erase the former mark of 283 set by Herschel Walker.

PERSONAL: Rodney Hampton was born in Houston, TX, on April 3, 1969 and was a scholastic star at Kasmere High School in his hometown, winning letters in three sports. He was an All-District choice in football as both a halfback and defensive safety and in his senior season rushed for 1,310 yards and 19 touchdowns.

15 JEFF HOSTETLER

Quarterback West Virginia 4/22/61
6-3 215 D-3 '84 8th Year

PRO: One of the great success stories in all of sports in 1990 was written by Hostetler. When starter Phil Simms went down with a foot injury in Week 14, Jeff stepped in and not only led the club to a pair of regular season wins to clinch the NFC East, but then directed the team to the Super Bowl XXV title with inspired performances throughout the playoffs. He threw a pair of TD passes and rushed for another in the 31-3 win over the Bears, survived an injury in the NFC title game vs. the 49ers to hit on two key completions in that thrilling last-second 15-13 victory, and then threw 20-of-32 for 222 yards and a TD in the Super Bowl championship game. Along the way, Jeff had a career-best 47-for-87 for 614 yards and three TDs in the regular season, and then was a solid 45-for-76 for 510 yards and three TDs in the playoffs, with a QB rating of 92.5. Reserve QB saw action in all 16 games in '89, primarily as the holder on special teams, but he also stepped forward to win back-to-back games vs. the Vikings and Cardinals when Phil Simms went down with an ankle injury. In those two victories, Jeff threw TD passes in each game, and also rushed for a pair of TD's in the triumph over Phoenix. Earlier in the season, he fired another TD pass, this one coming off a fake field goal attempt vs. the Eagles. For the season, he was 20-for-39 for 294 yards and had a QB rating of 80.5, all of which were single season high-water marks for Jeff. He saw his initial NFL action as a QB in 1988, replacing Phil Simms in both Philadelphia games when Phil was forced to depart those games with injuries, and as the starter vs. New Orleans late in the year. All told, he completed 16-of-29 for 244 yards and one TD, with that TD toss covering 85 yards to Stephen Baker against the Saints. Saw action in all 16 games as the holder for place-kicks, and also caught his first NFL pass when he lined up as a WR vs. the Rams.

Jeff was active for only two games in '87, serving as the backup for Jeff Rutledge during the time that Phil Simms was out of service due to a knee injury.

COLLEGE: Jeff began his collegiate career at Penn State, then concluded his final two seasons at West Virginia where he led the Mountaineers to consecutive 9-3 seasons while completing 290 passes for 4,055 yards and 24 touchdowns. Hostetler earned All-American mentions in both of those seasons, and was an Academic All-American first-team choice after compiling a 3.92 GPA while majoring in finance. Won National Player of the Week honors in his junior season when he led West Virginia to a 41-27 upset win over Oklahoma with 17 completions for 321 yards and four TDs. Also won game MVP honors in his senior year when he led the Mountaineers to consecutive wins over nationally ranked Maryland, Boston College and Pitt. Jeff was one of 11 scholar-athletes honored by the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame, and was nominated for a Rhodes Scholarship by West Virginia. He was also selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl in his senior season.

PERSONAL: Jeff W. Hostetler was born in Johnstown, Pa., and starred in all sports at Conemaugh Township High School in Davidsville, Pa., where he was a 1,000-yard rusher as a tailback and scholastic All-American as a linebacker. He was also his high school valedictorian. Three of Jeff's brothers, Ron, Doug and Todd, earned varsity letters at Penn State. Jeff is married to the former Vicky Nehlen, daughter of West Virginia Coach Don Nehlen. Jeff was also the spokesman for the 1983 All-American Academic team, and has also become a Certified Financial Planner in the off-seasons. He and his wife, Vicky, have three children, Jason, Tyler and Justin. A visit to the White House for a State dinner and a Johnny Carson TV appearance also highlighted this last off-season.

74ERIK HOWARD*Defensive Tackle Wash. St. 11/12/64*6-4 268 D-2a '86 6th Year

PRO: Erik produced an honor-filled season in 1990, leading all of the defensive linemen in total tackles with 71 and earning his first Pro Bowl acclaim, while also being named to the All-Madden team and as an All-NFL honorable mention choice. Along the way, he had 71 total tackles as well as three QB sacks and a pair of pass breakups, while doing a top notch job on stuffing the run. He was also the club's leading tackler in the playoffs with 18 stops, including seven tackles in both the Super Bowl championship game and in the opening playoff win over the Bears. Howard had another strong year in 1989 after beating out Jim Burt for the starting job in training camp at nose tackle. He started every game and concluded with a career-high 75 total tackles to lead all down linemen on the club, while adding five-and-a-half QB sacks, a forced fumble, and a fumble recovery. He also added five tackles in the divisional playoff game vs. the Rams, and generally had a solid all-around campaign. Erik saw action in all 16 games in '88 as a swingman with Burt at nose tackle, and finished the season with 26 total tackles. He added three QB sacks for 37 yards, a pair of fumble recoveries and two blocked passes as well. Howard powered his way into some prominence in '87, seeing considerably more action than in his rookie season when he had downtime due to injury. He had four starts at nose tackle after Burt went down with a back injury, and prior to that time, had also logged heavy duty time. All told, Howard finished the season with 33 total tackles, while also accounting for 5½ QB sacks and a fumble recovery. Additionally, he blocked a punt in the season opener vs. the Bears that was recovered for a TD by Tom Flynn, and also blocked a PAT attempt vs. Washington later in the season. Big and powerful nose tackle had an auspicious rookie season, despite missing seven games with a broken hand. When he returned from that hand injury, he was the starting nose tackle in key victories over the Redskins and Cardinals when starter Burt was out with an injury, and in both of those outings, Howard was a powerful force in the middle. He finished the season with 14 total tackles and added a pair of QB sacks, then played a key reserve role in the playoffs and Super Bowl, finishing with four tackles in the playoffs, and made a couple of key defensive plays on the Giants' goal line stand in the first half of the Super Bowl triumph.

COLLEGE: Howard won four varsity letters at Washington State and concluded his collegiate career by winning All-Pac 10 first-team honors in his senior season, as well as the Morris Trophy for being named the Pac-10's Most Outstanding Defensive Lineman in 1985. He was also an honorable mention All-American by the Associated Press and was selected to play in both the Japan Bowl and Blue-Gray games that same season. All told, he had 180 career tackles, including 15 for losses and 15½ QB sacks.

PERSONAL: Erik Matthew Howard was born in Pittsfield, Mass. on November 12, 1964, then played his scholastic sports in San Jose, Calif. at Bellarmine Prep. Erik's father, Donald, is an attorney, and has three brothers, Craig, Scott and Todd, the last two also having played college football.

82*MARK INGRAM*Wide Receiver Michigan St. 8/23/65*5-11*188*D-1 '87*5th Year

PRO: Mark had his best season in 1990 as a starter, finishing with 26 catches and five TD grabs and averaging a solid 19.2 yards-per-catch. He had his top outing in a win over the Cardinals with four catches for 98 yards, including a 44-yard circus grab for a TD, then was a powerful force in the playoffs, adding 11 more receptions. He had five catches for 82 yards in the NFC title win over the 49ers, then came through with five more in the Super Bowl victory, including a magnificent effort on a third period catch when on 3rd and 13, he turned a short pass into a twisting 14-yard gain for a key, first down that set up the Giants' go-ahead TD. Key reserve receiver and kickoff return specialist appeared in all 16 games in '89, three of those as a starter, and had 17 receptions for 290 yards, and a 41-yard TD grab vs. the Philadelphia Eagles. Ingram also returned 22 kickoffs for 332 yards and added three tackles on special teams coverages. Had his best receiving games vs. the Rams and Eagles with three in each of those outings. Mark had a solid camp in 1988 and won a starting job at the outset of the regular season. After sparkling in those first three games, he broke a collarbone vs. the Rams making a circus catch and was out of action for the next nine games. He then saw only limited action, but completely recovered. He had 13 catches for 158 yards and one TD, and also had eight kickoff returns for another 129 yards in '88. The top draft pick in '87, Mark was hampered by nagging injuries in the pre-season period, but appeared in all of the pre-season games and had four receptions for 59 yards. Subsequently, he appeared in just nine regular season games after being inactive for the first three games following the players' strike, due to weight problems, and had just two receptions for 32 yards during the regular season action.

COLLEGE: Ingram had a storied career at Michigan State, winning four varsity letters in football and three in track, while winning All-Big 10 first-team honors and All-American mention in his senior year. He had 35 catches for 672 yards and five TDs in that senior year, while adding 135 yards rushing on end arounds and reverses, while also averaging 21.1 on kickoff returns. Named to both the East-West and Blue-Gray post-season games, he won MVP honors in the latter game with nine receptions for 106 yards and two TDs. He also won letters as a sprinter, high hurdler and long jumper at MSU.

PERSONAL: Mark V. Ingram was born in Rockford, Ill., on August 23, 1965, then starred at Northwestern High School in Flint, Mich. where he was an All-State quarterback, outstanding track star and honors student with a 3.17 GPA. A Communications major at Michigan State, Mark would like to pursue a career in broadcasting or journalism when his playing days are concluded.

CLINT JAMES

LSU

4/17/67

1st Year

PRO: James was a 9th round draft choice last year and performed well during the training camp and in pre-season play. He suffered a deep hamstring injury in the final pre-season outing, and then spent the rest of the year on injured reserve. Completely healed now, he should be ready to make a strong bid again this coming year in training camp. During last year's pre-season, Clint finished with eight solo tackles and added a pass breakup, while also coming up with good pressure on the QB when he had the chance to play.

COLLEGE: Clint won four letters and was a two-year starter at DE with the powerful LSU defense, winning honorable mention All-American in his senior season when he had 63 tackles, nine for losses, and six QB sacks despite missing two games with injuries. His complete career totals were 131 tackles, 22 for losses, and 10 QB sacks, and he also had 16 pass breakups and a blocked field goal attempt.

PERSONAL: Clint James was born in New Orleans, LA, on April 17, 1967, and won All-State honors in his senior year at McDonogh High School in New Orleans. He was also team captain and MVP that year, and lettered for three years in basketball as well. Clint comes from a family of seven children, is a big fan of all video games, and majored in physical education at LSU.

GREG JACKSON
LSU 8/20/66
D-3(A) '89 3rd Year

PRO: Jackson enjoyed a strong season in 1990 as the starting strong safety. He led all of the defensive backs with 87 total tackles, finished second in interceptions with five, added four QB sacks and a pair of forced fumbles and was second in pass breakups with a total of 11. He was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week in a 24-20 win over the Redskins when he had a pair of interceptions and seven tackles, with the second swipe killing the Skins' final possession. Two weeks later he added an end zone interception vs. the Redskins again, this one insuring a 21-10 victory. Greg was also solid in the playoffs, coming up with 12 total tackles to share the lead in that department with Mark Collins. Greg was another rookie draft choice who performed well in 1989, first making his mark in pre-season games, and then appearing in all 16 regular season outings, initially as a starter at strong safety and then as a reserve in the nickel package. He showed his agility with a one-handed interception in a pre-season win over the Kansas City Chiefs, then registered 25 total tackles as a player in the nickel and on special teams, while also recording a forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

COLLEGE: Jackson won All-Southeast Conference first-team honors, as well as third-team All-American in 1988 when he led the nation in interception return yardage with 219 on seven swipes. That same year, he had two touchdowns on interception returns, one for 100 yards vs. Mississippi State and the other for 71 yards vs. Tulane. His four-year stats at LSU showed 199 total tackles, 11 interceptions for 260 yards returned, three TDs on interception returns and a 10.1 punt return average. A team captain in his senior year, he was also selected to play in the Senior Bowl.

PERSONAL: Greg Allen Jackson was born in Hialeah, Fla., on August 20, 1966, and was a standout scholastic player at Miami American High School in his hometown where he began his career as an All-City quarterback before making the switch to safety in college. He was also a fine Little League baseball player.

PEPPER JOHNSON

Ohio State 6/29/64
D-2b '86 6th Year

PRO: Johnson had his premier season in 1990, earning his first Pro Bowl designation as well as being a unanimous All-NFL first-team choice by virtually every post-season poll. Along the way, he had a career-high 119 tackles to lead the club, added 3 1/2 QB sacks, three forced fumbles, one fumble recovery, his sixth career interception, and seven pass breakups. He was just as prolific in the playoffs, adding 14 tackles, and was also named to the All-Madden team for the first time. Pepper was a holdout during training camp and the early part of the regular season in '89, then returned and appeared in 14 games, four of those as a starter at inside backer. After leading the team in tackles in 1988, Pepper finished seventh with a total of 64. He added one QB sack along the way, a fumble recovery and seven pass breakups, and also had his best season in interceptions with three for 60 yards returned, including a 39-yard touchdown return in the win over the Vikings. His other swipes came vs. Phoenix and Philadelphia. A starter at inside backer for the second straight year, Johnson enjoyed a pair of "firsts" in 1988. With 93 total tackles, he led the club in that department for the first time, and he also scored his initial NFL touchdown vs. the Rams when he returned an interception 33 yards to paydirt. Additionally, he had four QB sacks, two forced fumbles, one fumble recovery and five passes defended in an all-around solid campaign. Johnson moved into a starter's job at inside backer in 1987 when incumbent Gary Reasons was a training camp holdout. He subsequently started all 12 regular season games during the campaign and finished as the club's third-leading tackler with 75 total tackles, and added one QB sack, one recovered fumble and a pair of forced fumbles in a strong showing. Nicknamed "Pepper," Johnson enjoyed a solid rookie season in 1986 as a reserve inside linebacker, appearing in every game throughout the regular season and playoffs. A key special teams' player as well, Pepper finished the regular season with a total of 37 tackles, added a pair of quarterback sacks and a 13-yard interception return which set up a TD vs. Green Bay. Johnson then added seven more tackles in the playoffs and came up with a 27-yard interception return which set up a TD in the opening playoff triumph over the San Francisco 49ers.

COLLEGE: Pepper was a four-letter winner with the Buckeyes, was a starter for three of those seasons, team MVP on defense in both 1984 and '85, and team defensive captain in both of those seasons as well. He was twice named to the All-Big 10 team, and won first-team All-American honors in his senior year from the Football News and from UPI. During his career at Ohio State, Pepper was named Defensive Player of the Game an amazing 16 times, and was also selected to play in the Japan Bowl at the end of his senior year.

PERSONAL: Thomas Johnson was born in Detroit, Mich., on June 29, 1964, and won All-State and All-Metro scholastic honors at MacKenzie High School in Detroit. The nickname "Pepper" came from an aunt who watched young Thomas sprinkle pepper on his cereal as a youngster. A bachelor, Pepper lists reading, music and basketball as his favorite hobbies, and he has two sisters and a brother. Johnson has also been extremely active in off-season youth-oriented projects in the Detroit area with former Buffalo Bill Reggie McKenzie, and has been honored for those special efforts. He's also the organizer and coach of the Giants' off-season hoop squad.

THOM KAUMEYER
Oregon
FA-'91
3/17/67
3rd Year

PRO: Kaumeyer was obtained from the Seattle Seahawks during this past off-season in the Plan B process after spending parts of two seasons with the Seahawks as a reserve safety and special teams player. Originally a 6th round draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams in 1989, Thom was one of the last Ram cuts that year and was signed as an FA by Seattle shortly thereafter. He spent most of that year on the developmental squad but was activated and saw action vs. the Redskins that year. In 1990, he saw action in the first seven games, recording a total of eight tackles as a reserve safety and special teamer, then suffered a knee injury and was inactive for the rest of the season.

COLLEGE: Began his collegiate career at Palomar Junior College, then went on to Oregon where he won two letters as a starting safety, winning first-team All-Pac 10 in his senior year, as well as All-Conference academic honors. Selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl that year, he had 169 total tackles in his two seasons as well as three interceptions.

PERSONAL: Thom E. Kaumeyer was born in La Jolla, CA on St. Patrick's Day, 1967, and starred in football at San Diequito H.S. in Encinitas, CA where he also earned academic honors. He's a newlywed as of this past June 1, and lists music and basketball as his favorite hobbies.

61BOB KRATCH*Guard*Iowa*1/6/66*6-3*288*D-3 '89*3rd Year

PRO: Bob enjoyed a very strong season in 1990, seeing action in every game, both in the regular season and the playoffs. He had 10 starts at RG along the way as the fill-in for Eric Moore when Moore moved to LT in the absence of Jumbo Elliott. Did solid work throughout the year at RG and also continued to see plenty of action in goalline and short yardage situations. When Moore was injured in the first half of the Super Bowl victory over Buffalo, Kratch went the rest of the way at RG and played extremely well. Kratch was enjoying a highly productive training camp in his rookie season in 1989 and had seen considerable playing time in the pre-season games, so much so that he was making a strong bid to win a job as a starting right guard. He then suffered a broken thumb and was placed on the injured list for the first seven weeks of the season. When he finally was recovered sufficiently, he saw action late in the season as a reserve guard and short yardage player, and had one start vs. the Eagles. His power blocking was as good as ever, and he finished the season on a positive note.

COLLEGE: Bob was a first-team All-Big 10 choice in his senior year at Iowa, while also gaining All-American honorable mention. Such was his versatility with the Hawkeyes that he also won All Big 10 honors as a tackle (1988) and as a guard (1986) after missing most of his 1987 season with a broken leg. All told, Kratch was a starter at either guard or tackle in 36 of the 43 career games he appeared in at Iowa. He was also a team captain and played in the East-West Shrine Game.

PERSONAL: Robert A. Kratch was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. on January 6, 1966, then grew up in nearby Mahwah, N.J. where he won numerous All-State and All-Conference honors at Mahwah High School when that team won a state championship in 1982. He also holds the Mahwah school record for the discus throw in track. Bob is married and still resides in Mahwah.

5*SEAN LANDETA*Punter*Towson State*1/6/62*6-0*200*FA '85*7th Year

PRO: Sean had another banner season in 1990 winning All-NFL honors for a third time, while also gaining Pro Bowl honors for a second time, and winning the NFC punting title for a second time with his 44.1 average on 75 punts. He also had the longest punt in the NFC, a 67-yarder vs. Minnesota. He also had 24 punts inside-the-20 to match his career high in 1986. He also had 10 punts for a 42.1 average in the playoffs, including a 55-yarder in the Super Bowl win. After a contract dispute in 1988, followed by a back injury which caused him to miss 15 games that season, Landeta bounced back in 1989 and was a unanimous All-NFL selection, winning those honors from AP, UPI, The Sporting News and Pro Football Weekly among others. For the season, Sean averaged 43.1 on 70 punts, with his 37.8 net punting average the best in the entire NFL despite the fact that he operates in a cold weather, open stadium. One of his best efforts helped save the 14-7 win over Denver in a snowstorm when he boomed a 54-yarder for no return in the final minutes of play. Landeta also had the distinction of being named the NFL punter on the All-1980s team, selected by the Pro Football Writers Association. Landeta had the lowest punting average of his tenure with the Giants in 1987, but nonetheless had a 42.7 average while doing almost all of his kicking in outdoor stadia and in cold weather situations. Suffered his first NFL blocked punt vs. New Orleans, and also saw two of his punts returned for touchdowns, which marked the first time that had happened to him as a Giant. Also came up with three tackles on punt coverages in '87, and showed his sheer leg power in a pre-season outing vs. the Patriots when he punted five times for an awesome 56.4 average. Sean had a powerful season in 1986, leading the NFC in punting average with a 44.8 mark, and in net punting average with a 37.1 record. For those exploits, he was named to the All-NFL first-team as a punter, and also earned his first Pro Bowl designation. He was also among the league leaders in punts inside the 20 with a total of 24. Landeta wrested the punting job from the veteran Dave Jennings in '85 after coming over from the USFL. He was among the league leaders in punting average for most of the year, then tailed off somewhat towards the end, but nonetheless finished with a 42.9 average on 81 punts and was named to the second-team All-NFC team by UPI and to the All-NFL Rookie team by Football Digest. He had particularly big days vs. St. Louis and Washington when he averaged 49.2 and 51.3 respectively. Landeta was signed as a free agent after finishing a three-year career in the USFL with the Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars. A steady and consistent performer with the Stars, Sean was a clutch kicker in the Stars' championship games in 1983 and 1984, averaging 52.5 in the former game and 53.0 in the '84 title outing. He also set a regular season one-game punting average mark vs. Arizona in '84 when he had a 52.3 average. He was also named to the All-USFL team in '84 when he led the league in net punting average with a 38.2 mark and led the league in punts inside the 20-yard line with 31 in the '83 season. He was a 14th round selection by the Stars in 1983.

COLLEGE: Three-year letterman at Towson State, Sean led the nation in Division II punting in 1980 with a 43.4 average, while also kicking 14 field goals. He was also in the Division II's top five punters in 1981 and 1982, with averages of 41.1 in '81 and a 44.7 mark in '82. He was a three-time All-ECAC choice at Towson, and was a Kodak Division All-American and AP Little All-American in 1982.

PERSONAL: Sean Landeta was born on January 6, 1962 in Baltimore, Md., and is working on a degree in communications at Towson State during the off-season.

70 LEONARD MARSHALL

Defensive End LSU 10/22/61
6-3 285 D-2 '83 9th Year

PRO: Leonard got off to a relatively slow start in 1990, but as the season progressed, the big man got it into high gear and was a powerful presence during the crucial stretch run. He finished the season with 41 total tackles and added 4½ QB sacks to run his Giants' career total to 65½, which ranks second in club records to Lawrence Taylor. In the playoffs, Marshall was even more a force, finishing with 10 total tackles and adding three QB sacks and two forced fumbles. His biggest play was the thunderous sack of Joe Montana in the NFC Championship game that knocked the 49er QB out of the game with multiple injuries. In that big win, Marshall won NFL Defensive Player of the Week honors for his four tackles, two QB sacks and two forced fumbles. Then in the Super Bowl victory over the Bills, Marshall had three stops and another QB sack on Jim Kelly to finish his year with a flourish. Former Pro Bowl and All-NFL selection had a solid season in 1989 after a nagging groin injury had limited his production in the previous campaign and had snapped a consecutive game starting streak which had reached 71 games. In 1989, Leonard once again started all 16 games and finished the year with 58 total tackles, while adding 9½ QB sacks. Marshall also became only the second Giant player to register more than one career safety when he sacked Seattle's Kelly Stouffer for a safety. Jim Katcavage (1956-68) is the other player with multi-safeties, with his career total at three. Marshall also came up with a pair of forced fumbles, a fumble recovery and four blocked passes during the year. Before suffering a dislocated wrist while sacking Cardinals' QB Neil Lomax late in the season, Marshall had started every game in '87 to run his string to 71 consecutive starts dating back to late in his rookie campaign. In those 10 outings in 1987, Marshall led all defensive linemen with 45 total sacks and added eight QB sacks. Big Leonard had another banner season in 1986, winning his second straight trip to the Pro Bowl and winning All-NFL honors for a second time as well. Both honors were well deserved as the big man racked up a total of 60 tackles on the season and added 12 quarterback sacks to finish second to Lawrence Taylor in that department. Leonard also tied for the club lead in fumble recoveries with three, and in forced fumbles with three, and also came up with his second pass interception in as many seasons. He continued those efforts in the playoffs and Super Bowl, leading all defensive linemen with 11 total tackles, adding a QB sack in the NFC championship game vs. the Redskins, then getting a pair of sacks on John Elway in the Super Bowl victory. Marshall had a slam-bang year in '85, setting a club record with 15½ quarterback sacks . . . earning first-team All-NFC and second-team All-NFL recognition . . . being voted to his first Pro Bowl as a starter . . . and also being named the NFC Defensive Lineman of the Year by the NFLPA. He started the season off with a bang by registering 10 tackles and three QB sacks against the Eagles in a 21-0 victory. He had plenty of other big days along the way as well, including another three-QB sack game in the second victory over the Eagles. All told, Leonard had 77 tackles for the season, then came up with another big effort in the playoff win over the 49ers when he had six tackles and a big 13 yard QB sack on Joe Montana. He also came up with his first interception during the year when he batted a pass attempt into the air vs. New Orleans, then picked it off and rumbled three yards with the ball. Leonard had a strong season in 1984, particularly during the second half of the season and into the playoffs. As the starting right defensive end, he had 44 tackles during the regular campaign, including 7½ QB sacks and two forced fumbles. He had particularly good games in the second win over the Cowboys when he was in on three QB sacks and kayoed Danny White with one of them, and in the win over the Jets when he had a pair of QB traps. Then in the playoffs, he had big games in both of those outings, particularly in the victory over the Rams when he had five big solo stops, four of them for losses, including his key stop on Dwayne Crutchfield for a 3-yard loss late in the game which forced the Rams to settle for a FG, instead of taking the lead. In his rookie year, Leonard had his early progress slowed by being overweight in the early stages of pre-season training camp, but once he got down to business and got into shape, he continued to improve in all aspects of the game. He eventually won the starting job at defensive RE for the final six games of the season and played strongly as a starter, registering 27 tackles in those starts, including getting in on one QB sack and registering a safety against the Super Bowl champion Los Angeles Raiders when he tackled QB Jim Plunkett in the end zone.

COLLEGE: A three-year starter at LSU, Leonard showed marked improvement in each of his campaigns in college, leading the Tigers in tackles for losses in both his junior and senior seasons, and also led that highly rated defensive unit in QB sacks in each of those two years.

PERSONAL: Leonard Allen Marshall was born in Franklin, La., on October 22, 1961 and was a powerhouse scholastic player at Franklin High School as a two-way tackle, winning both All-Conference and All-State honors, registering 16 QB sacks in his senior year. Leonard is related to two former NFL players, Ernie Ladd of Houston and Warren Wells of the Raiders. Married, Leonard and his wife, Annette, reside in Mahwah, N.J. in the off-season. Leonard is also extremely active in many charity works and serves as a national co-chairman for the Leukemia Society. He personally ran a golf tourney this past off-season which raised considerable monies and has also worked for Special Olympics and Cystic Fibrosis groups. He has also been selected to represent the Giants in the 1991 United Way public service commercials.

57 LAWRENCE McGREW
Linebacker Southern Cal 7/23/57
6-6 250 FA-'90 11th Year

PRO: Veteran LB signed as a FA with the Giants during the 1990 season after being released by the Cleveland Browns. He appeared in 11 regular season games and through the playoffs, and had one start as a dependable reserve and special teams' contributor. Originally a No. 2 draft choice of the New England Patriots in 1980, he spent virtually all of his career with New England, then went to the Browns in early 1990 as a Plan B free agent. While with the Pats, McGrew was a starting OLB throughout his tenure, and finished with career totals of 734 total tackles, 14½ QB sacks, 11 forced fumbles, five recovered fumbles, 21 pass breakups, five interceptions and two blocked punts. His top years were in 1984 when he had a career high 167 tackles, and in 1985, when he led the club with 92 stops in their Super Bowl season.

COLLEGE: Lawrence began his collegiate career at Contra Coast Junior College, then starred at USC for two years where he earned a degree in speech communications. Had 138 total tackles in those two seasons, and was defensive MVP in 1979. Started in two Rose Bowl games, and was also selected to play in the 1980 Japan Bowl.

PERSONAL: Lawrence McGrew was born in Berkeley, CA, on July 23, 1957 and starred in football and basketball at Berkeley High School, winning All-Conference honors in both sports. He and his wife, Elaine, have three children, Lawrence Jr., 9; Analeise Noel, 7; and Aaron Anthony, 2. The McGrews still reside in Berkeley in the off-seasons.

30*RB-Returner*5-7*180*DAVID MEGGETT*Towson State 4/30/66*D-5 '89*3rd Year

PRO: Meggett had a second straight major season in 1990, winning All-NFL honors from AP, PFWA and the Sporting News as the return specialist, and also gaining similar honors in All-NFC and the All-Madden teams. He won the NFC kickoff return title with his 23.4 average, and just missed a double when he finished second in punt returns with his 10.9 average. All told,

David amassed 1,533 all-purpose yards during the year, and led the club in receiving with 39 receptions. He also had his second punt return for a TD in two seasons when he blazed one back for 68 yards in the season opening win over the Eagles. Then when Rodney Hampton went down in the opening game of the playoffs, Meggett added yet another dimension vs. the 49ers and Bills, getting more action as a running back, and responding with 102 yards rushing and a 4.9 average, including 48 yards in the Super Bowl victory. The Giants found themselves a diamond in the rough with their 5th round draft pick in 1989, selecting the 5-7 Meggett out of Division I-AA Towson State. By season's end, the dynamic Meggett had amassed 1,807 all-purpose yards for an average of 113 per game, set an alltime club record in punt returns, was selected to play in the Pro Bowl and was named to the All-NFL team as a return specialist by Pro Football Weekly, the Pro Football Writers, and by several other publications. He was also named to a host of All-NFL Rookie teams, won the NFLPA's Special Teams Player of the Year Award and added 63 yards and a TD catch for the NFC in the Pro Bowl game in Hawaii. Dave finished the year with 582 yards in punt returns for a new alltime one-season club record, and also set an alltime mark with his 12.7 average-per-return. He had a 76-yard return for a TD vs. the Raiders and that was the third longest in club history. As a receiver, he finished second on the club with 34 receptions, with four of those going for TDs, including romps of 62 yards vs. the Redskins, 57 for the clinching TD vs. the Broncos, 53 vs. the 49ers, and 33 in a win over the Cowboys. He additionally had a 4.2 rushing average as a third-down back, finishing with 117 yards rushing. All in all, it was a stunning rookie season.

COLLEGE: Meggett is the only player in NCAA history to have been elected team captain at two different four-year colleges, winning the first honor as a sophomore defensive back at Morgan State, and then getting the same honor at Towson State after his transfer to that school where he made the switch to running back and return specialist. At Morgan State, Dave won All-Conference honors as a DB with 70 tackles and five interceptions, then piled up the offensive awards at Towson State where he was the 1987 NCAA Division all-purpose yardage leader with an average of 199 yards per game. In 1988 he was a Division All-American selection and also won the Walter Payton Award as Division I-AA Player of the Year. Also named to play in the Senior Bowl against Division I players, he won the MVP Award for the North squad in that game.

PERSONAL: David Lee Meggett was born on April 30, 1966 in Charleston, S.C. and was an All-Conference high school star in two sports at Bonds-Wilson High School in his hometown, the same high school that produced Raiders' head coach Art Shell. Dave has four brothers and two sisters.

JAMES MILLING
Maryland 2/14/65
FA-'91 3rd Year

PRO: Milling was obtained during the Plan B period this past off-season from the Atlanta Falcons where he had been an 11th round draft choice in 1988. He spent the first half of that rookie season on injured reserve, then was activated and had five catches for 66 yards in the final six games of the season. Released in 1989, he returned to the Falcons in 1990 and saw considerable action as a reserve wideout, catching 18 passes for 161 yards and one touchdown.

COLLEGE: James had a solid career at Maryland, earning four letters and winning All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors in 1987. Along the way he set a Terp school record when he had five catches for 220 yards and three TDs (88, 77 and 18 yards) vs. North Carolina in 1986. All told, he had 82 catches for 1,472 yards and seven TDs at Maryland.

PERSONAL: James Thomas Milling Jr. was born in Winnsboro, SC on February 14, 1965, but grew up in Washington D.C. where he starred in football, basketball and track at Potomac H.S. in Oxon Hill, MD. He also earned All-Academic honors in high school and earned his B.A. degree from Maryland as well. His dad, James, Sr., is a fireman in Washington, D.C., and two brothers, Kent and Tony, are policemen in the District of Columbia.

60*Guard*6-5*290*ERIC MOORE*Indiana*1/21/65*D-1 '88*4th Year

PRO: Eric's versatility was a key factor in 1990 as he was the starting RG for half of the year, and then moved to LT as the starter there when Jumbo Elliott was out of action for eight weeks with a leg injury. He was obviously a key figure as the Giants found great success in the ball-control offense all season long, and he has also become a solid pass-blocker. In 1989, Moore had much the same type of season, seeing work at both RG and at LT when injuries caused a shuffling of linemen, and this versatility has been indicative of the ever-improving talents of Moore. Down the road, he more than likely will settle in at RG which seems to be his strongest position at this time. The club's top draft choice in 1988, Moore's progress was delayed somewhat when he was late reporting to training camp, and consequently he was on the inactive list for the start of the season. He soon rounded into top condition and won the starting right guard job when Damian Johnson was injured. Eric then was the starter for the final 10 games of the season, and progressed solidly, winning All-NFL Rookie honors from Pro Football Weekly at season's end. Extremely smooth and agile for a big man, he improved week by week during the rookie campaign, and also participated in the off-season workout program.

COLLEGE: Moore began his collegiate career at Northeast Oklahoma A&M Junior College, then made the transfer to Indiana where he won three varsity letters and was a starting tackle for 34 consecutive games thereafter. Won first-team All-American and All-Big 10 honors in his senior season and was also selected to play in both the East-West Shrine game and Japan Bowl at season's end. Was named Indiana's Outstanding Lineman in 1987 after being chosen as the school's MVP Offensive Player in 1986.

PERSONAL: Eric Moore was born on January 21, 1965 in St. Louis, Mo., and was an outstanding scholastic star at Berkeley High School in his hometown. He earned a degree in general studies and criminal justice at Indiana. Eric and his wife, Vanessa, reside in Wayne, New Jersey and both are licensed insurance brokers.

80*Tight End*6-5*260*BOB MROSKO*Penn State*11/13/65*FA-'90*3rd Year

PRO: Big and strong reserve TE saw action in every game in 1990, primarily in the role of a blocker and in short-yardage situations. He had only three catches for 27 yards, but one of those resulted in his first NFL touchdown, a 7-yard strike from Phil Simms in a win over the Cowboys. He added just one catch in the playoffs, but that was a key reception for a first down in the win over the Bears. He also had a key block on an Ottis Anderson TD run in the Super Bowl win over the Bills. Obtained in 1990 from the Houston Oilers in the Plan B period, Mrosko was a 9th round draft choice by the Oilers in 1989. As a two-way player at Penn State, Mrosko was both a tight end and a defensive end during his career with the Nittany Lions, but was strictly a TE during his rookie campaign in Houston. In fact, he won the starting job early in the season in the run-oriented Oiler offense, and was the starter for the final 13 games of the season. He had just three receptions for 28 yards, but was a key blocker in the Oiler offensive scheme.

COLLEGE: Mrosko won three varsity letters at Penn State as a versatile and unselfish player who shuttled back and forth between the TE and DE positions. As a senior, he started eight games on defense and had 27 total tackles, a pair of QB sacks and a fumble recovery. As a junior, he saw action in every game as a blocking tight end, a position he also spent the most time at during his sophomore year. His two-year receiving totals were eight catches for 93 yards. Earned a B.S. degree in sport science at Penn State.

PERSONAL: Robert Allen Mrosko was born in Cleveland, Ohio on November 13, 1965 and was a two-sport standout at Wickliffe High School in Ohio in football and basketball, winning All-State honors in football as a defensive end, linebacker and tight end. He lists hunting, fishing and golf as his favorite hobbies.

65	BART OATES
Center	Brigham Young
12/16/58
6-3	265
FA-'85	7th Year

PRO: Ironman center and offensive line leader had his most rewarding season in 1990, not only winning All-NFC honors, but being named to the Pro Bowl for the first time in his NFL career. Along the way, Bart has now reached a particular milestone in that he has appeared in all 100 regular and playoff games for the Giants since joining the team in 1985, and also has a current string of 99 consecutive games as the starting center.

As the leader and signal-caller of the offensive line unit, Bart had much to do with the overall success of last year's ball-control offense which also set an all time Super Bowl record of 40:33 time of possession vs. Buffalo. As the offensive line signal-caller, Bart has been the key man in that offensive line blocking which has led the way for 1,000-yard rushing seasons by Joe Morris (85-86-88) and Otis Anderson (89) in the past six years. In 1987, he was a Pro Bowl alternate for the second year in a row and was a virtual ironman, handling the long snaps as well as all of the center responsibilities, and even came up with four tackles on kick coverages. Oates was rock solid at center for the Giants in '86, playing virtually every minute of the season, as well as handling all of the long-snap duties. A heady player and powerful blocker, he was the anchorman for this unit which excelled over the campaign. At season's end, he was named as a Pro Bowl alternate and also won All-NFL honorable mention from the AP. Bart was signed as a FA by the Giants during the 1985 pre-season after spending three seasons in the USFL with Philadelphia/Baltimore where he won All-League honors twice. After making his debut with the Giants late in the pre-season, Oates moved in as the starting center for the final 14 games of the regular season and for both of the playoff games and by season's end, his work was so productive that he was a unanimous choice for the All-NFL Rookie team.

COLLEGE: Oates was a three-year starter at center for Brigham Young and was named to the All-Western Athletic Conference first team in his senior year, as well as to the second-team All-American by both AP and NEA. Twice an Academic All-American in '82 and '83, he was also selected to play in the Blue-Gray, East-West Shrine and Senior Bowl games after that senior season. He was a second round USFL draft pick.

PERSONAL: Bart Steven Oates was born in Mesa, Ariz., on December 16, 1958, then was an outstanding student-athlete at Albany High School in Albany, Ga. Bart's older brother, Brad, is a former NFL and USFL player. Bart received his degree from Brigham Young and has recently earned his law degree from Seton Hall University. He and his wife, Michelle, and two sons live in River Vale, NJ. Bart also passed the New Jersey Bar examination in 1990 and is now a fulltime attorney for the firm of Ribis, Graham & Curtin in Morristown, N.J. He and his wife are also extremely active in many charity organizations, particularly the Colleen Giblin Foundation for children with cancer.

55 GARY REASONS
Linebacker N.W. Louisiana St. 2/18/62
6-4 235 D-4A '84 8th Year

PRO: While his role was chiefly in situational defensive alignments, Gary had yet another strong campaign in 1990, appearing in every game and finishing the year with 49 total tackles, while also leading the club in fumble recoveries with three. He also had a career-high three interceptions to run that career total to 10, with a pair coming in a win over the Rams, and the other stopping a late drive in the victory over the Vikings. He also had a career-high nine pass breakups. In the playoffs, Gary was the leading tackler among the linebackers with 14 stops, including six solos in the Super Bowl win, but perhaps his biggest play came in the NFC title win over the 49ers when on fourth and two, he took the snap on a fake punt and rolled 30 yards for a first down which set up a Matt Bahr FG late in the game. Veteran inside backer and signal-caller had another strong campaign in 1989, finishing as the third-leading tackler with a total of 85. He also added other key stats such as an interception which he returned 40 yards vs. the Cowboys, a safety when he sacked Cardinals' QB Gary Hogeboom in the end zone, a forced fumble, a QB sack and four blocked passes. He also came up with a highlight film tackle in the 14-7 win over the Broncos in a Denver snowstorm when he blasted Bobby Humphrey so hard for a one-yard loss on fourth and goal that Humphrey's earpiece flew completely out of his helmet. In that same game, Gary also had a rushing attempt for two yards, which was good for a first-down on a fake punt. Made solid comeback in '88 after an off-year in 1987. Appeared in all 16 games, including six as a starter and had 57 total tackles on the year. Also came up with key pass interception in win over New Orleans and had five blocked passes during year as well as one fumble recovery. A special teams' leader as well, he had a blocked punt vs. the Redskins in season opener which was returned for a touchdown. Reasons missed all of training camp and the pre-season in 1987 because he was a contract holdout. When he finally returned, he appeared in just 10 games and had lost his inside starting linebacker spot to Pepper Johnson. He saw increased action as a reserve late in the year and finished with 16 total tackles and one QB sack. Strong, steady and heady inside linebacker enjoyed a solid season in 1986 as the starting inside man next to Harry Carson. In his third season as a starter, Gary finished with 96 total tackles, came up with a pair of pass interceptions and had a forced fumble. He continued his excellence in the post-season games, finishing as the club's third-leading tackler in the playoffs with 17 stops, and was outstanding in the NFC championship game victory over the Redskins when he had 12 tackles, a QB sack on Jay Shroeder and an interception. Gary enjoyed a solid season in '85, starting every game in the regular season and playoffs, and finishing as the third leading tackler on the unit with 90 total tackles behind Pro Bowlers Lawrence Taylor and Harry Carson. Along the way, Gary added a pass interception vs. the Packers, was in on a QB sack, had two forced fumbles and had a partially blocked punt vs. the Eagles on special teams' duty. He had 14 total tackles in the playoffs and continued to give the club aggressive and heady defensive play all year long. Gary had a solid rookie season at inside linebacker, being named to virtually all of the All-NFL Rookie teams at season's end. The big rookie first made his presence felt in a 16-9 pre-season win over the Pittsburgh Steelers when he had 12 tackles and two interceptions, the second of which came in the end zone to save the victory. He saw reserve action in the first part of the season, then won the starting job and remained as a starter alongside Harry Carson for the remainder of the year and through the playoffs. He finished with 76 tackles in the regular season, added a QB sack, two interceptions, and led the defense with three fumble recoveries. He also topped the club in total tackles for one game, registering 17 in the 20-10 win over the New York Jets, and both of his regular season interceptions were crucial ones, coming in key situations in victories over Atlanta and St. Louis. Gary was also outstanding in the playoffs, finishing with 14 tackles in the two games, and had a top performance against the 49ers in the divisional playoff with eight tackles, two interceptions on Joe Montana, and three pass deflections.

COLLEGE: Reasons was a small school terror who became the first player in Division I-AA history to win first-team All-American honors for three consecutive years. He was only the third player in Northwest Louisiana State's history to have his jersey retired, and he was chosen as the Most Valuable Defensive Player in the state of Louisiana in his senior year, including every major college in the state. Gary finished his college career with 394 total tackles, 30 for losses, five interceptions, two fumble recoveries and 10 deflected passes. Also team captain and MVP in his senior year, he set a school record with 172 tackles in his final season, including 24 in one game.

PERSONAL: Gary Phillip Reasons was born in Chicago, Ill., but grew up in Crowley, Tex., where he was a standout in football, basketball and baseball at Crowley H.S. where he was also a member of the National Honor Society with a 3.45 GPA. Majored in business administration in college where he also won Honor Roll status with a 3.0 GPA and earned a B.S. degree. Gary is married to the former Terri Matthews and has a young son, Nicholas Ryan, and two daughters, Randi, and Lacy.

64*Guard-Tackle*TOM REHDER*Notre Dame*1/27/65*6-7*290*FA '90*4th Year

PRO: Veteran offensive lineman joined the Giants as a free agent after being released by the New York Jets late in the pre-season. He originally was a No. 3 draft choice of the New England Patriots in 1988 and spent two seasons with the Pats, appearing in all 32 regular season games there as a backup guard-tackle and as a member of the special teams units. He even had one kickoff return for 14 yards in 1989 vs. the Dolphins. He signed with the Jets as a Plan B free agent, was released, signed by the Giants and appeared in eight games with the Giants as a reserve lineman and special teamer.

COLLEGE: Tom began his collegiate career at Notre Dame as a defensive tackle, then switched to tight end in his soph season, catching 13 passes for 182 yards and one TD as the starting TE in nine games. He then switched to a third position, offensive left tackle, and was the starter there for his final two campaigns, receiving high coaching grades for each of those two seasons.

PERSONAL: Thomas Bernard Rehder II was born on January 27, 1965 in Sacramento, CA, and was an All-Conference two-way lineman and tight end in football and as a basketball player as well at St. Joseph's High School in Santa Maria, CA. He graduated with a degree in economics and business administration from Notre Dame, lists hunting, outdoor sports and fixing antique cars as his favorite hobbies. He and his wife, Nancy, reside in Nipomo, CA during the off-seasons.

72*Tackle*DOUG RIESENBERG*California*7/22/65*6-5*287*D-6A '87*5th Year

PRO: Doug has been an integral part of the ever-improving offensive line over the past two seasons, and has now put together a string of 36 consecutive starts at right tackle. Big, strong and exceptionally intelligent, he was a big reason why the unit allowed 17 less QB sacks in 1990 than in the previous season. By the same token, last year's rushing yardage was up considerably from the year before, as was the average-per-rush, and since the Giants, like many other clubs, are strongside-oriented, Doug's blocking performances had much to do with that success. He also continues to improve his pass-blocking and has had some classic battles with the Eagles' Reggie White over the past two years. Riesenberger stepped in as the starting right tackle after a highly productive training camp in '89, and thereafter started all 16 regular season games and in the playoffs at the RT spot, and continued to show excellent improvement as his development continued. Struggled somewhat against the speed rushers early in his career, but has worked hard at upgrading himself in that area. Big, strong young tackle had 12 starting roles in '88 as a second-year player, and showed excellent progress and promise at the RT position. Had particularly strong game vs. Charles Mann in second Redskins' game. He also showed excellent progress in his rookie season, despite the fact that he was a defensive tackle for most of his career in college. Highly intelligent and a hard worker, Doug appeared in eight games for the Giants, most on short yardage and on kicking teams and continually showed fine effort.

COLLEGE: After sparkling as a defensive tackle for three years at California. Riesen-berg was switched to OT in his senior season by coach Joe Kapp and became a top offensive player on short notice, winning All-Pac 10 honors in his senior year and getting 90% blocking grades from the coaching staff. Not only that, he was named to the Blue-Gray post-season game and distinguished himself in that All-Star contest with outstanding play throughout, then played in the Japan Bowl where he performed well again. An electrical engineering major with computer science as his goal, he was a top student at Cal.

PERSONAL: Douglas John Riesen-berg was born on July 22, 1965 in Carroll, Iowa, then played his scholastic sports at Moscow High School in Moscow, Idaho where he was All-American in football and track and All-Conference in basketball while academically making the honor roll and serving as a class officer. Doug is married to the former Victoria Rajeski, his father, Louis, is a professor and department chairman at the University of Idaho, and Doug not only plays the trumpet well, but lists computers as his favorite hobby. He and his wife Vicki, live in Florham Park.

WILLIAM ROBERTS

Ohio State

7th Year

PRO: Roberts had perhaps his finest season in 1990 as the starting LG, and was rewarded for those efforts by being named to his first Pro Bowl appearance, as well as earning an All-NFL honorable mention listing. His pass blocking continued to be exceptional, as it had been in the past, and his run-blocking continued to improve with any number of key blocks resulting in big rushing yardage. He was particularly adept at creating holes in short yardage situations and at the goal line, coming up with many key blocks on short-range TD plunges by Ottis Anderson. After a half-dozen seasons at either RT or LT on the offensive line, William was switched to offensive guard in the 1989 training camp, and apparently found a new home for himself there. He seemed to adapt very well, was reasonably comfortable there from the start, and then went on to start all season as the left guard, performing extremely well there. Roberts was back at offensive left tackle in '88 after playing the right side the previous year. He played in all 16 games, 13 of those as the starter at LT, before sharing the job with rookie John Elliott late in the season. With Karl Nelson sidelined in '87, Roberts moved over to the right tackle slot and started all 12 games at the position, and after some early season difficulties, improved rapidly from that point on. It was a transition of a major scale for William who had been strictly a left tackle since joining the club. He had won the starting LT job in his rookie season, then missed all of 1985 due to major knee surgery, but returned in 1986 as a reserve LT, short-yardage and third tight end, while appearing in every game that season, including the playoffs and Super Bowl. After winning a starting job in his rookie season, Roberts went down with a major knee injury during the early part of pre-season training camp in 1985, underwent surgery and was out for the entire year. William made an impressive debut in training camp as a rookie, winning a starting job at left tackle almost from the outset. He then enjoyed a strong pre-season at LT, and was the starter at the position for the first eight regular season games until he went down with a severe ankle injury which had him on the sidelines for five weeks. He then returned for the final portion of the season, and was back as the starting LT in the playoff games against the Rams and 49ers.

COLLEGE: Roberts was a starting tackle for three seasons at Ohio State, building himself up from a 240-pound freshman to his current size. All told, he won four letters with the Buckeyes, and in his senior year won All-American honors from Street & Smith and the Sporting News, while also gaining All Big-10 honors. He played in the Fiesta Bowl, Liberty Bowl and Holiday Bowl games while a Buckeye and was also named to play in the Japan Bowl in his senior year. He was also team captain as a senior.

PERSONAL: William Harold Roberts was born in Miami, Fla., on August 5, 1962 and played his scholastic sports at Carol City High School in Miami where he was twice MVP in football and was captain of both the football and basketball squads. William's father, Cleveland, is a school counselor in Miami, while an older brother, Alton, is a defensive end with the Roughriders in the CFL, and a cousin, Reginald Sanilands, played with Memphis in the USFL. William lists fishing and outdoor sports as his hobbies, and he was also a trombone player in high school.

81 STACY ROBINSON Wide Receiver No. Dakota St. 2/19/62 5-11 186 D-2 '85 7th Year

PRO: Stacy got the call once again in 1990 after an earlier release and was on the roster as a reserve WR for 12 games and throughout the playoffs. He saw action in just five games and had two receptions for 13 yards, both of those in the second win over the Cowboys. In 1989 after earlier being released, Stacy rejoined the club in a reserve role, and appeared in six games.

He finished with four receptions for 41 yards in that role, with his best efforts coming in the second win over Dallas when he had three catches for 36 yards. Stacy replaced the injured Mark Ingram on the roster early in 1988, and then appeared in 12 games. While he saw only limited action, he nonetheless came up with three touchdown catches among his seven receptions, and averaged 20.4 per-catch. He had a 62-yard TD grab vs. the Eagles, and had a pair of TD receptions in the win over Phoenix. After winning a starting job at WR, Stacy suffered a fractured fibula and was out for the final seven games of the season in '87. Prior to that season-ending injury, Stacy had six receptions, including TD catches in each of the first two regular season games vs. the Bears and Cowboys. Stacy made an impact in his first full season in '86 after spending most of his rookie year on IR. Despite missing four games with a sprained ankle, he ended the season with 29 catches for 494 yards and 17.0 average, and added a pair of TD grabs. He had perhaps his best outing in the crucial Monday Night comeback win over the 49ers when he had five receptions for 116 yards, one TD catch and another acrobatic grab which set up the winning TD. He also made three big catches in the Super Bowl win over the Broncos, with his 62 yards receiving leading the Giants in that department. As a rookie he showed outstanding potential during training camp and in the pre-season games, then suffered a broken hand two days before the regular season opener and spent the next 12 weeks on the injured reserve list. He was activated late in the year and appeared in the final four regular season games and both playoff outings in a reserve role.

COLLEGE: Stacy began his collegiate career in football and track at Prairie View A&M in Texas, then switched to North Dakota State where he set NDS alltime records for receiving yardage, TD receptions and one-season and single game receiving yardage. He finished with 88 catches for 1,636 yards and 13 TDs in his three seasons, was named to the All-Conference team, then was named the MVP for the North in the Senior Bowl game after his final season. Also a letterman in track, he was the Division II NCAA sprint champion for two seasons, while also sweeping 55 and 100-meter dash championship twice in the Conference.

PERSONAL: Stacy Laddell Robinson was born in St. Paul, Minn., on February 19, 1962, and was an All-State selection in football at Central High School in his hometown, while also winning Minnesota State titles in both the 100 and 200 meters in track. He also starred in basketball and was his school's leading scorer for two seasons.

PHIL SIMMS

Quarterback Morehead State 11/3/55
6-3 215 D-1 '79 13th Year

PRO: Phil was in the midst of yet another outstanding season in 1990 when he went down with a badly sprained foot in the Buffalo game, and then missed the remainder of the year. Along the way, Simms had led the club to an 11-3 record and also won his first NFC passing title with a career-high 92.7 QB rating. Already the owner of 14 alltime club passing records, he set a 15th record when his season pass interception percentage was an all time 1.28, erasing the former mark of 1.96 set by Fran Tarkenton in 1969. Phil also moved into the NFL's All-time Top Twenty in three categories, moving into 18th position in both career passing attempts and completions, and into 16th place in career passing yardage, passing such QBs as Terry Bradshaw, Ken Stabler, Len Dawson and Joe Namath in those various categories. Among his other season superlatives, Simms threw the longest TD pass of his career, an 80-yarder to Stephen Baker in the first win over Washington, and equalled his own club record for highest pass completion percentage in a game with his 80.9% on 17-of-21 in a win over Indianapolis. He also ran his career starting record to 82-53, which ranks second among active NFL QBs in career starting wins to Joe Montana. Despite an assortment of injuries in 1989 which sidelined him for two games and hampered him in others, Phil continued to be a highly productive QB and outstanding team leader as he finished as the 6th rated passer in the NFC while directing the club to the NFC East championship with the second best record in the league. Along the way, Phil had some exceptional performances, including 20-for-26 and two TDs in a win over Detroit; 27-for-51 and four TD throws in the two crucial wins over the Redskins, and his 20th career 300-yard passing game when he fired for 326 yards against the Super Bowl champion 49ers. Simms had yet another outstanding season in 1988, among his very best in virtually all categories. He had 263 completions along the way, despite missing one game and parts of two others, totaled 3,359 yards and threw for 21 touchdowns. He also led the NFC in lowest percentage of passes intercepted. Veteran QB had a string of 59 consecutive starts snipped in '87 when he suffered a sprained knee against the Cowboys and had to sit out three games. He returned for the final five games of the year and finished with the highest passing completion percentage of his career, as well as the highest passing rating, while also setting alltime career records for pass completions and passing yardage, erasing the former standards of Charlie Conerly. With his 90.0 passing rating, Phil finished second in the NFC to Joe Montana, and along the way also set alltime club marks for game completion percentage with an 80.9% outing vs. St. Louis and 80.7% vs. Green Bay. "Perhaps the best game ever played by a quarterback" seemed to be the consensus quote after Simms set an alltime NFL Super Bowl and playoff record with 88% completion on 22-for-25 passing for 268 yards and three touchdowns in the Giants' 39-20 conquest of Denver in 1986. For those superlative efforts, Phil was named MVP of Super Bowl XXI, just one year after being named MVP in the 1986 Pro Bowl. Simms' 1986 season was a masterful one as he led the club to a final team-record 17-2 mark, including 12 straight victories down the homestretch. He was never better than in a four-game crucial stretch late in the season when he (a) threw for 310 yards and hit a 4th and 21 completion in the final minute to set up the winning FG vs. Minnesota; (b) connected on a 46-yard completion in the final minute to set up the winning FG vs. Denver; (c) fired for 388 yards and two TDs to lead the Giants to a second-half victory over San Francisco; and (d) passed for 265 yards and three TDs in the crucial first-place battle with Washington. Once the Giants had won the NFC East crown, Simms then riddled the 49ers in the opening playoff with a club-record four TD passes in playoff action, throttled the Redskins with astute ball-control and a TD throw in the 17-0 NFC title game, and then riddled the Broncos in the Super Bowl. His post-season quarterback rating was an astounding 131.8 on 38-of-58 passing for a 65.5%, eight TD passes and no interceptions, and that brought his career playoff passing rating to 92.0, the third highest in the NFL playoff history behind Bart Starr and Ken Anderson. He was rewarded by being named All-NFL and the NFL's Most Valuable Player by NEA. Simms had another powerful season in 1985, adding several more club records to others he had set in 1984, chipped in with an alltime NFL record, and then capped his year by being named to the Pro Bowl where he was the starting QB for the NFC and won Most Valuable Player honors for leading a comeback victory with a trio of TD tosses. Phil set alltime club marks vs. Cincinnati when he threw 62 passes and completed 40, for 513 yards. In back-to-back games vs. the Cowboys and Bengals, Simms passed for 432 and 513 yards and those 945 passing yards in back-to-back games were the most ever in NFL history. In matching his previous season high of 22 TD passes, Simms had great consistency in TD throws, pitching for at least one TD pass in 14 of the 16 regular season games, then tossed for two more TDs in the big playoff victory over the 49ers. He had particular success during the year against NFC East rivals Dallas and St. Louis, throwing five TD passes against both of those clubs in the two meetings during the year, and his two-game passing yardage vs. Dallas in '85 added up to 761 yards. After missing virtually all of the '82 and '83 seasons because of injuries and the latter stages of the two seasons prior to that because of other injuries, Simms had his first full season in 1984 and promptly rewrote the Giants' alltime one-season record book. In leading the Giants to a second-place finish in the NFC East and a trip to the playoffs, Simms set club season records for most completions (286); passing yardage, (4,044) and attempts (533), chalked up four 300-plus passing yardage games, and displayed outstanding toughness and leadership. Phil wasted no time showing that a two-year absence had not diminished his skills. In the season opener against the Eagles, Simms fired 23-of-30 for 409 yards, four touchdowns and no interceptions, then came back the following week to bomb the Cowboys with three more touchdown strikes. That 1984 performance fulfilled the promise that Simms had shown when the Giants made him their No. 1 draft choice in 1979 from little Morehead State in Kentucky. In his rookie season, Simms didn't see any action until the fifth week of the season in a relief stint vs. New Orleans. A week later, he made his initial NFL start vs. Tampa Bay and produced a win, then won his next three starts for four in a row, and had six wins in his first eight starts. Unheralded at the time of the draft, by season's end he was a unanimous All-NFL Rookie choice and runnerup for NFC Rookie of the Year. Then began a streak of misfortune for Simms. In 1980, he was on his way to setting club records when a shoulder separation flattened him for the final three games of the season. In 1981, it was the same story, with another shoulder separation knocking him out of the final five games and the playoffs, and in 1982, a knee injury in a pre-season game cost him the entire season. In 1983, he fractured a thumb in his first long appearance, and was out for a total of 14 games. Undaunted, Simms worked hard during the following off-season, won the starting job again, and injury-free, had himself a banner '84 season.

COLLEGE: Only the second Morehead State player to make it in the NFL (ex-Giant Gary Shirk was the other), Simms set alltime college marks with 409 completions for 5,545 yards and 32 touchdowns at Morehead and also set single season marks with 370 yards vs. Tennessee Tech and four TD passes vs. Marshall, those one-game records coming in 1977. During his four varsity seasons, Phil was an honorable mention All-American by the Sporting News and was named Offensive Player of the Year and first-team All-Conference in the Ohio Valley Conference as a junior . . . but made only second-team All-Conference as a senior when Morehead eschewed the passing game and opted for a ball-control offense.

PERSONAL: Philip Simms was born in Springfield, KY, on November 3, 1955 and played his high school sports at Southern H.S. in Louisville as a QB in football and as a pitcher in baseball. Simms comes from a large family, which includes four brothers — William, Thomas, David and Joseph — and four sisters, Jeanette, Mary, Ann and Sara. Phil and his wife, Diana Fronfield, live in Franklin Lakes and have two sons, Christopher and Matthew, and a daughter, Deirdre. He is an outstanding golfer and has twice qualified for State Amateur Championship tournaments, winning the medal with an even par 72 in the 1990 event at Fairmount Country Club in New Jersey.

*Alltime Club Records

56 LAWRENCE TAYLOR
Linebacker North Carolina 2/4/59
6-3 243 D-1 '81 11th Year

PRO: The ever-amazing L.T. continued to amaze in 1990, setting an NFL record for Pro Bowl designation with his 10th consecutive election to that squad. He also had 10½ QB sacks during the year, and that ran his alltime NFL record to 115 passer assaults. He was also an All-NFC and All-NFL selection for a 10th consecutive year, made the All-Madden team once again, and twice was NFC Defensive Player of the Week for performances against the Eagles on opening night and vs. the Vikings later in the year. Along the way, he registered 84 total tackles, led the club with three forced fumbles, had a fumble recovery, four pass breakups, and an interception vs. Dallas in which he batted the ball, caught it, then spun and ran 11 yards for his second career TD. Among the big man's big games was the Viking win in which he had 12 solo stops, 2½ QB traps and a forced fumble. He also had a three-sack attack in the opening day win over Philly, and that was the eighth time he had had a three-sack game, to go along with a pair of four-sack outings. As for the playoffs, he had eight total stops, shared a QB sack, had a pass breakup and made the key fumble recovery in the final minutes which led to the NFC title victory over the 49ers. The ultimate linebacker continued to amass honors in 1989, being a consensus first-team All-NFL selection; and then being a unanimous selection on the NFL's All-1980's team, joining

Jerry Rice and Anthony Munoz as the only unanimous selection on that team, as selected by the Pro Football Writers on the HOF committee. Taylor's season was another vintage one for him despite the fact that he suffered a cracked bone in his foot in late November, and yet really missed only one game thereafter, a testimony to his competitiveness which is on another level from ordinary people. He had 83 total tackles for the year, added a club-leading 15 sacks, had three forced fumbles and four blocked passes, then added nine tackles and a pair of sacks in the playoff game vs. the Rams. This marvelous season followed the 1988 campaign in which Lawrence sat out the first four games of the year because of a league suspension, then came back in the final three months to earn yet another All-NFL designation and Pro Bowl trip while coming up with 73 total tackles and 15½ sacks in just 12 games. LT also led the club in forced fumbles with five, added a fumble recovery and also blocked a FG attempt vs. Philadelphia. He had one of his alltime great games vs. New Orleans, when despite a severe shoulder injury, he had 10 tackles, three QB sacks and two forced fumbles to win NFL Defensive Player of the Week honors. An incredible ironman record ended for the perennial All-NFL Taylor in 1987 when he suffered a hamstring injury against the Eagles, tried to tough it out a week later vs. the Saints, but then had to sit out a game against the Redskins the following week. That marked the first game Taylor had ever missed in his NFL career . . . in his collegiate career . . . and in his high school career! Despite missing that one game, and virtually all of another, L.T. finished with 62 total tackles, added 12 QB sacks, had a career-high three interceptions, and was named to the Pro Bowl and to the All-NFL teams for the seventh consecutive year. Lawrence had a magnificent year in 1986, even by his own standards which are celestial. By the time he finally retires, he'll need a warehouse to store his ever-increasing collection of awards, and the 1986 harvest may have been his biggest. He set an alltime Giants club record with 20½ quarterback sacks, had 105 total tackles and three forced fumbles, then added a 34-yard TD return with an interception in the playoff win over the 49ers. He was particularly destructive in the two big regular season wins over the Redskins with 18 tackles and six sacks in those two outings. By season's end, Lawrence of the Meadowlands had been a unanimous selection as the NFL's Most Valuable Player, the first time a defensive player had won that plum since Alan Page of the Vikings a decade before. To add to that laurel, he was a unanimous All-NFL selection, a unanimous Pro Bowl selection and a starter for the sixth straight year, the Maxwell Trophy winner, the Kansas City 101 winner, the Seagrams Award winner. While he had great success in two key victories over the Redskins, L.T. was even more devastating in the two wins over the Philadelphia Eagles. In those two contests, he had an amazing 23 total tackles and seven QB sacks, with his four traps in the Oct. 12 win matching his one-game club record. In 1985 L.T. finished with 104 total tackles, registered 13½ QB sacks, had two fumble recoveries for 25 yards returned and had four forced fumbles. He added 20 tackles in the playoffs, including 10 solos and a QB sack in the victory over the 49ers. Lawrence began the season with a bang when he had nine solo stops and 2½ QB sacks in the 21-0 skunking of the Eagles, and was totally dominating in a crucial 17-3 win over the Redskins when he had 13 tackles and two QB sacks. He repeated those identical totals in the second meeting with the Redskins, this time adding a fumble recovery to his 13-tackle, 2-QB sacks stats. In short, there is no honor extant that Taylor has not justly won during his career with the Giants. Over that span, L.T. has recovered fumbles, forced fumbles, blocked PATs, ran over blockers, and generally made life totally miserable for opposing quarterbacks and running backs. He's also had nine pass interceptions, one of which he returned 97 yards for a touchdown, the longest TD return by a linebacker in club history. The Giants' No. 1 draft pick in 1981, Lawrence was an instant smash from Day One. In his first pre-season training camp scrimmage, he had four QB sacks and a fumble recovery. In his first pre-season game vs. the Bears, he had 10 solo tackles, two QB sacks and a fumble recovery, and then in his regular season performance, helped lead the club to the playoffs for the first time since 1963 with big play after big play, including one-hand QB sacks, catching swift running backs from behind for losses, and any other number of eye-catching accomplishments. At 6-3 and 243 pounds, he can still run 4.6 in the 40; is one of the strongest players on the club.

COLLEGE: Taylor was a consensus All-American at North Carolina and was the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year in 1980. In his final season, of his 69 solo tackles, 22 were for losses behind the line of scrimmage and 16 were QB sacks. Originally a nose guard on defense at North Carolina, he eventually moved to OLB/DE in his final seasons and finished his career with 192 tackles, 21 QB sacks, 10 forced fumbles, three interceptions and three fumble recoveries and was selected for both the East-West Shrine game and Japan Bowl.

PERSONAL: Lawrence Taylor was born on February 4, 1959 in Williamsburg, Va., and played his scholastic sports at Lafayette H.S. in Williamsburg, where he was a 5-10, 180-pounder in his junior year. Also excelled in both basketball and baseball. Lawrence, his wife Linda, and their three youngsters, Paula, Tanisha and T.J. now live in Upper Saddle River, N.J. He has also become an outstanding golfer, getting his handicap down to a four, and his massive tee-shots are getting to be legendary.

REYNA THOMPSON

Cornerback
6-0 193

Baylor 8/28/63
FA '89 6th Year

PRO: Called "the best special teams player ever" by John Madden of CBS, Reyna deserved that praise in 1990. He won All-NFC and All-NFL honors as a special teamer, was named to the Pro Bowl for the first time, and obviously was also on that All-Madden team for his uncanny and powerful coverage work on the special teams. Reyna also saw action as the starting right corner for four games when Mark Collins was injured and he finished the year with 44 tackles, a QB sack and a fumble recovery. He also added four pass breakups. In the playoffs he was equally as adept, with eight solo tackles and a pass breakup. Reyna was a solid acquisition in 1989, coming to the Giants from the Miami Dolphins in the Plan B unprotected period. By season's end, Thompson was one of the top special teamers in the NFL and was named to the All-NFL team as a special teams' player by College & Pro Football Newsweekly, and was also named to the All-Madden Team by CBS sportscaster John Madden. Along the way, Thompson had 21 tackles on coverages and was extremely adroit at downing punts inside the 20. He had one of the top stops of the year when he nailed a Denver punt returner for no gain after a 54-yard Sean Landeta punt in the final moments of that 14-7 critical win by the Giants in December in snowy Denver. Reyna also saw action as a reserve cornerback and had a pass deflection. Also had two forced fumbles on big hits on kick coverages. During his tenure with Miami, Thompson was chiefly a special teams' player and nickel back, although he had four starts in 1986 at left cornerback when the regular starter was injured. Voted the Dolphins' top special teams' player in 1986, he had a total of 27 tackles that campaign as well as two forced fumbles and five pass deflections, and won a game ball after win over Buffalo in which he had two key tackles and knocked down a pair of passes. Saw action in only nine games in '87 because of nagging injuries, but did have one start that year vs. Cincinnati and responded with five tackles as well as an additional four stops on special teams.

COLLEGE: Thompson was a track star at Baylor, winning four letters in that sport while setting high hurdles records, and then won three more varsity letters in football after making the team as a walk-on. Played both safety and cornerback at Baylor and was a topnotch special teams' player there as well. Set Baylor and Southwest Conference high hurdles record in 1986 with 13.3 clocking and was a member of Baylor's third-place 400-yard relay team in 1985 NCAA championships.

PERSONAL: Reyna Onald Thompson was born on August 28, 1963 in Dallas, Tex., and was a football and track star at Jefferson High School in Dallas. Held fastest high school high hurdles time in the nation as a senior with a 13.4 clocking and also won regional and state championships in that event, while winning high school All-American honors in track.

34 LEWIS TILLMAN
Running Back Jackson State 4/16/66
6-0 195 D-4 '89 3rd Year

PRO: Lewis proved to be a valuable reserve RB again in 1990, finishing the year with 231 yards rushing, including a career high of 71 yards in an early season start vs. the Cowboys. He also got his first NFL touchdown on a short plunge in the win over the Rams, and continued his fine play with the special teams' units by recording 10 total tackles. He also did a fine job in the playoffs, coming up with 31 yards rushing in the win over the Bears, and he also added four solo tackles in his kick coverages. Tillman proved to be a solid addition as a 4th round draft choice in 1989, impressing people right from the start of training camp. In his first pre-season appearance vs. the Patriots, Tillman rushed for 81 yards on just 15 carries, all in one half of action. He then appeared in all 16 regular season games as a reserve RB and finished as the club's second-leading rusher with 290 yards on 79 carries and a 3.7 average. In the victory over Seattle, he had 68 yards rushing on 13 carries and was the leading rusher in that game. A quick and slashing runner, he also had solid appearances twice against Phoenix (34 and 45 yards rushing), and twice vs. Dallas (31 and 40 yards rushing). Lewis also turned out to be an extremely talented special teams' player, finishing the year with 14 total tackles on coverages, one of which was an hellacious hit vs. the Vikings which forced a fumble recovered by the Giants to set up a go-ahead touchdown.

COLLEGE: Lewis was a powerhouse at Jackson State, twice being named All-American in Division I-AA, and also breaking Walter Payton's career rushing records at Jackson State with his four-year total of 3,989 yards. He was also selected to play in three post-season games in 1988, the Blue-Gray, East-West and Senior Bowl outings, and he was named MVP in two of those three games, despite the fact he was competing with Division I players. He also won the Jake Gaither Award as the Black College Player of the Year and graduated with honors, while being a member and officer of Phi Beta Sigma fraternity.

PERSONAL: Lewis D. Tillman was born in Oklahoma City, Okla., but grew up in Hazelhurst, Miss. where he was a legendary All-District football, basketball and track star while also ranking among the top academically as an honor student. After his senior year in college, he was honored as a Man of the Year and had a parade in his honor on Lewis Tillman Day in Hazelhurst.

EVERSON WALLS

Grambling 12/28/59
FA-'90 11th Year

PRO: Everson had a highly productive first year with the Giants, after spending nine seasons with the Dallas Cowboys. He started every game at left corner and led the club in interceptions with six for 80 yards returned, including his first-ever NFL touchdown on a 28-yard return vs. the Redskins. He also led the team in passes defended with 17, added 58 total tackles and a forced fumble and won NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors vs. the Redskins when he had a pair of interceptions, four tackles and three pass breakups. He also won All-NFL honorable mention and picked up his career 50th interception vs. Phoenix late in the season. Everson added to his laurels in the playoffs, finishing with seven tackles, added an interception for a 37-yard return vs. the Bears, and had four pass breakups. He also made a big play when he bounced James Lofton out of bounds in the Super Bowl to stop a Bills' TD. Giants signed the veteran former Dallas Cowboy as a free agent in 1990. A four-time Pro Bowl selection while with the Pokes, Walls holds the alltime NFL record by having led the NFL in interceptions three times. Everson finished the 1989 season in Dallas with a career total of 44 interceptions, and set an alltime Cowboys' record in his rookie season of 1981 when he had 11 interceptions. He was a Pro Bowl and All-NFL choice in 1981, 1982, 1983 and 1985 and was also selected as a member of the Cowboys' 25th anniversary All-Time team by a vote of Dallas fans. During his Dallas tenure, Walls had two interceptions in a game a total of eight times, and his nine-year statistics also included 612 total tackles and three fumble recoveries.

COLLEGE: Walls was an All-Southwestern Athletic Conference first-team selection in his senior season at Grambling when he led the nation with a school-record 11 interceptions for 140 yards returned in 11 games. As a junior, he had four interceptions for 91 yards, including one returned for a touchdown.

PERSONAL: Everson Collins Walls was born on December 28, 1959 in Dallas and played his scholastic sports at Berkner High School in nearby Richardson. He was the 1988 Sportsman of the Year award winner by the Dallas-Fort Worth Chapter of the NAACP for his many contributions to the community and he also served as the spokesperson for the Family Outreach Program in Dallas for abused children and was also active with the United Negro College Fund and as a founding member of the Day Resource Center to aid the homeless. He and his wife, Sherill, have a daughter Charis, six, and a son Cameron, two. Everson has two cousins who both played in the NFL, Herkie Walls, a wide receiver with Houston and Tampa Bay 1983-87, and Ralph Anderson, a running back with Pittsburgh and New England 1971-73.

73 JOHN WASHINGTON

Defensive End Oklahoma State 2/20/63
6-4 275 D-3 '86 6th Year

PRO: J.W. had a solid year in 1990, playing in every game and starting in 13 of those outings. He continued to be a strong player vs. the run, finishing the year with 41 tackles. He also played in all of the playoff outings, and had a particular big play in the win over the Chicago Bears when he knocked over Bears' FB Brad Muster for a loss on a Chicago fourth-and-goal play from the one-yard line. He had a total of five tackles during the playoffs. When Eric Dorsey went down with a broken foot in 1989, key reserve Washington stepped in as the starter at defensive left end and turned in a strong and steady performance all season long. He concluded the campaign with his top career totals of 52 tackles while adding a fumble recovery, a forced fumble and a blocked pass. Essentially a run-player in the Giants' defensive scheme, John more than held his own against strongside offensive rushers. Washington continued his role as a valuable reserve DE in 1988, playing in all 16 games and getting two starts when Leonard Marshall was injured. He came up with 12 total tackles, added a forced fumble and a blocked pass and continued to show excellent progress. Second-year DE saw action in all 12 regular games in '87, and was the starter at RDE in the final two games after Marshall was injured. He finished with 14 total tackles and also came up with his first QB sack, while demonstrating fine potential. Big and strong defensive end enjoyed a solid pre-season in his rookie year, coming up with a pair of quarterback sacks in the pre-season opener vs. the Atlanta Falcons. He then played in all 16 regular season games as a reserve DE and special teams' player, though he was used only sparingly, coming up with a total of two solo tackles during the year. He suffered a hamstring injury in the final regular season game and missed the playoffs and Super Bowl while on injured reserve.

COLLEGE: Washington earned three varsity letters at Oklahoma State as both a nose tackle and defensive end, and was a starter in all three of those seasons, winning All-Big Eight honors in both 1984 and '85, as well as honorable mention All-American in his senior year. He finished his career with 241 total tackles, 28 for losses, and added 23 quarterback sacks as well as 57 QB pressures. He was elected team co-captain in his senior year and starred in the Gator Bowl.

PERSONAL: John Earl Washington was born in Houston, Tex., on February 20, 1963 and won six varsity letters in football and baseball at Sterling High School in Houston. Twice an All-Conference selection in football, he was also a scholastic All-American in baseball as a pitcher-infielder. Married to the former Terri Stinson, he has a daughter, Charmaine, 7.

36 ADRIAN WHITE
Safety Florida 4/6/64
6-0 200 D-2 '87 5th Year

PRO: Adrian had enjoyed a very productive training camp and pre-season in 1990 when he went down with torn ligaments in his left knee in the pre-season finale vs. Cleveland. He then underwent major surgery and was out for the entire year. At the time, he had apparently won the starting strong safety job. Now completely recovered, he should make a strong bid again this year, not only for work at safety, but on special teams where he has been a topnotch player in the past. White had a strong season in 1989 as a key reserve safety in the nickel defense and as a leading special teamer, finishing the year with 33 total tackles while adding four pass deflections. He also came up with a pair of pass interceptions in one game, making them vs. the Phoenix Cardinals on consecutive possessions, with his returns setting up a pair of Giants' touchdowns. Adrian was a strong special teams' player and reserve safety in 1988, playing in all 16 games and finishing as the second-leading tackler on kick coverages. All told, he had 24 total tackles on the year, and he also came up with his first NFL interception for a 29-yard return in a win over Detroit. He also had a pair of passes defended. In 1987, hard-hitting White made an impact in training camp with his ferocity on special teams and as a reserve safety, but suffered a knee injury in a pre-season game which necessitated the removal of bone chips from the knee. Out of action for six weeks during the regular season, he returned with a bang vs. Buffalo and came up with 13 total tackles in that outing. Finished the season with a total of 21 tackles as special teams' player and reserve back.

COLLEGE: Adrian began his collegiate career at Southern Illinois, then moved on to Florida where he was a three-year starter and won All-SEC first-team honors and second-team All-American by UPI in his senior year. He was also named team MVP on defense that season and was selected to play in the Blue-Gray game at season's end where he also sparked. Also won two letters in track at Florida as a sprinter and member of 440-relay team.

PERSONAL: Adrian Darnell White was born in Jacksonville, FL, on April 6, 1964, then starred as an All-Conference defensive back and track star at Orange Park High School in Orange Park, Fla. Adrian lists fishing as his favorite hobby, plays the bass guitar for enjoyment, and has a cousin, Terry Taylor, who plays for the Seattle Seahawks.

BRIAN WILLIAMS

Minnesota

6/8/66

3rd Year

PRO: Extremely valuable reserve lineman, Brian saw action in all 16 games and in the playoffs in 1990, primarily as a short-yardage and special teamer, although he did get one start at guard vs. the 49ers during the regular season. He has great versatility in that he can play both guard positions as well as center and save for the fact that he's behind Pro Bowler Bart Oates at the pivot position, he could well be a starting center for many NFL teams. Heir apparent to Oates in the future. The Giants' No. 1 draft choice in 1989, Brian missed some vital time in training camp because of an extended contract dispute, but once that was settled and he got back in the groove, he played in 14 regular season games and was a starter at guard for the final four of the year after Damian Johnson went down with an injury and there was some shuffling on the offensive line. He proved to be a powerful pass blocker as well as a drive blocker on the run, and even did some impressive downfield blocking, particularly in the win over Denver when he took out two tacklers downfield on Dave Meggett's 57-yard TD romp which won the game. Envisioned as a center in the future, for now he'll work at both guard and center for the time being.

COLLEGE: Williams began his collegiate career as a tight end with the Gophers, then after building himself up through weight training became a reserve guard and eventually a center. He won the starting job at center in 1987 and produced a powerful season as that year's club set an alltime Minnesota one-season rushing attack of 2,651 yards. Already rated as the Big 10's top center, he switched back to guard in his senior season to help bolster a weakness in that area, and once again he had a topnotch season, being named team captain and also being selected to play in both the East-West Shrine Game and the Senior Bowl.

PERSONAL: Brian Scott Williams was born on June 8, 1966 in Mount Lebanon, Pa., and was a football and baseball standout at Mount Lebanon High School, winning All-Pittsburgh Press honors in football two years running. Brian is the son of the late Dr. Bob Williams, the former Notre Dame QB star who led the Irish to the 7-0 conquest of Oklahoma in 1957 which ended a 47-game winning streak by the Sooners. Brian enjoys all outdoor sports, fishing, skiing and snowmobiling, and is also an avid golfer.

23Cornerback
6-2 200*PERRY WILLIAMS*No. Carolina 5/12/61
D-7 '83 7th Year

PRO: Very durable cornerback, Perry has missed only two games in seven seasons with the Giants because of injury. He appeared in every game in 1990, chiefly as a nickel back, although he did have two starts at RCB. He finished the year with 32 tackles, added three interceptions to run his career total to 17, and was second on the club with 11 pass breakups, while also adding a pair of forced fumbles. He also came up with six solo tackles in the playoffs. He had yet another fine year in 1989, finishing with 43 total tackles, adding three pass interceptions while adding 13 pass breakups and a forced fumble. All three of Perry's interceptions contributed to victories, with the swipes taking place against Phoenix, Dallas and the Los Angeles Raiders. Perry had a fine all-around season in 1988, starting every game and having solid production. He suffered a pinched neck nerve in the season finale vs. the Jets in the first period, and was sorely missed thereafter. All told, Williams had 63 total tackles, led the club with three fumble recoveries and with 16 passes defended. He also had two QB sacks, and his only interception of the year sealed the Giants' 12-10 win over Dallas in the final minute of play. After not missing a game in his first three seasons as the starting cornerback, Williams sat out the first two in '87 after suffering a sprained neck in the final pre-season game. He returned as the starter for the final 10 games of the regular season, totaling 40 tackles while adding a club-leading two fumble recoveries, a forced fumble, a QB sack and his 10th career interception. Perry had a strong season in '86, playing the right corner with gusto against the run, and coming up with a career high four interceptions for 31 yards returned. He also chipped in with a quarterback sack and a forced fumble along the way and with his outstanding speed and covering ability, discouraged teams from throwing at him a lot. He finished the regular season with 57 total tackles, most of them the jarring variety, then added six more stops in the post-season games. Swift, hard-hitting cornerback enjoyed his second straight complete season as the starter on the right side in '85, finishing the year with 66 total tackles, a pair of QB sacks, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble as well as two pass interceptions vs. the Redskins and Oilers. He added a half-dozen tackles in the playoff games. After spending his rookie season on Injured Reserve, Perry won the starting right corner job almost from the outset of 1984 then turned in a superb rookie campaign, winning All-Rookie team honors from Football Digest. He played in every game during the season and in the playoffs, finishing with 39 tackles, a fumble recovery and three pass interceptions in the regular season. Williams was enjoying an outstanding training camp and pre-season in '83 as a 7th round draft choice, displaying great speed, hitting ability and coverage capabilities, then suffered a stress fracture of his foot after the second pre-season game and went on Injured Reserve for the rest of the season.

COLLEGE: Perry was a three-year starter for the Wolfpack at cornerback, and during his career at N.C. State, had 182 total tackles, six interceptions and 23 pass deflections. Clocked in 4.39 for the 40-yard dash, Williams also earned varsity letters in track where he was the Atlantic Coast Conference 200-meter champion with a 21.0 clocking. He was the anchor-man on State's 400 and 800-meter relay teams which won first-place honors in both events in the 1982 Penn Relays. He majored in Humanities and Social Sciences.

PERSONAL: Perry Lamar Williams was born in Hamlet, N.C. on May 12, 1961, and was a scholastic standout at Richmond High School in Rockingham, N.C., where he was All-Conference and team captain in football, leading his school to a 12-2 record and the State championship in his senior year. He was also a star in track and baseball in high school and still resides in Hamlet during the off-seasons.

1991 DRAFT CHOICES

JARROD BUNCH

Fullback
Michigan

Round One
6-2 248

With fullback a high priority item on the shopping list, the Giants feel they got themselves a good one in Bunch, a veteran Big-10 banger whose attributes include size, outstanding blocking ability, good hands and 4.59 speed to go along with some bigtime weight-lifting accomplishments. When you put that kind of a package together, it's not surprising that Jarrod won All-American honors from the Poor Man's Guide as well as All-Big 10 mentions, and was also selected to play in both the East-West Shrine and Hula Bowl games where he further distinguished himself and received top grades from the attending scouts. Jarrod's collegiate numbers also give substantiation to his prototype fullback credentials. As a runner with power and good speed, he concluded his Wolverine career with 1,267 yards rushing and a 4.4 average and added 26 receptions for a total of 10 touchdowns. Proving his quick burst ability, Bunch broke a 53-yarder in a win over Illinois, and also had a 32-yard excursion in a victory over Indiana. Jarrod's final senior season totals showed 515 yards rushing for a 5.0 average, but he was a terror on short-yardage situations where he could either blast up the middle or show his agility when sliding to the outside. Meanwhile, his awesome blocking ability was a continuing factor in the success of the Michigan rushing attack. With Jarrod leading the way, junior tailback Jon Vaughn finished 11th in the nation with an average of 112.4 yards-per-game. After being redshirted in his freshman season, Bunch became the starting fullback in the third game of the 1987 season, and retained that starting status throughout his career at Ann Arbor, save for a minor knee injury which shelved him for five games in 1989. Born on August 9, 1968 in Ashtabula, Ohio, Jarrod won nine letters in football and track at Ashtabula High School in his hometown, and was an All-Conference choice and MVP in his senior year. He also broke the state prep school deadlift weight record with a lift of 600 pounds while in the 198-pound class.

KANAVIS MCGHEE

Linebacker
Colorado

Round Two

Big, bruising outside blitzer racked up a plethora of honors during his four-year career at Colorado, including back-to-back All-American honors, three-time first-team All-Big Eight designation, numerous other laurels, and a finalist's spot for the Dick Butkus Award. None of this is all that surprising since McGhee has been considered a blue-chip prospect for the past several seasons in which he amassed those honors. Blessed with outstanding balance and hand-eye coordination, he's been clocked in a swift 4.79, while bench-pressing in excess of 380 pounds, attributes which gave him the tools to get after the quarterback and to stand his ground on battles with tackles and tight ends. All told, he concluded his collegiate career with 295 total tackles, 36 tackles for losses, 14 QB sacks, 33 QB pressures, three forced fumbles, 11 passes defended and a blocked kick. Along the way, he had any number of powerful performances, including an astounding 23 tackles vs. Oklahoma which won him Big Eight Defensive Player of the Week honors; 12 solo tackles and a fumble recovery in a big win over Texas, and 11 tackles, three QB pressures and a pass deflection vs. Tennessee in last year's Disneyland Classic. In addition to appearances in a pair of post-season bowl games in '89 and '90, Kanavis was also selected to play in the East-West Shrine Game this past season, and was just as impressive there as he had been since his collegiate debut in 1987. Born on October 4, 1968 in Houston, Tex., McGhee was an all-around District All-Star at Wheatley High School in his hometown where his coach was ex-NFL great Kenny Houston. He had 28 QB sacks as a linebacker in his last two seasons, and also caught 23 passes for eight TDs as a tight end in his senior year. He also lettered in basketball, where he averaged more than 20 points-per-game, and also excelled in track in the high jump, shot-put and discus.

ED McCAFFREY

Wide Receiver
Stanford

Round Three

With wide receiver depth another concern heading into the draft, McCaffrey becomes a key prospect with his outstanding size, 4.6 speed and All-American credentials from Stanford. An extremely rugged type, McCaffrey enjoyed great success as not only a deep receiver with topnotch leaping ability, but as a fearless type over the middle. He had a big senior season, winning first-team All-American honors by Kodak, as well as first-team All-Pac 10 where he led that conference with 91.7 yards receiving per game, which also ranked him eighth nationally in that category. He finished that senior season with 61 receptions for 917 yards and eight TDs, and those 917 yards were the fourth highest in Stanford history behind James Lofton, Ken Margerum and Gene Washington, all former NFL stars. Among Ed's big 1990 outings were 11 catches for 145 yards vs. San Jose State; six for 111 yards in the upset win over Notre Dame, and seven grabs for 176 yards vs. Washington State, including TD romps of 69, 34 and 31 yards. With those kind of numbers, he was also selected to play in both the Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine games. As a junior, McCaffrey was Stanford's MVP for the season when he had 53 catches for 871 yards and four TDs, winning All-Pac 10 honors, and honorable mention All-America. The career stats for Ed showed 146 receptions for 2,333 yards, a 16.0 average and 14 touchdowns. Born on August 17, 1968 in Allentown, Pa., Ed was a major scholastic star at Central Catholic High School in his hometown, winning All-American honors in football, as well as being an All-State pick three years in a row. He was also an MVP in baseball with a .540 batting average, was also an MVP in basketball with a 21-point scoring average and was a National Honor Society member. He also earned Academic All-American honors at Stanford, majoring in Biology, and has plans for medical school eventually. His younger brother, Billy, was a starring member of the NCAA champion Duke University basketball team this past year.

Stanford

With wide receiver depth another concern heading into the draft, McCaffrey becomes a key prospect with his outstanding size, 4.6 speed and All-American credentials from Stanford. An extremely rugged type, McCaffrey enjoyed great success as not only a deep receiver with topnotch leaping ability, but as a fearless type over the middle. He had a big senior season, winning first-team All-American honors by Kodak, as well as first-team All-Pac 10 where he led that conference with 91.7 yards receiving per game, which also ranked him eighth nationally in that category. He finished that senior season with 61 receptions for 917 yards and eight TDs, and those 917 yards were the fourth highest in Stanford history behind James Lofton, Ken Margerum and Gene Washington, all former NFL stars. Among Ed's big 1990 outings were 11 catches for 145 yards vs. San Jose State; six for 111 yards in the upset win over Notre Dame, and seven grabs for 176 yards vs. Washington State, including TD romps of 69, 34 and 31 yards. With those kind of numbers, he was also selected to play in both the Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine games. As a junior, McCaffrey was Stanford's MVP for the season when he had 53 catches for 871 yards and four TDs, winning All-Pac 10 honors, and honorable mention All-America. The career stats for Ed showed 146 receptions for 2,333 yards, a 16.0 average and 14 touchdowns. Born on August 17, 1968 in Allentown, Pa., Ed was a major scholastic star at Central Catholic High School in his hometown, winning All-American honors in football, as well as being an All-State pick three years in a row. He was also an MVP in baseball with a .540 batting average, was also an MVP in basketball with a 21-point scoring average and was a National Honor Society member. He also earned Academic All-American honors at Stanford, majoring in Biology, and has plans for medical school eventually. His younger brother, Billy, was a starring member of the NCAA champion Duke University basketball team this past year.

CLARENCE JONES

Tackle
Maryland

Round Four
6-6 280

Here's a big durable offensive tackle who was born in Brooklyn and grew up in Long Island, and who can make a strong bid for a reserve role on the offensive line. A starting tackle for the Terrapins ever since the second game of his freshman season, Jones built himself up from 240 pounds in that first season to his current 280-pound frame, and has been a model of consistency at Maryland whether it has been at left tackle or on the right side. By the same token, Clarence has consistently improved in his performance and this past year was named to the first-team All-ECAC team, while also receiving All-Atlantic Coast Conference honorable mention. Scouts liked his tall frame, long arms and impressive build, citing his ability to slide out and block on the move. He also got solid marks for his aggressive style of play and for unusually good speed (4.9) for that size. He also showed yearly improvement on his pass-blocking, where he displayed excellent footwork and the ability to lock on and control his man. When he first won that starting job, it was at right tackle where he was the starter for nine games in 1987, then he was switched to left tackle in 1988 where he started all 11 games and graded out in the high 80s and 90 percentile area. In 1989, he was moved back to right tackle and started every game there as well, again grading in the 90 percentile range and usually playing at his best in Maryland's big games. He finished his Terrapin career at RT this past senior season and concluded with 42 consecutive starts. Born on May 6, 1968 in Brooklyn, Clarence later played his scholastic football at Central Islip High School on Long Island where he lettered for three seasons as a tight end on offense and as a defensive end. He was captain of the 1985 team which won the Bayshore League title, and that same year was named New York's Gatorade Player of the Year, as well as a scholastic All-American.

ANTHONY MOSS

Linebacker
Florida State

Round Five
6-4 240

Since the Giants have a theory that you can never have enough good linebackers, Moss should get a good, long look in training camp. With All-American honorable mention in his senior year and a spot on the Super Sleeper Team by the NFL Draft Report, Anthony's ability to rush the passer from the outside earned him glowing reports from the scouts. His 4.8 speed, combined with great range and excellent upper body strength, made him a three-year starter with the highly-rated Seminoles' defense, and he concluded his collegiate career as the second-leading QB sacker in Florida State history with a total of 21½ traps. He also showed some solid consistency in this regard, registering sacks in nine of the 11 FSU games in 1990. All told, his career numbers showed 109 total tackles, with 33 of those for losses, along with those 21½ QB sacks. As for agility, he also added a pair of interceptions, eight pass deflections and three fumble recoveries, and also showed special teams' ability by blocking a punt which he returned for a TD in a victory over South Carolina. As a freshman, Anthony arrived as a 210-pound tight end prospect, but was a redshirt and instead embarked on a weight program and a switch to OLB. He saw some action in 1987 until an ankle injury shelved him, but then came on in his final three seasons to become a major force on that FSU defensive unit. One of his top efforts in 1990 came vs. Florida when he sacked Shane Matthews twice in the final minutes to preserve an FSU victory. Born on October 12, 1967 in Miami, Anthony was an All-County tight end at Southridge High School in Miami, and was also an MVP in track where he had a toss of 57'6" in the shot put in his senior season. A physical education major at FSU, Anthony hopes to emulate his older brother, Winston Moss, who had been a starting linebacker for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers for the past several seasons after being a No. 2 draft choice in 1987, and who is now with the Los Angeles Raiders.

COREY MILLER

Inside Linebacker
South Carolina

Round Six
6-2 255

Miller is an extremely interesting prospect because of his general versatility. Considered the leader of the Gamecocks' defensive unit for the past two seasons, Corey has had experience at both defensive end and at inside linebacker, and has also been an extremely talented special teams' contributor. Twice an All-South Independent team selection and an All-American honorable mention in 1990, Miller gets high ratings for his outstanding strength, athletic ability and aggressive style of play which helped him rack up 187 total tackles in his three-year career. Among those numbers were 15 tackles for losses, 10 QB sacks, 39 QB pressures, a pair of interceptions and three forced fumbles. Selected to play in the annual Blue-Gray game this past season, he was also the recipient of the college's Rex Enright Captain's Cup. Among his top efforts in 1990 when he played at DE were a 13-tackle, 3-QB pressure effort in a win over North Carolina and a 10-tackle outing, plus a forced fumble vs. the Citadel. Neither is Miller any kind of stranger to the Giants' coaching staff since both Al Groh and Charlie Weis of the Giants' staff coached at South Carolina when Miller was in his sophomore season there, and both think he has the tools to contribute. A native of Pageland, South Carolina where he was born on October 25, 1968, Corey had an outstanding scholastic career at Pageland Central High School. He won both All-State and All-American honors as a defensive lineman, was team captain and Division MVP, and had a total of 225 tackles and seven interceptions as his team chalked up a 31-5 mark while he was there. Miller was also a place-kicker who was 4-of-6 on FG attempts and 25-of-25 on PATs. He was the MVP of the high school Shrine game in his senior year, and also held the school record in the shot-put. Corey majored in humanities and social sciences at South Carolina.

LUIS CRISTOBAL

Offensive Guard

Round Ten

Miami

6-3

290

An extremely powerful lineman, Luis was the starting LG for the Hurricanes for the past two campaigns and won four varsity letters during his career at Miami. He was considered a major contributor to Miami's powerful offense in 1990 which set an all-time school record with an awesome 482.9 yards-per-game of offense, breaking the former mark by more than 22 yards-per-game. A powerful pass blocker with great bulk and upper body strength, Luis was the main reason why the Hurricanes also set an all-time school mark of 324.8 passing yards-per-game during this same campaign. Blessed with solid skills and impressive work ethics, Luis was described as "one of the most consistent performers we have ever had at Miami . . . his improvement against both the pass and rush has been just outstanding" by Miami's assistant head coach and line coach Gregg Smith. Named game captain this past campaign in the Iowa game, Luis responded by grading out at 95% for that particular outing, with his final full season work averaging out to an 85% grading. He was equally solid in the third-ranked Hurricanes' 46-3 rout of Texas in the Cotton Bowl, and he's received high grades from the scouts for his overall potential. Proved to be the strongest of all the Miami offensive linemen with a bench press of 435 pounds, and has great foot speed for a man of his bulk. A native of Miami, Fla., where he was born on January 4, 1968, Luis was a football and track standout at Columbus High School in Miami where he was an All-State and Super South Florida choice, as well as his school's MVP in his senior year. Also was a shot-putter on the track team and a member of the National Honor Society. He's already earned a degree in business administration at Miami, just one of five who earned a degree before the 1990 season. A younger brother, Mario, is a 6-4, 265-pound lineman at Miami as well.

TED POPSON

Tight End

Round Eleven

Portland State

6-4

Despite missing parts of both of his seasons at Portland State due to knee and ankle miseries, Popson is an interesting candidate for tight end backup employment. A native of Granada Hills, Calif., where he was born on September 10, 1966, Popson never played high school football at Tahoe Truckee High School in Truckee, Calif., limiting his scholastic athletics to wrestling where he was an All-Conference choice. He began his collegiate days at the College of Marin in California where he was a walk-on football candidate, and ended up being the starting tight end for two seasons. In that second year, he caught 62 passes and won

All-State honors for doing so, while also honing his skills as a blocker and spending time in the weightroom building up his upper body strength. He then moved on to Portland State for his final two seasons, winning a starting job at the outset in PSU's double tight end alignment. On the lookout for something new to accomplish, Popson also learned to be a long-snapper, which gave him added value on special teams. Although he missed five games in 1989 due to that knee injury, he had 15 grabs for 214 yards and a 37-yard TD reception, then upped those numbers in 1990 to 26 catches for 228 yards and another TD before missing the final four games with the ankle problem. Along the way, he continued to be the long-snapper and made more than his share of tackles on downfield coverage. He also improved on his blocking skills over those past two seasons, and received top grades from his college coaching staff for his intelligence, work ethics and continuing potential. An administration of justice major at PSU, Ted obviously has some typical Californian traits since he lists his hobby as "dwarf tossing."

LARRY WANKE

Quarterback Round Twelve
John Carroll University 6-3 220

As the Giants', and the NFL's, final selection in the 1990 Draft, Wanke becomes an intriguing choice, if only for that reason. However, there's much more involved since Larry was one of the most sought-after scholastic quarterbacks in the nation back in 1986 after passing for 3,045 yards and 34 touchdowns in his senior year at Benedictine High School in South

Euclid, Ohio. He chose Pitt over Ohio State and other major schools, and after redshirting a year, saw his initial action at Pitt in 1987. Although he was the backup QB to Darnell Dickerson that year, he showed his talent in the Bluebonnet Bowl against Texas when he relieved an injured Dickerson in the second half and torched the Longhorns for 172 yards passing and three TDs. A year later, the pocket-passing Wanke alternated with the running-QB Dickerson, threw a TD pass vs. Ohio State and then suffered a shoulder injury which sidelined him for most of the rest of the year. Wanke then decided to transfer to John Carroll in Division III, and over the past two years proceeded to set no less than 16 all-time JCU passing records in just two campaigns, including career total offense (3,898 yards), attempts (613), completions (330) and TD passes (25). He was twice a first-team All-Ohio Athletic Conference choice, and was the only Division III player selected to play in the All-American Classic this past year, where he performed admirably. He certainly has the impressive numbers, and the size, and an arm that can airmail it 70 yards. Born on April 2, 1968 in South Euclid, Larry majored in liberal arts at John Carroll. And now, for Wanke, it's to see if the last can move up with the firsts.

1991 FREE AGENTS

BOLER, CHUCK: TACKLE, 6-4, 295; MEMPHIS STATE... Began his career at Memphis State as a defensive tackle in his freshman season, registering six tackles in one game, then switched to offensive tackle for the remainder of his collegiate career. Saw limited action in 1988, but was a starter in his last two seasons and won All-Conference mention this past year. Born on October 25, 1967 in Tuscaloosa, Ala., he was a football and wrestling star at Tuscaloosa County High School in his hometown.

BUTLER, JAY: TACKLE, 6-7, 306; BUCKNELL... A native of New Jersey, Jay earned four varsity letters at Bucknell and was a starting tackle for the past three years there, capping his career by being named to the first-team All-Patriot League in 1990. The big guy, whose middle name is Murphy, was born in New Brunswick, N.J. on September 10, 1969 and played his scholastic sports at Hillsborough H.S. in Belle Mead, N.J. and now resides in Somerville in the Garden State. Jay had a big day this past year when he graded out at 94% with six pancake blocks in a solid win over Cornell.

CLAIR, KIERAN: QUARTERBACK, 6-4, 222; HAMILTON COLLEGE... Another local product who hails from Teaneck, N.J., Clair was an All-East first-team choice and honorable mention All-American in his junior season of 1989, then suffered a left shoulder injury last year that kept him out of action for the entire season. His three-year totals showed 156 completions in 336 attempts for 2,204 yards and 12 TDs, and 217 rushing attempts for 821 yards, a 3.8 average, and 11 rushing touchdowns. An All-State QB at Don Bosco Prep in Ramsey, N.J., he also lettered in basketball, and is one of 16 children (nine boys, seven girls) in the Clair family which now resides in Suffern, N.Y.

DOYLE, PHILIP: PLACE KICKER, 6-1, 205; ALABAMA... Consensus All-American last season with Crimson Tide and led the nation in FG kicking with 24 of 29 for a percentage of .828. Doyle was a four-year regular at Alabama and over his collegiate career booted 78 of 105 field goals for a career percentage of .743. Philip was also an outstanding baseball player at Alabama and was drafted by the Chicago White Sox out of high school. He hit .345 with 10 homers and 33 RBI as a third-baseman for Alabama in the 1990 season. Born in Birmingham, Ala., on March 20, 1969, he was a football and baseball standout at Huffman High School in Birmingham.

FANN, ALBERT: RUNNING BACK, 6-1, 215; CAL STATE NORTHRIDGE... Here's a four-time All-Western Football Conference first team selection who set every school record for all-purpose yardage during his four campaigns. Born in Brooklyn, N.Y. on May 27, 1969, Fann's production at Northridge was truly eye-popping. He had 4,170 career yards rushing for a 4.7 average, added 97 receptions for another 807 yards, and 96 kickoff returns for 2,185 yards while scoring a total of 47 overall TDs, including romps of 97, 93, and 85 yards. All told, he had 7,032 yards in that career. Fann grew up in Northridge, Cal., and was an All-American scholastic star at Grover Cleveland H.S. in Raseda, Cal.

GALE, CHRIS: DEFENSIVE END, 6-4, 270; JACKSON STATE... A two-year starter and twice a first-team All-Southwestern Conference choice, Gale was primarily a DT in a four-man front with the Tigers, but is projected as a DE at this time. Despite missing his entire 1989 season due to knee surgery, he finished his three-year career with 169 total tackles, including 25 for losses and 11 QB sacks. Born in Vicksburg Miss., on October 14, 1968, Chris played his scholastic sports at Vicksburg H.S. where he was an All-Conference defensive lineman.

GILBERT, TONY: WIDE RECEIVER, 5-7, 180; SOUTHWEST MISSOURI STATE... Quick and agile wideout who earned four varsity letters at SWMS, earning All-Conference mention twice as a combination WR and kick returner. Graduated after the 1989 season, and is making a try now after a year away from football. Born on July 2, 1967 in Blytheville, Ark., he was a three-sport standout in football, basketball and track at Blytheville, H.S. in his hometown, is married and has one child.

HILL, DEMETRIUS: DEFENSIVE END, 6-3, 280; MISSISSIPPI STATE... Two-year starter at nose tackle for Mississippi State after starring for two years on the JC level at Garden City Junior College in Kansas. Extremely strong with good quickness, he had 92 total tackles with 10 QB sacks at MSU. Born in Houston, Tex., on March 27, 1967, he grew up in Meridan, Miss. where he lettered in football and wrestling at Merridan H.S.

JONES, STANLEY: DEFENSIVE END, 6-3, 284; HAMPTON UNIVERSITY... Another local product, Stanley is a native of Newark, N.J. He grew up in North Carolina, however, where he was a scholastic student at Beddingfield H.S. in Wilson, N.C. Lettered for four seasons at Hampton and was a starter for three of those years, winning All-Conference mention twice.

KELLEY, MATT: LINEBACKER, 6-2, 230; BOSTON COLLEGE... Strong and tough inside backer who won four letters at BC and was a starter for his final two seasons there. Hails from Stamford, Conn. where he was born on January 30, 1967. Played his scholastic sports at New Canaan High School in New Canaan, Conn. and starred in football, basketball and track.

KELNER, DAN: WIDE RECEIVER, 6-0, 180; WISCONSIN EAU CLAIRE... Here's a real speedball receiver who was also a collegiate 200-meter track champion and an anchor-man on an 800-relay title quartet. Dan began his collegiate career at Wisconsin-Superior, finished at Eau-Claire and over four seasons had 129 catches for 2,875 yards and a solid 22.3 average-per-catch, while grabbing 22 TD passes, including one for 95 yards. Born on July 29, 1968 in Minneapolis, he grew up in New Brighton, Minn. where he was a scholastic star in football, track and basketball at Irondale High School.

KINNON, DUANE: FULLBACK, 6-1, 223; SYRACUSE... Versatile athlete who played fullback, tailback and wide receiver during his career with the Orangemen. Earned three letters there and finished his career with 660 yards rushing for a 4.2 average, and caught 58 passes for another 629 yards while scoring a total of six touchdowns. Earned accolades as a top blocker as well, and even played on special teams where he had tackles on coverages. Native of Brooklyn, N.Y. where he was born on December 22, 1968, Kinnon was an All-City QB-DB at Thomas Jefferson High School and also won All-City honors as an outfielder on the baseball team.

MCCUMMINGS, GARY: GUARD, 6-3, 280; SYRACUSE... Steady and powerful run blocker who was named co-captain at Syracuse in his senior year. Earned four varsity letters, was starting LG for last three seasons, and got high ratings for his leadership and competitive style of play. Born on September 2, 1968 in Philadelphia, Pa., he grew up in Denver where he was an All-State selection in both football and baseball at Thomas Jefferson H.S. in Denver as an OT-TE in football and as a first-baseman in baseball. His father, Dr. LeVerne McCummings, is the president of Cheyney State University.

MEDICE, LARRY: GUARD, 6-4, 295; OKLAHOMA... Big, strong and intense lineman who won All-Big Eight second-team honors last year, and honorable mention in his junior season. Big reasons why Sooners finished fifth in the nation in rushing offense with 289.3 yards per-game in 1990. Had six pancake blocks as Sooners rushed for 450 yards in rout of Pitt. Born on July 31, 1968 in New Orleans, La., he was an academic and athletic star at DeLaSalle H.S. in New Orleans. Law enforcement major, he won All-Academic honors at Oklahoma as well, and is married.

PEOPLES, MARK: CORNERBACK, 5-9, 185; CENTRAL MISSOURI STATE... Dynamic CB who doubled as a special teams' powerhouse. Had 185 total tackles in four seasons, was an All-MIAA selection for three years in a row, added eight interceptions and had seven blocked punts in his career, while scoring seven defensive touchdowns. Also returned punts for a 10.4 average. Born on January 23, 1968 in East St. Louis, Ill., he starred in three sports at Riverview Gardens H.S. in St. Louis and was All-City in football, track and basketball.

RICHARDSON, MIKE: RUNNING BACK, 5-10, 195; LOUISIANA TECH... Another versatile RB who won four letters as a combination wingback and kick returner. Had a solid senior season in which he rushed 222 times for 1,114 yards and eight TDs. Also had 40 pass receptions over his final two seasons and averaged 24.8 on kickoff returns. A native of Natchez, Miss. where he was born on October 13, 1969, Mike starred in football, basketball and track at Cathedral H.S. in Natchez.

ROLEN, CHAD: NOSE TACKLE, 6-2, 273; ARKANSAS... Rugged type nose tackle earned four letters with the Razorbacks and was a two-year starter there. Finished his collegiate career with 144 total tackles, leading team in tackles for losses in two of those campaigns. Born on March 2, 1968 in Mount Pleasant, Tex., he seemed destined for Arkansas since he was a member of the Future Farmers of America and raised pigs while in high school. Starred in three sports at Sherman H.S. in Sherman, Tex., he's married.

ROUEN, TOM: PUNTER, 6-3, 218; COLORADO... Big, strong punter who began his career at Colorado State in 1987, then finished at Colorado where he earned All-American honors in the 1989 season. In that year, he was a unanimous All-American choice as he led the nation in punting with a 45.9 average-per-punt. Last year, his totals slacked off to a 40.8 average, while his three-year collegiate mark was 42.8 on 90 punts. Born on June 9, 1968 in Hindsdale, Ill., he was an all-around scholastic star at Heritage H.S. in Littleton, Colo., where he was the punter, placekicker, tight end and defensive end and an All-State first-baseman in baseball.

SATTER, TONY: RUNNING BACK, 5-11, 205; NORTH DAKOTA STATE... When you talk about production, this guy's a one-man army. A four-year starter and three-time All-Conference selection, Tony starred as an RB, return man and punter and piled up all-time school record numbers along the way. When he was done, he had amassed 3,212 rushing yards on only 400 carries for an amazing 8.0 average-per-rush and scored 31 TDs. He added 1,229 yards on kickoff returns for a 27.3 average on 45 returns and two more TDs, returned 20 punts for 301 yards, a 15.1 average and two more TDs, and also punted 19 times!! Born in Louisville, Ky., on April 11, 1969, Tony was also a one-man band at Fargo South H.S. in Fargo, No. Dak., as an All-State RB in football and All-Conference basketball, baseball and track standout.

SEGINA, RICHARD: GUARD-CENTER, 6-3, 275; RICE... All-Southwest Conference honors went to Segina this past year when he was considered one of the most underrated centers in the nation. Extremely tough and durable who played through injuries, he was also the long snapper and has also played guard during a four-year career with the Owls. Born on November 10, 1968 in Mission, Tex., Richard was an All-State griddier at Brazoswood H.S. in Clute, Tex., and a track letterman and National Honor Society member as well.

SHELL, ALEX: WIDE RECEIVER, 6-4, 200; ARKANSAS STATE.... Although he was a high school receiver, Shell went to Arkansas State on a track scholarship and played only sparingly in football last season, but obviously has great potential. Has clocked a school-record 21.8 in the 200 meters, also has long-jumped 24'5" and thrown the javelin 174'2". Had only six receptions in football last season, but with that speed and leaping ability is surely worth a look. Born on February 24, 1968 in Carrollton, Ga., he was a three-sport star at Carrollton H.S., then competed in track at Barton Junior College before entering Arkansas State.

SMITH, JOEY: WIDE RECEIVER, 5-10, 177; LOUISVILLE.... Swift and agile wide receiver, Joey also doubled as a punt and kickoff return man at Louisville, and even filled in as a defensive back on occasions. Born on May 30, 1969 in Knoxville, Tenn., Joey was a football, basketball and track standout at Austin H.S. in East Knoxville, Tenn., winning All-Conference honors as a receiver-defensive back.

TAYLOR, GREG: WIDE RECEIVER, 5-8, 168; AUBURN.... Extremely productive receiver during his three starting seasons, Greg showed improvement at Auburn. He was the leading receiver there in 1990 with 46 catches for 650 yards and seven TDs, but missed the Peach Bowl when he suffered a hand injury. Three-year totals showed 99 receptions for 1,284 yards and 12 TDs. A native of Lee County, Ala., where he was born on December 27, 1968, Greg starred in football, basketball and track at Opelika H.S. in Opelika, Ala.

TRIPP, DENNIS: DEFENSIVE TACKLE, 6-3, 265; NORTH CAROLINA.... Versatile defensive player who has had experience at linebacker, nose tackle and defensive tackle during four-year career with Tarheels. Selected to play in the East-West Shrine game after his senior year, he had a career total of 153 tackles, including 16 for losses and eight QB sacks. Born in Farmville, N.C., on February 13, 1967 he won 11 varsity letters in football, basketball, baseball, track and wrestling at Farmville Central H.S., winning All-State honors in football while being named captain of both the baseball and track teams.

WASHINGTON, BEN: CORNERBACK, 5-10, 190; SOUTHERN MISSISSIPPI.... Earned four letters at Southern Mississippi as teammate of Simmie Carter, the Giants' 7th round pick. Has solid speed in the 4.5 area and could also double as a return specialist. A native of Yazoo County, Miss., Ben was a three-sport star in football, basketball and track at Provine H.S. in Jackson, Miss., winning All-Conference honors as a RB-DB. Born on May 18, 1967.

WILLIAMS, JERRY: NOSE TACKLE, 6-0, 277; ARKANSAS PINE-BLUFF.... Extremely strong performer who won three varsity letters at NT in college, where he was particularly proficient at stopping the run. Won All-Conference mention in senior year when he had 74 total tackles. Born on October 26, 1968 in Gernwood, Miss., he won varsity letters in football and wrestling at Lefler County H.S. in Itta Benna, Miss., where he still resides.

THE 1990 SEASON IN REVIEW

September 9 GIANTS 27, Philadelphia 20 (76,202) at Giants Stadium

Playing in front of a nationally televised audience versus their staunch rivals from the NFC East, the Giants rode the wave of two Phil Simms touchdown passes to break a string of four consecutive losses to the Philadelphia Eagles. The Giants jumped on the scoreboard first following a Randall Cunningham interception by Everson Walls on the first series of the game. Eight plays later, Raul Allegre booted a 38-yard field goal to put the Giants up, 3-0. The teams traded field goals to close out the first quarter 6-3 in favor of the Giants, but during the second stanza the Eagles took the lead. After a 52-yard Sean Landeta punt, the Eagles started a drive from their own 41-yard line. Nine plays later Cunningham pitched to Keith Byars who then stopped and tossed an 18-yard scoring pass to Anthony Toney for a 10-6 Eagle lead which held up to halftime. The second half belonged to the home team as the Giants opened up with a nine play, 70-yard drive culminated by a 12-yard Simms to Rodney Hampton touchdown pass. With the Eagles first series of the second half resulting in three plays and out, Jeff Feagles got off a 46-yard punt that was fielded by Dave Meggett at the Giant 32, and the diminutive one didn't stop running until 68 yards later and a touchdown, the second consecutive game he achieved that feat, having brought one back in last year's regular season finale against the Raiders. In the fourth quarter Simms connected with Mark Ingram on a 41-yard scoring pass to open the lead to 27-10. The Eagles added 10 points to close the gap but the effort was too little, too late. Simms completed 15 of 27 passes for 149 yards and two touchdowns while his counterpart Cunningham was good on 25 of 42 for 226 yards but three interceptions. Defensively, Lawrence Taylor, who held out all of training camp, turned in seven solo tackles and three sacks while Carl Banks chipped in 10 total tackles.

September 16 GIANTS 28, Dallas 7 (61,090) at Texas Stadium

Under a blazing sun and a melting 96 degree heat at Texas Stadium the Giants put the Cowboys on ice on both sides of the ball as they totally dominated the Pokes from start to finish. The Giants received the opening kickoff and proceeded to ram the ball down the Cowboys throats as they drove from their own 23 to the Cowboys 19. On third down Phil Simms hit Mark Ingram at the one-yard line and as he was going in for the score, he was hit and fumbled into the end zone where Dallas recovered. The Cowboys took over on the 20-yard line and started a nice drive of their own, taking the ball to the Giant 22, but on the fourth down a botched hold on a field goal attempt kept them off the scoreboard and the Giants took possession on their own 28-yard line. From there the Giants marched 72 yards in eleven plays capped off by a Simms four-yard jaunt into the end zone and a 7-0 lead. On their next possession the Giants hit pay dirt once again, finishing off a 48-yard drive with an Ottis Anderson one-yard plunge. The ensuing kickoff was fielded by the Cowboys' Alex Wright at the 10 and he blazed a trail untouched into the end zone for a 90-yard score and cut the lead to 14-7. In the second half the Giants tightened up and then put the game out of reach. Simms led a picture-perfect, 14-play, 77-yard drive that ended with Simms hitting Mark Bavaro with a four-yard scoring toss. The game's final points were produced in typical Lawrence Taylor fashion. Backed deep in their own territory, Cowboy QB Troy Aikman's pass was tipped at the line of scrimmage by Taylor who then snatched the ball out of the air and scampered 11 yards for a touchdown. The Giants totaled 23 first downs and 369 total yards to the Cowboys nine first downs and 146 yards. Taylor led the defense with six tackles, one sack, one forced fumble and an interception.

September 23 GIANTS 20, Miami 3 (76,483) at Giants Stadium

In his first regular season meeting between these clubs since 1972, the Giants defense put the clamps on the high-powered Dolphin attack and totally frustrated QB Dan Marino who threw for just 115 yards and two interceptions. The Giants got on the scoreboard first with a Raul Allegre 22-yard field goal after a laboring 17 play, 57-yard drive stalled three yards shy of the Miami goal line. The lead rose to 10-0 with just under two minutes to go in the first half when Ottis Anderson scored from a yard out. Miami managed just two first downs and 49 total yards in the half but their fortunes changed in a hurry on their opening drive of the second half when they finally put some points up with a Pete Stoyanovich 51-yard field goal and narrowed the margin to 10-3. In the fourth quarter with the Dolphins on their own two-yard line Marino fired a completion to Mark Clayton, who was then leveled by Perry Williams causing a fumble which was recovered by Lawrence Taylor at the Miami 11. Four plays later on a fourth and one, O.J. Anderson scored his second TD of the day for a 17-3 Giant lead. The Giants had a golden opportunity to add to their margin when Marino was intercepted by Myron Guyton at the Giants' 33. Trapped, Guyton lateraled to Everson Walls who galloped 40 yards to the Miami 27, but after the drive fizzled, Allegre missed a 40-yard field goal. The place kicker atoned for that miss when he closed out the scoring with a 45-yarder with under two minutes to go in the game. The Giants defense held Miami to just seven first downs, 39 yards rushing and 158 total yards while the offense gained 310 yards and held a whopping 40:18 to 19:42 time of possession edge. O.J. Anderson led all rushers with 72 yards and Dave Meggett caught four passes for 93 yards.

September 30 GIANTS 31, Dallas 17 (75,923) at Giants Stadium

The Giants improved their record to 4-0 and in the process swept the season series with the Cowboys after topping their NFC East rival for the second time in three weeks. The Giants capitalized on a Cowboy miscue to record the first points of the game. On first and ten from their own 49, Cowboy QB Troy Aikman mishandled the snap from center and former Cowboy Steve DeOssie recovered. Six plays later, Phil Simms hit Mark Ingram in the corner of the end zone for a 12-yard touchdown and a 7-0 lead. The Cowboys however, answered right back with a 10 play, 68-yard drive culminated by a Ken Willis 22-yard field goal. Led by a 30-yard kickoff return by Dave Meggett the Giants drove to the Cowboys 17 where Matt Bahr, recently signed to replace the injured Raul Allegre, kicked a 34-yard field goal to up the Giants lead to 10-3. After a Dallas punt the Giants took over on their own 40 and put together a six-play, 60-yard drive ending it with a seven yard touchdown pass from Simms to reserve tight end Bob Mrosko and a 17-3 halftime advantage. The Cowboys opened the scoring in the second half when on their second possession Aikman hit wide receiver Tony Martin with a 23-yard pass to the Giants' 28. Three plays later Emmitt Smith scored from four yards out and Dallas had narrowed the margin to 17-10. Time for another patented Giant drive. On the next series the Giants ate up 7:39 on a 72-yard drive and finished it off with a Simms 27-yard TD pass to Rodney Hampton. The Giants then picked off Aikman at the NYG 35-yard line and relied on reserves Jeff Hostetler and Lewis Tillman to put together a scoring drive. The two combined to put the Giants in position for more points which were provided by Hostetler who scrambled 12 yards for a touchdown and a commanding 31-10 lead. A late Dallas touchdown closed the gap but the game was out of reach. Simms completed 16 of 22 for 188 yards and three touchdowns and Ottis Anderson rushed for 79 yards. Defensively, Reyna Thompson had a brilliant game making six tackles and creating havoc on special teams.

October 14 GIANTS 24, Washington 20 (54,737) at Washington

Fresh off four consecutive victories and a rest during the bye week, the Giants went into Washington and came out with a hard fought win to add to their unbeaten streak and also stretch their dominance over the Redskins to five in a row. The way the game started, however, it looked like it might be the Redskins day. From their own nine-yard line the Redskins used 18 plays, 10 of which were runs, and 10:25 of the first quarter to drive to the Giants' 25 where they finally ran out of gas and settled for a Chip Lohmiller 42-yard field goal. On their second possession of the game the Giants needed only three plays to take the lead. On third and 10 from their own 20, Phil Simms connected with Stephen Baker on a crossing pattern and the fleet receiver outran the Redskin secondary for an 80-yard touchdown. After a Pepper Johnson interception the Giants were in position to add to their lead and advanced to the Redskin 19 with just 0:29 remaining in the half, but a bad snap on a field goal attempt nullified the opportunity. Washington opened the second half with a recovery of an Ottis Anderson fumble and converted another Lohmiller field goal to cut the lead to 7-6 but the Giants came right back. With a second and 10 on their next possession Simms completed a 61-yard catch and run to Mark Bavaro to the Redskin 19. Two plays later Anderson carried it in from five yards out and a 14-6 lead. Not to be outdone, Washington marched right back and scored when RB Earnest Byner threw a 31-yard halfback option pass to Ricky Sanders. Again the Giants responded, this time with a Simms to Maurice Carthon pass that gained 63 yards to the Washington five-yard line. From there, Simms hit Bavaro with a five-yard touchdown pass and the Giants were leading 21-13. Another Redskins drive resulted in a Gerald Riggs one-yard touchdown and trimmed the lead to one point but the biggest play occurred when a Redskin punt grazed the leg of a defender and was recovered by the Giants' Reyna Thompson at the Washington one-yard line. Three runs at the goal line got nowhere and Matt Bahr booted a 19-yard field goal and a 24-20 Giant advantage. The Redskins had one last attempt but a Stan Humphries pass intended for Sanders was intercepted by Greg Jackson, his second of the day, to ice the game. Simms finished 13 of 22 for 283 yards and two TD's while Stephen Baker paved the way with three catches for 109 yards. Jackson added seven tackles to go with his two pick-offs.

October 21 GIANTS 20, Phoenix 19 (76,518) at Giants Stadium

Relying on a strong defense and the running of Ottis Anderson, the Giants overcame an injury to Phil Simms and eked out a last second victory over Phoenix. On the first series of the contest Anderson accounted for 42 of his game total 88 yards rushing, capping it off with a four-yard touchdown run to put the Giants ahead, 7-0. The Cardinals countered on their first possession with an Al DelGreco 39-yard field goal following a 27-yard run by rookie RB Johnny Johnson on the team's first play from scrimmage. The Cardinal setback finished with a game-high 108 yards on 30 carries, the first back to rush for over a 100 yards against the Giants since Gerald Riggs reached the mark during the first game of 1989. At the end of the first quarter Simms suffered an ankle injury after being hit by a duo of Cardinals and did not return. Backup QB Jeff Hostetler took control and, after a Dave Meggett 27 yard punt return, led the Giants on a short scoring drive aided by an Anderson 19-yard run to the Cardinal 11 which put Matt Bahr in position to kick a 34-yard field goal. Phoenix quarterback Tim Rosenbach engineered a 65-yard drive closing it out with a one-yard touchdown pass to tackle-eligible Luis Sharpe and the Cardinals went in at halftime tied with the Giants 10-10. The Cardinals started just where they left off on the opening kickoff of the second half by driving 69 yards to the Giants' one before settling for an 18-yard field goal and a 13-10 lead. Two plays into their first possession of the second half Hostetler was sacked and fumbled at the Giant 30 and the miscue was recovered by Phoenix. Seven plays later the Cardinals had another field goal and six-point lead. After adding three more points to up their advantage to 19-10, the Cardinals looked like they were in the driver's seat but Hostetler put together a 76-yard drive in just eight plays ending it with a 38-yard touchdown pass to Stephen Baker to cut the lead to 19-17. After a Cardinal punt with under 2:00 to go, Hostetler took the Giants from their own 29 to the Phoenix 22, the big play coming on a third and 10 pass to Lionel Manuel that was good for 18 yards. With just four ticks left on the clock Matt Bahr kicked a 40-yard field goal to clinch the victory. Hostetler finished 11 of 21 for 180 yards and a TD, while the Giant defense held the Cardinals to 221 total yards and just 96 yards passing.

October 28 GIANTS 21, Washington 10 (75,321) at Giant Stadium

The Giants continued their winning ways after a convincing win over the Redskins, the second triumph over Washington in the last three weeks. After a scoreless first quarter the Giants got on the board with a Phil Simms to Stephen Baker four-yard touchdown strike to open the second stanza. The Giants came right back after Everson Walls intercepted Redskin QB Stan Humphries at the Giant 49. On first and ten from the Redskin 16, Simms connected with tight end Mark Bavaro for a score and a 14-0 edge. Later in the quarter the Giants tried a fake field goal attempt with holder Jeff Hostetler trying to find Lawrence Taylor in the end zone but the pass was broken up. The Redskins took over and drove to the Giants' 28 where Chip Lohmiller kicked a 45-yard field goal to cut the lead to 14-3. Washington took the opening kickoff of the second half and drove 54 yards in 10 plays to score on a Humphries five-yard run and move a little closer. It was as far as they would get. With 12:00 left in the game the Redskins had the ball at the Giants' three when a Humphries pass intended for Earnest Byner in the end zone caromed off the running backs shoulder and was intercepted by Giants' Greg Jackson. On their next possession the Redskins were deep in their own territory when Humphries was intercepted again by Walls who this time ran it back 28 yards for his first touchdown of his 10-year career. The score put the Giants up 21-10 and Washington never threatened thereafter. Ottis Anderson led all rushers with 92 yards on 24 carries, while Simms was good on 15 of 24 for 145 yards and two scores. The defense, which held the Redskins to 213 total yards, was led by Johnnie Cooks who registered 10 total tackles and Everson Walls who had three tackles, two interceptions and three pass defenses.

November 5 GIANTS 24, Indianapolis 7 (58,688) at Indianapolis

Upping their record to an impressive 8-0 the Giants methodically took apart the Indianapolis Colts on a Monday night contest that featured another standout effort by the defense. In a fashion they have become accustomed to, the Giants took the opening kickoff and marched 74 yards to the Indianapolis six before the drive stalled and Matt Bahr came on to kick a 23-yard field goal. On their next possession Phil Simms and Ottis Anderson led a charge from the Giant 42 and ended it with an Anderson two-yard touchdown run and a 10-0 lead. After a Colts drive stalled, the Giants took over and put together another 74-yard drive. On first and 10 from the Colts' 29 Lewis Tillman ran up the middle for 17 yards to the three where on the next play Anderson pounded in for his second score of the night and a 17-0 halftime advantage. In that first half the Colts managed just 45 total yards and one first down while the Giants racked up 206 yards and 13 first downs.

With a healthy lead the Giants played conservative in the second half and the Colts took advantage of that on their first series when they impressively drove 80 yards down the field and scored on a one-yard plunge by Albert Bentley. The Giants turned the tide on Indy and were in the midst of an 11-play drive to the Colt 22, when a Simms to Meggett completion was fumbled by the back and the Colts recovered at the 14. Six plays later, Colt signal-caller Jeff George was sacked by Pepper Johnson and fumbled. The ball was scooped up by safety Dave Duerson who returned it 31 yards for a touchdown. The Colts had another opportunity to score when they moved all the way to the Giants' one but on fourth down George threw an incomplete pass and the Giants took over and ran out the clock. Simms was on target all game long, going 17-21 for 172 yards with one interception, his first since game one of the season. Ottis Anderson rushed for 55 yards and two touchdowns while the defense held Colt back Eric Dickerson to 26 yards and the entire Colt team to just 55 yards. Safety Greg Jackson led the way with nine tackles and Pepper Johnson pitched in seven stops and a sack with Leonard Marshall adding two other tackles.

November 11 GIANTS 31, Los Angeles 7 (64,632) at Anaheim

Aside from adding to their unbeaten streak, the Giants had revenge in mind when they faced the Rams. Atoning for that heartwrenching defeat in the playoffs in 1989 the Giants controlled the line of scrimmage en route to victory number nine. On their first series the Giants used a 35-yard pass from Phil Simms to rookie free agent Troy Kyles, playing in his first game of the year, to get in field goal range for Matt Bahr, who was good on a 44-yard attempt. In the second quarter the Giants, starting from their own 13, went the length of the field to the Ram 29 where Bahr kicked another three-pointer. However, the Rams were penalized five yards for an illegal hands to the face and the infraction gave the Giants a first down. Five plays later, Simms passed nine yards to Mark Bavaro for the score and a 10-0 lead. The Rams tried a Hail Mary pass at the end of the half but it was intercepted by Everson Walls, his fifth theft of the season. The Rams got on the scoreboard to open the third quarter when Simms was hit and fumbled at his own 31 and Ram LB Kevin Greene came up with the ball. On the second play from scrimmage running back Cleveland Gary crashed through from the three and the Rams had narrowed the margin to 10-7. On the ensuing possession, Simms completed four of four for 50 yards which brought the ball to the Rams' 46. Ottis Anderson ran for 14 yards and then on second down number one draft choice Rodney Hampton swept right end for 19 yards and galloped into the end zone for the first rushing touchdown of his career. The Giants made it 24-7 in the fourth quarter on a three-yard run by Ottis Anderson and then iced it when Gary Reasons intercepted Jim Everett for the second time deep in Ram territory. From there, second-year RB Lewis Tillman rushed four times, the last a one-yard plunge into the end zone for his first career score. Hampton rushed for 24 yards, while receiver Mark Ingram pulled down three balls for 60 yards. Punter Sean Landeta had his best game of the year with five punts for an average of 46.8 yards including four inside the 20 and three inside the five. Defensively, Greg Jackson recorded eight tackles and a sack, and Erik Howard chipped in three stops and a QB drop.

November 18 GIANTS 20, Detroit 0 (76,109) at Giants Stadium

Riding a nine-game winning streak, the Giants were prepared to face the onslaught of the Lions' run-and-shoot offense and the defense turned in one of its' finest performances of the year in recording the first shutout of the season. Like they have done in so many other games the Giants took the opening kickoff and drove the length of the football field to score. On the tenth play of the drive Phil Simms connected with Stephen Baker for a 33-yard touchdown and a quick 7-0 advantage. If that wasn't enough, following a Lion punt the Giants used up 9:35 to go 67 yards in 15 plays capped off by a Matt Bahr 24-yard field goal. The Big Blue increased the lead to 17-0 in just two plays, the second being a 57-yard Simms to Mark Ingram scoring toss with under 2:00 to go in the half. The Giants got the ball back with under a minute left and advanced the ball to the Detroit 31 where Bahr kicked his second field goal of the game from 49 yards to end the half, as well as the Giants' scoring for the day, 20-0. All that was left in the second half for the Giants was to see if they could record the shutout. The Giants did have an opportunity to score more points but a Bahr 45-yard field goal attempt was wide left. Detroit crossed the 50 into Giant territory on two consecutive possessions but Barry Sanders fumbled at mid-field and QB Bob Gagliano was intercepted by Perry Williams nullifying any scores. Simms continued to have a hot hand, completing 13 of 18 for 170 yards and two touchdowns, while Ottis Anderson led all rushers with 91 yards. The defense held Sanders to 69 yards rushing and the entire Lion offense to just 108 yards. Safety Greg Jackson led the way on defense with eight total tackles, a sack and a forced fumble, while Pepper Johnson chipped in seven stops and 1½ sacks.

November 25 Philadelphia 31, GIANTS 13 (66,706) at Philadelphia

The Giants saw their 10-game winning streak come to a screeching halt at the hands of the Eagles who racked up 405 total yards including 176 on the ground as they thumped the Giants 31-13 and forged a split of the season series. It started out on a bright note for the Giants as they forced the Eagles to fumble on their first possession but three plays amounted to nothing and the Giants were forced to punt. Later in the first quarter opportunity knocked again when Keith Byars fumbled after receiving a Randall Cunningham pass and Myron Guyton recovered on the Eagles' 18. Two plays later, the Giants scored on a Phil Simms touchdown pass to Mark Ingram that covered 15 yards. The Eagles wasted no time in knotting the score as they took just three plays to convert a Cunningham to Fred Barnett 49-yard strike. As the second quarter got under way, Philadelphia put together a most impressive drive as they rolled 80 yards in 16 plays, capping it with a Cunningham one-yard keeper and a 14-7 lead. Not to be outdone, the Giants turned around and went 85 yards on their next series, finishing with a Simms to Mark Bavaro four-yard touchdown throw. The extra point by Matt Bahr hit the upright and the Eagles went in at half-time up 14-13. Philly increased the lead to 17-13 on a Roger Ruzek 39-yard boot, the big play on the drive being a Cunningham to Byars 54-yard reception. Again the Eagles engineered a long scoring drive, using up 8:48 to go 84 yards as Cunningham threw six yards to Calvin Williams and Philadelphia was up 24-13. On the Giants next possession, the Eagles put the game out of reach. A Simms pass was deflected by Clyde Simmons and picked off by Byron Evans who ran 22 yards for a touchdown and an unsurmountable 31-13 lead. The Giants threatened late in the game getting as far as the Eagle 16, but Simms was intercepted again and the game was history. Simms threw a season-high 40 passes but completed just 17 for 234 yards and two interceptions, while on defense Pepper Johnson made 10 total tackles, forced a fumble and recovered one.

December 3 San Francisco 7, GIANTS 3 (66,092) at San Francisco

Billed as the game of the year matching two 10-1 teams, the Forty-Niners took a second quarter lead on a Joe Montana to John Taylor touchdown pass which was all they needed to defeat the Giants. A game that was expected to be a high scoring affair turned into a defensive struggle between the elite of the NFL. After a scoreless first period that featured five punts, the Giants' offense finally started to get in gear after a Niner 35-yard punt. From their own 44, the Giants used a good combination of run and pass to advance the ball to the San Francisco three, but three cracks at the goal line failed and Matt Bahr came on to convert a 20-yard field goal and a 3-0 lead. The Niners took the ensuing kick-off back 30 yards, where Montana and company went to work. On the third play of the drive, Roger Craig took a Montana pass at the Niner 41 and rumbled 31 yards to the Giants' 28. On second down Montana hit Taylor from 23 yards out, a play in which Giant CB Mark Collins missed tipping the ball away by inches, and the boys from the City by the Bay were up at halftime, 7-3. In the third quarter the Giants threatened when they drove to the Niner 35, but on third down Simms was sacked and fumbled with San Francisco recovering. Perhaps the biggest series of the game occurred in the fourth quarter as the Giants started from their own 35 and quickly moved into Niner territory. After a Simms to Maurice Carthon nine-yard completion the Giants had a first and goal at the nine, but four successive passes into the end zone fell incomplete and the Giants came up empty. One more chance was to be had with under 0:30 to go but the game ended when Simms was sacked at the Niner 27. The Giants signal-caller completed just 14 of 32 for 153 yards and was sacked four times, while his counterpart Montana was held to just 152 yards on 12 of 29 passing. The Giant defense allowed just 240 total yards and 11 first downs and were led by Pepper Johnson's six tackles.

December 9 GIANTS 23, Minnesota 15 (76,121) at Giants Stadium

Returning home after two losses on the road, the Giants clinched their second consecutive NFC East title with a victory over the Vikings. The game had an inauspicious start for the Giants on their first series when Viking defensive end Chris Doleman busted through to nail Phil Simms for a safety. The lead stretched to 5-0 after Minnesota put together a lengthy 58 yard, 13-play drive that ended with a Fuad Reviez 22-yard field goal. The Giants capitalized on a 58-yard kickoff return by Dave Meggett to counter with a 36-yard field goal by Matt Bahr and slice the lead to 5-3. After the Giants failed to convert a fourth and one, the Vikings took over and went 76 yards down the field to score on an Alfred Anderson one yard TD plunge. A Phil Simms 36-yard pass to Stephen Baker on the next possession led to a one-yard touchdown run by Ottis Anderson and the Giants closed to within two, 12-10. In the second half the Vikings moved into position to score when they had a second and seven at the Giant nine, but TE Steve Jordan fumbled a Rich Gannon pass when hit by Pepper Johnson and the Giants' Myron Guyton recovered. After a Sean Landeta 31-yard punt, Minnesota was back in range for another score, which they got on a Reviez 37-yard boot. Gannon threw the first of his two interceptions from the Vikings' 24 where it was picked off and returned five yards by Greg Jackson. Unable to hammer home a touchdown, Bahr again came on to kick a field goal, this one from 48 yards and it was 15-13. The Giants took the lead for good following a 42-yard drive when Anderson blasted in from the two to up it 20-15. With 3:15 left in the game, Gannon was intercepted by Gary Reasons at the Viking 17, and the Giants cushioned their lead with Bahr's third field goal of the day to wrap up the game and the NFC East crown. Rookie Rodney Hampton had his best day as a pro rushing for 78 yards, and Lawrence Taylor led the defense with 12 total tackles, two and a half sacks and a forced fumble.

December 15 Buffalo 17, GIANTS 13 (66,893) at Giant Stadium

On a miserable Saturday afternoon when both teams saw their starting quarterbacks go down with injuries, the Giants were unable to capitalize on numerous scoring opportunities and dropped their third game of the season. The day started on a bright note for the Giants as they took the opening kickoff 71 yards and scored on a one-yard run by Ottis Anderson. The big play on the drive was a 41-yard run by Rodney Hampton that set up a first down at the Buffalo eight. Using their no huddle offense the Bills answered back with a quick six play, 74-yard drive capped off by a Jim Kelly to Andre Reed touchdown pass of six yards. Buffalo took the lead in the second quarter on a Thurman Thomas two-yard touchdown jaunt around left end. The Giants narrowed the margin to 14-10 on a Matt Bahr 23-yard field goal on a drive where the Giants got as far as the Bills' six before settling for the three. Just before the end of the half, Kelly went down after being rolled into by one of his linemen and sustained a knee injury that kept him out the remainder of the game. In the third quarter while the Giants were in the middle of a 76-yard drive, Simms injured his right foot and was replaced by back-up Jeff Hostetler who continued to lead the surge that culminated in another Bahr field goal and a 14-13 Bill advantage. As the fourth quarter began it was now up to backups Hostetler and Frank Reich to take control of their teams. The Bills added a Scott Norwood 29-yard field goal to increase the lead to 17-13 and put the pressure on Hostetler. The West Virginia product responded by driving the Giants to the Bills' 13, but on third and two a holding call tacked on 10 yards and on the next play a bad snap from shotgun formation sailed back to the 42 and out of scoring position. With under a minute to go Hostetler again brought the Giants to the brink of victory, but from the Buffalo 26 four plays resulted in incomplete passes and the Bills took over on downs to salt away the win. Rodney Hampton recorded his first 100-yard rushing effort, finishing with 105 on 21 carries and also added five catches for 27 yards. The defense, led by Leonard Marshall's nine tackles and one sack, held the powerful Bills offense to 264 yards, including 65 rushing.

December 23 GIANTS 24, PHOENIX 21 (41,212) at Phoenix

The 11-3 Giants came to Phoenix for a sweep of the season's series but also to get some work for Jeff Hostetler who assumed the roll of starting quarterback after Phil Simms was put on the injured reserve as a result of the foot injury he sustained a week earlier. The Giants took a first quarter 3-0 lead after Matt Bahr converted a 27-yard field goal and the margin increased when Rodney Hampton capped a 78-yard drive with a two-yard run into the end zone. With under 1:00 to go in the first half, the Cardinals got on the scoreboard when Tim Rosenbach threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to Terence Flagler and the Giants went in at the half up 10-7. After a Phoenix punt early in the third quarter the Giants started at their own 21 and advanced to the Cardinals' 44. From there Hostetler found Mark Ingram all alone on the right sideline. Ingram caught the ball at the five and slid into the end zone for the score and a 17-7 edge. The Cardinals returned the ensuing kickoff to the 32 and on the first play from scrimmage, Rosenbach found WR Ernie Jones on a crossing pattern and 68 yards later he scored to close the gap to 17-14. Hostetler brought the Big Blue right back and ended a 63-yard drive by going the last four himself on a quarterback keeper to put the Giants up 24-14. On their next series the Cardinals threatened again and were on the Giants' nine but Rosenbach was intercepted by Dave Duerson in the end zone to seemingly put the game away. But Phoenix didn't give up and with a little over 2:00 to go in the game Rosenbach found Ricky Proehl for this third touchdown pass of the game and the Giants were clinging to a 24-21 lead. The Cardinals then recovered the onside kick but a big Lawrence Taylor sack on third down effectively choked off the Cards comeback dreams and the Giants escaped with another nail-biter. The defense, so proficient all year long was tagged for 452 yards, the highest total all season long. Unheralded fullback Maurice Carthon led all rushers with 67 yards and Hostetler played well, connecting on 13 of 23 for 190 yards and adding 31 yards rushing. Pepper Johnson turned in another stellar effort on defense registering 12 total tackles.

December 30 GIANTS 13, New England 10 (60,410) at Foxboro

The Giants concluded the regular season on a high note as they posted their 13th victory over the Patriots that seemed more like a home contest than one on the road. A large contingent of Giant fans trekked up I-95 to witness a methodical display of football by the Boys in Blue. After the Patriots punted on their first possession the Giants took over and plowed down the field enroute to a Jeff Hostetler 17-yard touchdown pass to Dave Meggett, his first offensive score of the year. Again New England failed to sustain a drive and the Giants wasted little time in adding three more points on a Matt Bahr 44-yard field goal and a 10-0 lead. The Pats opened the second quarter in fine fashion as QB Tommy Hodson found Irving Fryar streaking down the right sideline all alone and hit him with a perfect 40-yard pass for a touchdown. New England tied the game at 10 when Meggett fumbled a Hostetler pass on his own 23 and the Patriots recovered. On fourth and one from the one, Jason Staurovsky kicked a 19-yard field goal to pull the Pats even. Hostetler maneuvered the Giants in range for a field goal with under 2:00 to go in the half, but Bahr's attempt from 41 yards was wide left. The Patriots then proceeded to fumble the snap on their next series and LB Gary Reasons recovered at the NE 24 with 0:21 remaining. After three plays Bahr was successful from 27 yards out and the Giants had a 13-10 halftime lead. The second half consisted basically of punts from Sean Landeta and Brian Hansen until late in the game when New England, starting from their own five-yard line, put together a 15-play drive that brought them to the Giants' 24 with under 2:00 to go in regulation and an opportunity to tie the game. From 42 yards away, Staurovsky's field goal attempt sailed wide left and the Giants were able to run out the clock. Hostetler, who was 12 of 23 passing for 123 yards, also led all rushers with 82 yards on 10 carries. Mark Bavaro chipped in four receptions for 32 yards while on defense S Myron Guyton was in on 13 stops and LB Steve DeOssie chipped in seven.

THE 1990 PLAYOFF GAME

January 13 GIANTS 31, Chicago 3 (77,025) at Giants Stadium

Before an all-time record crowd the Giants turned in their best effort of the year as they thrashed the Bears to win their first post-season game since Super Bowl XXI. The tenacious Giants' defense put the clamps on the Bears, holding them to 232 total yards including just 27 yards rushing on 16 attempts. The Giants capitalized on the first of two Mike Tomczak interceptions when after Mark Collins picked off the Bear QB in the first quarter, Matt Bahr banged a 46-yard field goal attempt off the goal post that went through for a 3-0 lead. Chicago took possession following the field goal and took the ball to the Giants' 28 where, on fourth and 12, they decided to go for the first down but came up short turning it over on downs. From there, Jeff Hostetler went to work. He connected with Stephen Baker for 25 yards to the Chicago 36, and later hit Baker again in the corner of the end zone for a 21-yard scoring pass and a quick 10-0 advantage. In the second quarter the Giant defense made its' biggest play of the day. After a Hostetler fumble the Bears drove deep into Giant territory and on a fourth and one from the one, Bear FB Brad Muster was stuffed by John Washington for a loss on the play. The Bears came back, however, and were able to score on a Kevin Butler 33 yard field goal but it would be the only points Chicago would score. It became 17-3 when Hostetler engineered an 80-yard drive and tossed a five-yard touchdown pass to reserve TE Howard Cross. In the second half the Giants blew the game wide open scoring on a Hostetler three-yard scramble and a Maurice Carthon one-yard plunge, his first TD of the year. One of the keys to the Giants victory was their ability to convert fourth downs (4/4), and the Bears inability to do the same (1/5). Chicago mustered only 11 first downs and none on the ground, while the Giants racked up 23 first downs and 194 yards rushing, led by Ottis Anderson's 80. Hostetler was 10 of 17 for 112 yards, including two touchdowns and one rushing. Among the stalwarts on defense was NT Erik Howard who chalked up seven tackles and helped pressure Tomczak all game long.

NFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

January 20 GIANTS 15, 49ers 13 (65,750) at Candlestick Park

In one of the most thrilling and exciting NFC Championship games ever, the Giants blunted the Niners quest for a third straight Super Bowl trip on Matt Bahr's 42-yard FG with no time remaining to give the Giants a superlative 15-13 triumph. Just moments earlier, with SF leading 13-12 and in possession of the ball in Giants territory, nose tackle Erik Howard jolted Roger Craig into a fumble which was recovered by Lawrence Taylor with just 2:36 left left to play. QB Jeff Hostetler then made two pressure-packed connections to Mark Bavaro (for 19 yards) and to Stephen Baker (for 13) to position Bahr's dramatic game-winner. Earlier on in a tense defensive battle, it was 6-6 at halftime on a pair of FGs by each side, but then Joe Montana hit WR John Taylor for a 61-yard TD when the Giants' Everson Walls went for the interception on the throw but slipped and fell. That was to be the final points for the Niners, as Bahr hit another FG from 46 yards to close to 13-9 after three periods. Midway through the final period, DE Leonard Marshall sacked Montana, who had to leave the game with multiple injuries, and on the Giants' next possession, LB Gary Reasons made one of the biggest plays of the year when, on fourth-and-two in punt formation, he took the snap on the faked punt and rumbled 30 yards which set up the fourth of Bahr's FGs from 38 yards to cut the gap to 13-12 and set the scene for the Giants' final game-winning heroics. Meanwhile, the Giants' defense held the Niners to just 39 yards rushing, 240 yards of total offense, and one-for-eight on third down conversions. Hostetler was 15-for-27 for 176 yards with Mark Ingram and Mark Bavaro both catching five passes. Marshall had a big game on defense and won Defensive Player of the Week honors for his four tackles, two QB sacks and two forced fumbles.

SUPER BOWL

January 27 GIANTS 20, Buffalo 19 (73,813) at Tampa Stadium, Fla.

Another spectacular contest, perhaps the best in Super Bowl history, as the Giants won their second Super Bowl title with a spine-tingling 20-19 decision that wasn't cemented until the final play when Buffalo kicker Scott Norwood was wide right on a 47-yard FG attempt. The Giants' strategy of ball-control, power football proved highly successful as they controlled the clock for a Super Bowl record 40:33. The Giants scored first in this one on a 28-yard Matt Bahr FG on their first possession, but the Bills bounced back strongly for a 12-3 advantage on a Norwood FG, a one-yard TD drive by Don Smith and a Bruce Smith safety when he sacked Jeff Hostetler in the end zone. Hostetler bounced right back to lead an 87-yard drive in the waning moments of the first half, capping it with a 14-yard TD bullet to Stephen Baker on third down to close it to 12-10 at the half, then directed a Super Bowl record 9:29 drive to start the second half, a 14-play, 75-yard march that culminated with Ottis Anderson's one-yard TD blast for a 17-12 Giants' edge. Back came the Bills again after the Giants failed on a fourth-and-two gamble, with Thurman Thomas racing 31 yards for a TD and a 19-17 Bills' edge. But Hostetler engineered yet another long scoring drive, this one a 74-yard march in 14 plays using up 7:40 on the clock, and Bahr's 21-yard FG gave the lead back to the Giants at 20-19. The Giants stopped the Bills on the ensuing possession, were themselves forced to punt on their final possession, and then held on for the championship when Norwood's final kick sailed wide and right. Ottis Anderson had 102 yards rushing for the Giants and was named MVP, while Hostetler had his best passing game ever with 20-of-32 for 222 yards and one TD. David Meggett had a big day with 129 yards of all-purpose yardage, while Mark Ingram and Mark Bavaro both had five catches in the triumph. Defensively, the Giants' secondary was outstanding, with Mark Collins having a big game, while Erik Howard was in on seven tackles.

1990 PRE-SEASON RECAP

August 13 GIANTS 20, Buffalo 6 (47,241) at Buffalo

In what turned out to be a preview of the Super Bowl, the Giants began their 1990 season with a 20-6 decision over the Bills, running roughshod on offense for 305 yards rushing. No. 1 draft pick Rodney Hampton was the big news in this one, zooming 89 yards for a TD on his very first carry as a Giant, and amassing 116 yards rushing on just seven carries. Jeff Hostetler also scored on a 5-yard scamper and rookie PK Matt Stover booted FGs of 49 and 44 yards. Newcomer Everson Walls had an interception for the Giants, while rookie DE Mike Fox had a QB sack.

August 18 GIANTS 13, Houston 10 (48,773) at Houston

Giants made it 2-0 with a fourth period TD by Joe Morris from two yards out the clinching score in a defensive game which saw both teams limited to less than 300 yards of total offense. Rookie Matt Stover had a pair of FGs for the Giants, and Everson Walls had two more interceptions. Phil Simms completed eight passes for 125 yards, while Jeff Hostetler was 4-for-8 for 83 yards. Pepper Johnson had five tackles and rookie DE Tim Downing a QB sack. David Meggett had three punt returns for 91 yards, including a 49-yarder he almost broke for a TD.

August 25 GIANTS 17, Jets 7 (59,915) at Giants Stadium

Meeting for the 22nd time in the annual encounter, the Giants upped their margin to 13-8-1 in the series with a solid win, building a 17-0 edge early in the third period. Phil Simms was sizzling in this one, hitting 13-for-16 for 165 yards, leading first half drives of 94 and 66 yards and capping both with TD tosses of 17 yards to Mark Ingram and 25 to rookie Rodney Hampton. Raul Allegre added a 44-yard FG for the 17-0 bulge, with the Jets' only TD coming after a Giants' fumble deep in their own territory. The Jets had only 218 yards of total offense, with Pepper Johnson starring on defense with eight solo tackles and a pair of QB sacks.

September 1 GIANTS 28, Cleveland 10 (33,148) at Giants Stadium

The Giants made it 4-0 in pre-season with this romp over the Browns as Phil Simms pitched 12-for-18 for 218 yards and two touchdowns. Simms hit Mark Ingram for a 9-yard score, then targeted Rodney Hampton for a 27-yard TD for a 14-3 lead, and then LB Steve DeOssie had a 33-yard TD on an interception, and Hampton scored from 11 yards out to end the scoring. Sean Landeta averaged 55.0 on two punts, while DEs John Washington and Tim Downing had QB sacks. Safety Adrian White had seven tackles, but suffered a major knee injury late in the game and was lost for the season.

THE GIANTS SUPER BOWL RING

With a second Super Bowl championship now in the hallowed annals of club history, the excitement generated in that stirring triumph over the Buffalo Bills has been matched by the enthusiastic reception of the 1990 Super Bowl Ring, which was crafted for the team by the L.G. Balfour Company of Attleboro, Massachusetts.

Members of the Giants' championship squad received their Super Bowl rings this past May on the final day of the veterans mini-camp in a private ceremony for players and coaches, which was presided over by new head coach Ray Handley.

As for the ring itself, which is pictured on this page, the words "Giants" and "World Champions" accompanied by the yeardate 1990 are on the facing portion of the ring. Sixteen diamonds, each representing one of the teams' 16 victories, highlight a Giants' blue panel containing two marquise-cut diamonds, signifying the club's two Super Bowl triumphs. Those diamonds total over 1.50 carats.

One side of the ring depicts the player's name and number; the Giants' helmet logo, and the numbers 16-3 for the final team record in that championship season. The opposite side carries the Super Bowl XXV logo, footballs with Roman numerals commemorating wins in Super Bowl XXI and XXV, the final score of the game, and the American Flag to symbolize U.S. involvement in Operation Desert Storm during that Super Bowl Week.

NFC Championship

Jan. 11, 1987 at Giants Stadium (76,633)

Giants won toss and, in face of 35-mph winds, chose to defend goal. . . . That was game's most important call. . . . TDs by Lionel Manuel and Joe Morris and Raul Allegre FG produced 17-0 halftime lead. . . . Defense took control in second half and in middle of paper blizzard, Giants gained berth in their first Super Bowl.

Super Bowl XXI

Jan. 25, 1987 at Rose Bowl (101,063)

Giants trailed by only 10-9 at half, thanks to their D. . . . Broncos had first-and-goal at Giant 1 but couldn't score. . . . Then George Martin sacked QB John Elway for safety. . . . Offense roared to life with 30-point second half. . . . MVP Phil Simms completed 22 of 25 for 268 yards, 3 TDs, 0 INTs.

'89 RAMS 19, GIANTS 13

NFC Semifinal Game

Jan. 7, 1990 at Giants Stadium (76,325)

Giants dominated first half with 6-0 edge, then yielded last-second TD after costly interception. . . . Regained lead at 13-7, only to have Rams knot it and send into OT. Borderline pass interference call in overtime led to winning Rams' TD.

'90 GIANTS 31, BEARS 3

NFC Semifinal Game

Jan. 13, 1991 at Giants Stadium (77,025)

After jumping to an early 10-0 lead, the Giants' defense did a strangulation job on the Bears' vaunted rushing attack, limiting the visitors to just 27 total rushing yards and zero first downs. . . . Jeff Hostetler hit on just 10 pass completions for 112 yards, but two went for TDs and he scored another on a 3-yard run in his first-ever playoff action. . . . Giants also had a pair of interceptions by Mark Collins and Everson Walls to complete the rout.

'90 GIANTS 15, 49ERS 13

NFC Championship

Jan. 20, 1991 at Candlestick Park, S.F. (65,750)

One of the most exciting championship games in Giants' history as the Big Blue blunted the Niners quest for a third straight Super Bowl on Matt Bahr's 42-yard FG at the gun. . . . Key plays included Erik Howard's jarring tackle on Roger Craig which produced fumble, recovered by Lawrence Taylor with just 2:36 left to play, and a 30-yard run on a fake punt by LB Gary Reasons which set up a FG to close the gap to 13-12 midway through the final period. . . . Bahr booted an NFC championship record five FGs in the fray and DE Leonard Marshall won Defensive Player of the Week honors with four tackles, two QB sacks and two forced fumbles, with one of the sacks a hellacious hit on Joe Montana which knocked him out of the game with multiple injuries, to say nothing of a classic headache.

'90 GIANTS 20, Bills 19

Super Bowl XXV

Jan. 27, 1991 at Tampa Stadium (73,813)

As if the Giants' NFC title win over the 49ers was not exciting enough, this Super Bowl championship win over the Bills was every bit as thrilling and, in fact, has been called the best Super Bowl game ever ... Gutsy Giants bounced back from a 12-3 deficit to take a 17-12 lead after a Super Bowl record 9:29 drive in the third period, leaked for a go-ahead Bills' TD, and then won it when Matt Bahr drilled a 21-yard FG late in the game, and when his counterpart, Scott Norwood of the Bills, misfired on a 47-yard attempt on the last play of the game ... Ottis Anderson rushed for 102 yards and won the MVP Award as the Giants also set an alltime Super Bowl record with 40:33 possession time.
